Technology	Mittal Steel recommends that you vote AGAINST the resolutions at the Arcelor Shareholder meeting on the 30 th of June 2006, and tender your Arcelor shares to the Mittal Steel's Exchange Offer because:
Offer for Arcelor
- Offer Documents
- About Mittal Steel	- Mittal Steel is offering a 70% premium over the unaffected Arcelor share price; this offer is made to 100% of Arcelor shareholders
- Shaping the Future of Steel
- An Obvious Combination	- As part of the Severstal transaction, Arcelor shareholders will not receive a premium, and Mr Mordashov is not making an offer for 100% of the company despite acquiring a high degree of control
- Strategic Rationale for the Merger
- Strategy for the Combined Group	- Industrially and strategically, Mittal Steel is a superior partner as the No. 1 global steel producer; for example, Mittal Steel/Arcelor combines the No. 1 producer in the United States and Europe and creates the first 100 million+ tonnes steel producer world wide
- How the Combined Business Will Look
- Sustainable Development	- In the combination between Mittal Steel and Arcelor, Mittal Steel expects to generate ca US$1 billion in recurring synergies, with further upside potential, vs. ca. US$700 million estimated synergies in the Severstal deal as per Arcelor disclosure
- Analyst Views
- What the Media says	- The Mittal Steel's offer will allow Arcelor shareholder to participate in the possibly significant rerating and value upside of Mittal Steel stock
- Trade Union
Comments
- Press Cuttings	- The Mittal Steel offer disclosure has been reviewed by 5 European regulators and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. It is much more extensive than the Arcelor/Severstal disclosure
- News Releases
- Presentations
- Speeches	- Mittal Steel is listed both in Europe and the United States and reports in accordance with European prospectus directive and the SEC standards, whereas most of the assets contributed by Mr Mordashov lack substantial disclosure; for example
