Revenues increased $9.5 million, or 49%, in the three months ended September 30, 2004 compared to September 30, 2003. This increase was principally due to a 14.2 % increase in net new business (defined as the incremental change in the fuel volume delivered and sold) and higher fuel prices which averaged 40 cents more per gallon than in the prior year. The Company sold 15.2 million gallons of fuel in the quarter ended September 30, 2004, compared to the 13.3 million gallons in the quarter ended September 30, 2003, a 1.9 million gallon increase of net new business. The net new business resulted from the addition of new accounts as well as expanded market penetration. The higher fuel prices were directly attributable to the volatility of world fuel markets and economic conditions, including higher crude oil prices and greater global fuel demand.

In the quarter ended September 30, 2004, the Company's gross profit, operating income and net income increased over the same period in the prior year by $978,000, $189,000 and $89,000, respectively. These improvements reflect a higher net margin per gallon and the 14.2% increase in net new business as discussed below. The operating profit for the quarter ended September 30, 2003 included a $757,000 gain on extinguishment of debt which did not recur in the current quarter. The Company's earned net income per share of $0.04 in the current quarter, compared to $0.03 in the same period last year, and a loss of $0.01 in the quarter ended June 30, 2004.

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") for the quarter ended September 30, 2004 improved by $168,000, or 20%, to $992,000 from $824,000 reported in the same period last year (see Non-GAAP measure EBITDA Reconciliation Table set forth above). This EBITDA increase primarily related to the higher operating profit and volume sold compared to the prior year quarter ended September 30, 2003. The prior year first quarter EBITDA included the $757,000 gain on extinguishment of debt. Excluding this non-recurring item, the Company's EBITDA for the September 2003 quarter would have been $67,000. (EBITDA is a key indicator used by management and the financial community to gauge financial performance of the actual operations of a business without considering the impact of non-cash charges for equipment aging, debt financing expenses, and income taxes. EBITDA isolates actual financial performance of operations independent of the utilization of its capital resources, level of debt financing and the tax impact on the business operations.)

The Company's mobile fueling services business continues to be largely dependent on the number of gallons of fuel sold and the net margin per gallon achieved ("net margin per gallon" is defined as gross profit plus depreciation included in cost of sales divided by gallons sold). For the three months ended September 30, 2004, the Company's net margin per gallon improved to 13.7 cents per gallon compared to 11.9 and 8.3 cents per gallon for the fourth quarter ended June 30, 2004 and the first quarter ended September 30, 2003, respectively. This increase resulted from the continued market acceptance of overall higher margins for the services provided by the Company; the 1.9 million gallons of net new business; and the emergency response mobile fueling and delivery services related to the four hurricanes that affected Florida and the southeastern United States during August and September 2004. Although the recent trend in higher margins for the Company's services is positive, the net margin of 13.7 cents per gallon realized in the current quarter is still lower than the 14.6 cent per gallon net margin achieved in the first quarter of the 2003 fiscal year (and prior to the Company first experiencing the impact of a now defunct competitor's aggressive pricing and price-cutting tactics). There is no assurance that the trend of improved net margins will continue in the future or that margins will not decrease as a result of increased competition or customer resistance to higher prices for the Company's services.

Richard E. Gathright, Chairman and CEO commented, "We are extremely pleased to report net income of $295,000 for our first quarter of fiscal 2005. While the Company reported earnings of $209,000 for the same quarter in 2003, it is important to note that the 2003 quarter included a $757,000 gain on the extinguishment of equipment debt. The Company's first quarter 2004 performance shows strong improvement over the same period in 2003 in all financial indicators, and is a continuation of the positive trend reported in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2004".

Mr. Gathright added, "We have continued our penetration into new markets, while expanding our mobile fueling and fuel management services in historical markets, with improved utilization as we deliver more fuel. Our strengthened financial position is now allowing the Company to focus attention and resources on possible acquisitions and other strategic growth opportunities to add shareholder value."

The Company conducts operations from 17 locations serving metropolitan markets in California, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Washington, D.C.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the safe harbor provision of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. For example, predictions or statements of belief or expectation concerning the future expansion plans of the Company are "forward looking statements" which should not be relied upon. Such forward-looking statements are based on the current beliefs of the Company and its management based on information known to them at this time. Because these statements depend on various assumptions as to future events, they should not be relied on by shareholders or other persons in evaluating the Company. Although management believes that the assumptions reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, actual results could differ materially from those projected. There are numerous risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ from those anticipated by the Company, including but not limited to those cited in the "Certain Factors Affecting Future Operating Results" section of the Company's Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2004.
