TRAFFIC AND CAPACITY STATISTICS - May 2003

Summary of the headline figures

In May 2003, overall load factor rose 3.2 points to 66.7 per cent. Passenger capacity, measured in Available Seat Kilometres, was 1.5 per cent below May 2002 and traffic, measured in Revenue Passenger Kilometres, was higher by 2.1 per cent. This resulted in a passenger load factor up 2.5 points versus last year, to 69.4 per cent. The increase in traffic comprised a 9.1% per cent reduction in premium traffic and a 4.4 per cent increase in non-premium traffic. Cargo, measured in Cargo Tonne Kilometres, rose by 3.4 per cent.

Market conditions

Passenger numbers and traffic were up this month, driven principally by post war pent up demand and promotional campaigns. Yields continue to be under pressure from price discounting and down trading across all areas. Forward visibility on revenue and traffic remains limited with considerable volatility in booking levels.

Strategic Developments

Edgar Filing: BRITISH AIRWAYS PLC - Form 6-K

British Airways signed an agreement to sell its wholly owned German subsidiary dba (formerly Deutsche BA) to Intro Verwaltungsgesellschaft mbH, the Nuremberg-based aviation consultancy and investment company.

Intro will buy the entire share capital of dba for euro 1. As part of the transaction, British Airways will invest €25 million (euro 35 million) in dba and will also underwrite the German carrier's fleet of 16 aircraft for one year, at a cost of €2 million (euro 3 million) per month. In exchange, British Airways will receive 25 per cent of any dba profits, or 25 per cent of any profit on disposal of dba, up to June 2006.

The US Department of Transportation gave final approval to the British Airways and American Airlines codesharing application on destinations beyond British Airways' US gateway cities and American Airline's UK gateways. The move marks a significant milestone in the relationship which will allow greater access to more online destinations, improve transfer and check-in processes.

British Airways posted a pre-tax profit of €135 million (2002: €200 million loss) for the full year to March 31, 2003. There was a pre-tax loss for the fourth quarter of €200 million (2002: €85 million loss). The operating profit for the full year was €295 million including an €84 million exceptional operating charge relating to Concorde. The operating loss for the fourth quarter was €164 million, €119 million worse than last year.

In its response to the government's consultation on airport infrastructure, BA called for a new short runway to be built at London Heathrow airport to give Britain maximum economic benefit from an effective international hub airport that would boost the UK economy by €37 billion. It would also create additional capacity to provide better air links for regions throughout the UK.

British Airways announced the withdrawal of services between Guernsey and London Gatwick airport from 16 June 2003. The services will be continued by Aurigny Air Services who will begin flying on the route the day after the British Airways service ceases. British Airways decision to withdraw from Guernsey has been made because the 66-seater ATR 72 aircraft which operate on the route will be retired and returned to its leasing company this summer.

British Airways announced the withdrawal of its services to Plymouth and Newquay from London Gatwick and Bristol airports from 25 October 2003. The three times a day Plymouth to Newcastle service will also be withdrawn and the Dash 8 fleet move to Manchester.
