Barington Companies Equity Partners, L.P., together with the other participants named herein (collectively, the “Barington Group”), intends to file a preliminary proxy statement and an accompanying WHITE proxy card with the Securities and Exchange Commission to be used to solicit votes for the election of its slate of director nominees at the 2016 annual meeting of stockholders of Chico’s FAS, Inc., a Florida corporation (the “Company”).

Item 1: On May 26, 2016, The Wall Street Journal issued the following article, which includes certain statements made by James A. Mitarotonda, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Barington Capital Group, L.P.:

CHICO’S UNVEILS MORE COST-CUTTING EFFORTS; RESULTS MISS EXPECTATIONS

Women’s retailer anticipates additional annual savings of $50 million to $70 million

By Tess Stynes

Chico’s FAS Inc., under pressure from an activist investor, reported results for the first quarter that missed expectations, and the women’s apparel retailer said it had stepped up its cost-cutting efforts.

Shares, down 37% over the past 12 months, fell 3% to $10.52 in recent trading.

Chico’s disclosed cost-savings efforts that include new initiatives to simplify its supply chain and to improve marketing while aiming to generate additional annual savings of $50 million to $70 million. The moves are in addition to a previously disclosed revamp of the company’s marketing and digital commerce functions.

The results come days after activist investor Barington Capital Group LP launched a fight for seats on the company’s board. The activist fund, which owns a 1.4% stake in Chico’s and has been in private discussions with the company since March, isn’t agitating for a leadership change or sale of the business. Instead, it is arguing that the company’s expenses are too high relative to its peers and its centralized structure is inefficient.

In a prepared statement on Thursday, Barington Chairman and Chief Executive James A. Mitarotonda stated that while the firm is pleased Chico’s is moving to reduce expenses and decentralize marketing, it was “unclear whether these steps would have been taken without our involvement.”

“As Chico’s disappointing financial performance indicates, there is still much more work that needs to be done, particularly on the revenue side of the business,” Mr. Mitarotonda stated.

Chico’s is one of the few brands that targets older women, which analysts say is an underserved group. In addition to its namesake stores, its brands include White House Black Market and lingerie label Soma.

Chief Executive Shelley Broader said that weak customer traffic in the sector weighed on the company’s sales but that Chico’s overall store traffic trended better than its peers.

For the period ended April 30, Chico's reported a profit of $31.1 million, or 23 cents a share, compared with $32.5 million, or 22 cents a share, a year earlier. Excluding restructuring-related charges and other items, adjusted per-share earnings fell to 25 cents from 30 cents. Revenue decreased 7.9% to $643 million. Excluding Boston Proper, which was sold in January, sales fell 4.4%.

Analysts polled by Thomson Reuters expected per-share profit of 31 cents and revenue of $668 million.

Gross margin fell to 40.8% from 42.4%.

Comparable sales fell 4.2%, reflecting reduced average sales and a slight decline in transactions.

Item 2: On May 25, 2016, Barington Companies Equity Partners, L.P. delivered a letter to the Company, within its rights as a shareholder of the Company under Florida law, demanding production of the Company's shareholder list, pursuant to Section 607.1602 of the Florida Business Corporation Act.
