The message below was sent to PartnerRe employees on March 15, 2015:

Dear PartnerRe and AXIS Colleagues,

We are pleased to update you on some significant milestones that set the stage for the future of our combined company as a new global leader.

First, the corporate leadership structure, which will direct group strategy and its execution has now been established.

The leaders identified in the initial merger announcement will comprise the CEO Council below, which will focus on designing the market-facing strategies of our business.

- Bill Babcock, Deputy CFO
- Emmanuel Clarke, CEO Global Reinsurance
- Chris DiSipio, CEO Life, Accident and Health
- Joe Henry, CFO
- Jay Nichols, Head of Strategic Business Development and Capital Solutions
- Peter Wilson, CEO Global Insurance

In addition, the Group Executive Management Committee (ExCo) will coordinate the delivery of these market-facing strategies. The ExCo will include the CEO Council and the following functional leads:

- Eric Gesick, Chief Risk and Actuarial Officer, a role he has held at both PartnerRe and AXIS.
- Rick Giernyn, General Counsel
- Noreen McMullan, Chief Human Resources Officer
- David Phillips as Chief Investment Officer, a role he has held at both PartnerRe and AXIS.
- Richard Strachan, Chief Operations Officer

Each of these business and functional leaders has been tasked with designing their respective leadership and operating structures as part of the visioning process for the new company, underway today. Following this visioning phase, further leadership positions will be identified through an evaluation process to be defined as part of integration planning.

Please join us in congratulating members of the Group Executive Management Committee on their appointments. Together they form a strong leadership team with the experience and expertise to take the new company forward.

Second, we are pleased to announce that we have filed our "Form S-4", a registration statement/joint proxy and prospectus, with the SEC. This is the important first step toward setting the date for the Special General Meeting (SGM), when shareholders for each company will vote on the amalgamation. Once the SEC has reviewed the document and we have resolved any SEC comments, we will be able to set the date for our special general meetings.

Our Form S-4 contains both the proxy statement that is used to solicit the votes of the shareholders of both AXIS and PartnerRe and the registration statement that is used by the amalgamated company to issue its shares to the former holders of AXIS and PartnerRe shares at the time of the amalgamation. It contains background information and reasons for the amalgamation, historical and pro forma financial data, information about the special general meetings and other information about AXIS, PartnerRe and the amalgamation.

This information is of interest to shareholders as well as other audiences and we are prepared for communications activity to be on the rise as there is a substantial amount of complex information made available through this filing. The content of the S-4 is regulated by the SEC with the investor audience in mind and, therefore, is a highly prescribed communication. If you receive questions about the content of the filing from any external parties, we ask that you forward questions to Linda Ventresca at AXIS (+1 212 500 7620) or Robin Sidders (+1 441 294 5216) at PartnerRe. If you have any questions yourself, please direct them to your senior or executive manager.

Finally, on Friday, Standard & Poor's Rating services (S&P) affirmed its 'A-' long-term counterparty credit ratings on AXIS and PartnerRe, including its 'A+' long-term counterparty credit and financial strength ratings on the operating companies and removed them from CreditWatch with negative implications. All ratings have a stable outlook.

Achieving all of these important steps enables us to move forward more decisively on preparations for the shareholder vote and integration planning. We will continue to update you as we reach major transaction and integration milestones. In the meantime, we thank you for your support and patience as we continue along this process.
