1.	Telefónica Financial Highlights for the period January - September 2010	2

Table of ContentsTELEFÓNICA GROUP*Financial Highlights*Solid year-on-year growth in consolidated revenues, which continued to ramp up to 7.3% in the third quarter, reaching 44,280 million euros for the first nine months of 2010 (+6.0% year-on-year):

In reported terms, revenues showed an improved performance in all regions. It is worth to highlight that 42% of revenues came from Telefónica Latinoamérica and 25% from Telefónica Europe.

Organic revenues growth accelerated from 2.0% in the first half to 2.5%. If we strip out regulatory impacts, revenues rose 3.7% in organic terms over the January-September 2010 period.

Total managed accesses reached 282 million by the end of September, 4.9% more than a year earlier (+7.1% in organic terms):

Commercial activity remained strong in broadband, with solid growth in retail fixed broadband accesses (+10.7% year-on-year organic) and mobile broadband accesses (+73.4% year-on-year).

Mobile accesses saw 9.2% organic growth, driven by the upbeat performance of the contract segment (+15.9% year-on-year in organic terms) which now represents 31% of total mobile accesses (+3.0 percentage points versus September 2009). Total net additions (12.7 million in organic terms) were 1.5x those registered in the first nine months of 2009.

Total gross additions in the first nine months of 2010 rose 15.3% year-on-year, while churn remained flat year-on-year at 2.3%, despite the stiff competition across markets.

OIBDA stood at 20,368 million euros for the January-September 2010 period, with year-on-year growth of 22.5%:

Third quarter OIBDA rose 65.3% versus the same period last year, impacted by the positive contribution from the revaluation of our previously held stake in Vivo at its fair value at the date of acquisition of the 50% in Brasilcel owned by Portugal Telecom (3,797 million euros). On the opposite side OIBDA was impacted by the restructuring costs booked in Germany (202 million euros).

In organic terms, nine-month OIBDA registered a similar performance to that in the first half (-2.3% year-on-year), reflecting the negative impact of regulatory measures and non-recurrent items, which dragged year-on-year OIBDA growth by 2.8 percentage points.

Telefónica España recorded a high level of commercial activity during the first nine months, with revenues and OIBDA showing a better performance than in the first half in reported terms:

The Company reduced its net loss of wireline telephony accesses significantly, in fixed broadband it recorded its biggest share of net additions for four quarters and maintained the commercial push in mobile. The year-on-year reported decline in revenues (-4.2%) and OIBDA (-7.9%) slowed by 0.3 and 1.6 percentage points, respectively, versus the first half, although the economic backdrop and stiff competition have a negative impact on the business's performance in comparable terms (both year-on-year and quarter-on-quarter).

Telefónica Latinoamérica's results continued to accelerate, demonstrating the benefits of the diversification and the robust commercial activity recorded over the last 12 months:

For the third quarter in a row, revenues recorded an improved year-on-year organic growth (+6.9% to September vs. +6.2% to June). Reported revenues rose 10.7% versus the first nine months of 2009.

OIBDA increased 4.8% in organic terms, with an improved performance versus the first half (+3.9% year-on-year).

Revenues at Telefónica Europe rose strongly in the first nine months of 2010, with year-on-year organic growth of 6.4%, excluding regulatory impacts:

Non-P2P SMS revenues were again the main growth driver, rising 28.4% in organic terms, thanks to the increasing adoption of mobile broadband.

It is worth highlighting the upbeat performance of revenues in the U.K. and Germany, where growth in mobile service revenues accelerated versus the first half (+6.3% and +3.6%, respectively, in the third quarter vs. +4.1% and +1.9% in the first six months).

In organic terms, operating cash flow dropped 5.2%, despite growth at Telefónica Latinoamérica (+3.2% year-on-year organic) and Telefónica Europe (+14.0% year-on-year on comparable terms).

Net income reached 8,835 million euros, with a strong increase of 65.6% versus the first nine months of 2009, mainly impacted by the revaluation of our previously held stake in Vivo at its fair value at the date of acquisition of the 50% in Brasilcel owned by Portugal Telecom (3,476 million euros).

The ratio of net debt + commitments to OIBDA reached 2.4x at the end of September, reflecting the impact of the acquisition and consolidation of the additional 50% in Brasilcel as of September 30.

The Company reiterates all its financial targets for this year and through to 2012, including dividends.

Organic growth: In financial terms, it assumes constant exchange rates as of the same period of the previous year (average fx) and excludes changes in the perimeter of consolidation. Therefore, it excludes the consolidation of HanseNet (since mid February 2010), Jajah (January-September 2010), Telyco Marruecos in January-September 2009 (after being removed from the consolidation perimeter in January 2010), Manx Telecom in July-September 2009 (after being removed from the consolidation perimeter in July 2010), and includes Tuenti in the period August-September 2009. OIBDA and OI figures do not include the impact of capital gain registered in the second quarter of 2010 from Manx Telecom disposal and from the remeasuring of the pre-existing stake in Vivo at the fair value at the date of the acquisition of the 50% in Brasilcel owned by Portugal Telecom (third quarter of 2010). Figures exclude hyperinflationary accounting in Venezuela in both years. CapEx excludes the spectrum acquisition in Germany in Q2 10 and in Mexico in Q3 10. In terms of accesses, the following are excluded: those at Hansenet, those at Medi Telecom (following its disposal in the fourth quarter of 2009), and those at Manx Telecom as of July 2010. At the same time, organic net additions exclude accesses disconnections made in the second quarter of 2010.

Growth ex-regulatory impacts: The impact from MTR cuts is excluded.

Growth in comparable terms in Spain: Excludes changes to the consolidation perimeter. Growth in comparable terms in Europe: Assumes constant exchange rates (average of January-September 2009) and excludes HanseNet (since mid February 2010), JaJah (January-September 2010) and Manx Telecom (July-September 2009). OIBDA also excludes capital gain from the sale of Manx Telecom in the second quarter of 2010 and CapEx excludes the acquisition of spectrum in Germany in the second quarter of 2010. Additionally, it excludes 1) restructuring costs of 228 million euros in the year to September 2010 (205 million in the third quarter of 2010, from which 202 million were allocated in Germany) and 42 million euros in the year to September 2009 (39 million euros in the third quarter of 2009, from which 28 million euros and 7 million euros were allocated in UK and Germany, respectively), 2) Universal Service Obligation in the Czech Republic (2009: 6 million euros in the nine months and 3 million euros in the third quarter, 2010: 1 million euro in the nine months and 0.4 million euros in the third quarter), 3) real estate gains in the Czech Republic (13 million euros, mainly booked in the first quarter of 2009) and 4) the proceeds from the settlement agreement with T-Mobile in the Czech Republic, mainly booked in the second
