Explanatory Note

Insteel Industries, Inc. (the Company) is filing this amendment to its Current Report on Form 8-K, as filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on December 17, 2010, to provide (i) the estimated amount or range of amounts with respect to each major type of cost associated with the previously announced closure of its facility in Wilmington, Delaware; (ii) an estimate of the total amount or range of amounts expected to be incurred in connection with the closure of the Wilmington facility; and (iii) an estimate of the amount or range of amounts that will result in future cash expenditures.

Item 2.05. Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities

On December 17, 2010, the Company issued a press release announcing that it was closing its facility in Wilmington, Delaware and moving the manufacturing to its Hazleton, Pennsylvania plant. The Hazleton plant was acquired in connection with the Company's November 2010 purchase of certain of the assets of Ivy Steel & Wire, Inc. (Ivy).

The consolidation of the plants is expected to result in the elimination of 49 positions at the Wilmington facility and the addition of 15 positions at the Hazleton plant, for a net reduction of 34 positions. It is anticipated that operations at the Wilmington facility will cease by the end of March 2011 and the equipment will be redeployed to other Company locations.

The Company expects to incur total costs of approximately $1.7 million in connection with the closure of the Wilmington facility, which includes $0.7 million for asset impairment charges to write down the value of the long-lived assets, $0.4 million for employee separation costs and $0.6 million for equipment relocation costs. The future cash expenditures associated with the closing of the Wilmington facility are expected to represent approximately $1.0 million of the $1.7 million of total costs.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. When used in this report, the words believes, anticipates, expects, estimates, plans, intends, may, should and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Although the Company believes that its plans, intentions and expectations reflected in or suggested by such forward-looking statements are reasonable, such forward-looking statements are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and the Company can provide no assurances that such plans, intentions or expectations will be achieved. Many of these risks and uncertainties are discussed in detail in the Company's periodic and other reports and statements that it files with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC), in particular in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended October 2, 2010. You should carefully review these risks and uncertainties.

All forward-looking statements attributable to the Company or persons acting on its behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by these cautionary statements. All forward-looking statements speak only to the respective dates on which such statements are made and the Company does not undertake and specifically declines any obligation to publicly release the results of any revisions to these forward-looking statements that may be made to reflect any future events or circumstances after the date of such statements or to reflect the occurrence of anticipated or unanticipated events, except as may be required by law.

It is not possible to anticipate and list all risks and uncertainties that may affect the Company's future operations or financial performance; however, they include, but are not limited to, the following: potential difficulties that may be encountered in integrating the acquisition of certain assets of Ivy into the Company's existing business; potential difficulties in realizing synergies, including reduced operating costs, with respect to the Company's acquisition of certain assets of Ivy and the cessation of operations at the Houston, Texas and Wilmington, Delaware facilities; competitive and customer responses to the Company's expanded business; general economic and competitive conditions in the markets in which the Company operates; credit market conditions and the relative availability of financing to the Company, its customers and the construction industry as a whole; the continuation of reduced spending for nonresidential construction, particularly commercial construction, and the impact on demand for the Company's products; the timing of the resolution of a new multi-year federal transportation funding authorization and the magnitude of the infrastructure-related funding provided for that requires the use of the Company's products; the severity and duration of the downturn in residential construction and the impact on those portions of the Company's business that are correlated with the housing sector; the cyclical
