ITEM 8.01 OTHER EVENTS

On December 7, 2009, Celgene Corporation (Celgene) and Gloucester Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Gloucester), a privately held pharmaceutical company, announced a definitive merger agreement under which Celgene will acquire Gloucester through the merger of a wholly-owned subsidiary of Celgene into Gloucester. Celgene noted that the acquisition will continue to advance its leadership position in the development of disease-altering therapies through innovative approaches for patients with rare and debilitating blood cancers. Gloucester develops new therapies that address the unmet medical needs in the treatment of cancer, including cutaneous T-cell lymphoma, peripheral T-cell lymphoma and other hematological malignancies

The transaction has been approved by the Board of Directors of both companies and is subject to customary closing conditions, including the expiration or termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976. Under the terms of the merger agreement, Celgene will acquire Gloucester for $340 million in cash plus up to $300 million in future U.S. and international regulatory milestone payments. The acquisition of Gloucester, which Celgene expects to be completed in the first quarter of 2010, will be accounted for as a purchase transaction.

A copy of the joint press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.
