THE ARBITRATION COURT CONVENED BY LUIS A. DURAN VALENCIA AND OTHERS TO RESOLVE THE CLASS ACTION AGAINST BANCOLOMBIA AND SOME OF ITS PRINCIPAL SHAREHOLDERS ISSUED ITS ARBITRAL DECISION

Medellin, February 2, 2004, (NYSE : CIB)

The Arbitration Court convened by Luis Alberto Duran Valencia and others to resolve the class action against BANCOLOMBIA and some of its principal shareholders, issued on Friday January 30 its arbitral decision, rejecting the majority of the claims of the plaintiffs and exonerating the Bank shareholders.

Nevertheless, the Arbitration Court considered that the fact of not having obtained the total amount offered by the BIC in the stock issuance of 1998 (of the US$150 million offered, US$91 million were purchased by investors) resulted in damages to the minority shareholders of the former Banco de Colombia (aprox. 7.000 shareholders), and awarded them compensation in the amount of COP $19,213,670,222 (legal currency of Colombia).

It is important to clarify that, despite the considerable amount of the award, the Bank's financial strength allows it to pay the award without disrupting in any way the normal course of the Bank's activities or materially impacting its financial statements.

In connection with the stock exchange ratio used in the merger process to compensate shareholders of the former Banco de Colombia, the Arbitration Court declared:

"Based on the foregoing, the Arbitration Court must find itself as lacking the proper elements to judge the fairness of the exchange ratio. The Arbitration Court limits itself to an acknowledgement of the exchange ratio, and to take it as an essential basis in the analysis of the plaintiffs' demands."

The Bank is aware and respects, as is customary, the Arbitration Court's decision. Our lawyers are currently studying this ruling, as its complexity demands rigorous legal and financial analysis to determine its implications for the different parties involved in this process. Certain as we are of the fairness and legality of the process of acquisition and merger between BIC and the former Banco de Colombia, if deemed appropriate, BANCOLOMBIA will use the legal means available to it.
