PROXY STATEMENT

The Boards of Directors of Webster Financial Corporation (Webster) and NewMil Bancorp, Inc. (NewMil) each have approved an agreement and plan of merger, pursuant to which NewMil will merge with and into Webster, with Webster surviving, referred to herein as the merger. Additionally, NewMil Bank, a wholly owned subsidiary of NewMil, will merge with and into Webster Bank, N.A., a wholly owned subsidiary of Webster, with Webster Bank surviving. The consummation of the merger is subject to customary conditions such as stockholder and regulatory approvals.

If the merger takes place, you will receive $41.00 in Webster common stock for each share of NewMil common stock so long as Webster s average stock price is between $44.85 and $50.25 based upon the average closing price on The New York Stock Exchange of shares of Webster common stock for the ten consecutive trading days ending on the third trading day prior to the date the merger is consummated. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is less than $44.85, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .9142. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is greater than $50.25, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .8159.

Based on Webster s closing common stock price of $47.59 on April 24, 2006, which was the last trading day prior to announcement of the proposed merger, the aggregate value of the transaction was approximately $172.5 million. Based on Webster s $[] closing common stock price on [], 2006, the latest practicable trading day prior to the mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus, the aggregate value of the transaction was $[] million.

We expect that the merger will generally be tax-free with respect to any Webster common stock that you receive and will generally be taxable with respect to any cash that you receive in lieu of fractional shares of Webster common stock. Webster s common stock is traded on The New York Stock Exchange under the symbol WBS and NewMil s common stock is traded on The NASDAQ National Market under the symbol NMIL.

This is a prospectus of Webster relating to its offering of up to 4,009,000 shares of Webster common stock to NewMil stockholders in the proposed merger and a proxy statement of NewMil. This document contains important information about Webster, NewMil, the merger and the conditions that must be satisfied before the merger can occur. To approve the merger agreement, you MUST vote FOR the proposal by following the instructions on the enclosed proxy

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER

Q: Why are Webster and NewMil proposing the transaction?

A: Webster and NewMil have a shared commitment to providing exceptional service to customers. NewMil believes that the proposed merger will enable NewMil to align with a partner to provide its customers access to a broader array of financial services while continuing to provide the same level of customer satisfaction from the same employees their customers have come to know and trust.

Q: What will I receive in the merger?

A: If the merger agreement is approved and the merger is subsequently completed, NewMil stockholders will receive $41.00 in Webster common stock for each share of NewMil common stock so long as Webster's average stock price is between $44.85 and $50.25 based upon the average closing price on The New York Stock Exchange of shares of Webster common stock for the ten consecutive trading days ending on the third trading day prior to the date the merger is consummated. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is less than $44.85, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .9142. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is greater than $50.25, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .8159. Webster will pay cash instead of issuing fractional shares. See Merger Consideration on page 19.

Q: What happens to my future dividends?

A: Before the merger takes place, NewMil expects to continue to pay regular quarterly cash dividends on its common stock, which currently are $0.22 per share. After the merger, any dividends will be based on what Webster pays. Webster presently pays dividends on its common stock at a quarterly dividend rate of $0.25 per share.

Q: How many votes are needed to approve the merger?

A: A majority of the outstanding shares of NewMil's common stock must vote in favor of the merger agreement in order for it to be adopted and for the merger to be approved. Accordingly, the failure to vote on this proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal.

Each of the executive officers and directors of NewMil individually has entered into an agreement with Webster to vote his or her shares of NewMil common stock in favor of the merger agreement and against any competing proposal. These stockholders held approximately []% of NewMil's outstanding common stock as of [], 2006.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: Just indicate on the enclosed proxy card how you want to vote, and sign, date and return it as soon as possible in the enclosed envelope. If you sign and send in your proxy card and do not indicate how you want to vote, your proxy card will be voted FOR approval of the merger agreement and the merger. Not returning a proxy card, or not voting in person at the special meeting or abstaining from voting, will have the same effect as voting AGAINST the merger agreement and the merger.

You can choose to attend the special meeting and vote your shares in person instead of completing and returning a proxy card.

Do not send your NewMil stock certificates with your proxy card.

Q: Can I change my vote after I have mailed my signed proxy card?

A: Yes. There are three ways for you to revoke your proxy and change your vote. First, you may send a written notice to the Secretary of NewMil at 19 Main Street, New Milford, CT 06776 stating that you would like to revoke your proxy. Second, you may complete and submit a new proxy card. Third, you may vote in person at the special meeting. If you have instructed a broker to vote your shares, you must follow directions received from your broker to change your vote.

Q: Do I have appraisal rights?

A: Holders of Webster common stock and NewMil common stock do not have appraisal rights in connection with the merger.

Table of Contents

Q: Who can vote?

A: You are entitled to vote at the NewMil special meeting if you owned shares of NewMil common stock at the close of business on [], 2006. You will have one vote for each share of NewMil common stock that you owned at that time.

Q: If my shares are held in street name by my broker, will my broker vote my shares for me?

A: Your broker does not have discretion to vote your shares for you on the merger proposal. Your broker will be able to vote your shares only if you provide instructions on how to vote. You should instruct your broker to vote your shares, following the directions your broker provides. Shares that are not voted because you do not instruct your broker effectively will be counted as votes AGAINST the merger.

Q: When will the merger close?

A: The merger is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2006.

Q: What do I do with my stock certificates?

A: Please DO NOT send your stock certificates with your proxy card. If you are a holder of NewMil common stock you will receive written instructions from the exchange agent after the merger is completed on how to exchange your stock certificates for the merger consideration.

Q: What needs to be done to complete the merger?

A: Completion of the merger depends on a number of conditions being met. In addition to compliance with the merger agreement, these include:

1. Approval of the merger agreement and merger by NewMil stockholders.
2. Approval of the merger by federal and state regulatory authorities.
3. Approval by The New York Stock Exchange of listing of Webster's common stock to be issued in the merger.
4. Receipt by NewMil of an opinion of counsel stating that the merger will qualify as a reorganization for United States federal income tax purposes.
5. The absence of any injunction or legal restraint blocking the merger or government proceedings trying to block the merger.
6. The effectiveness of the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part.

When the law permits, Webster or NewMil could decide to complete the merger even though one or more of these conditions hasn't been met. We can't be certain when, or if, the conditions to the merger will be satisfied or waived, or that the merger will be completed.

Q: What will happen to NewMil Bank's bank branches following the merger?

A:

After the merger, Webster expects to consolidate up to five of NewMil's and Webster's branch banking locations based on the close proximity of these branches. The remaining NewMil branches will be operated as branches of Webster Bank.

Q: Who should I call with questions or to obtain copies of this proxy statement/prospectus and other documents?

A: B. Ian McMahon
Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
NewMil Bancorp, Inc.
19 Main Street
New Milford, CT 06776
telephone: (860) 355-7600

A copy of the merger agreement including each of its exhibits and the other documents described in this proxy statement/prospectus will be provided to you promptly without charge if you call or write to Terrance K. SUMMARY

The following is a summary of information located elsewhere in this document. It does not contain all of the information that is important to you. Before you vote, you should give careful consideration to all of the information contained in or incorporated by reference into this document to fully understand the merger. See Where You Can Find More Information on page 45. Each item in this summary refers to the page where that subject is discussed in more detail.

Material Federal Income Tax Consequences (page 34)

We expect the transaction to be tax-free to holders of NewMil common stock for United States federal income tax purposes upon the exchange of such NewMil common stock for shares of Webster common stock (except in respect of cash received instead of a fractional share of Webster common stock) pursuant to the merger. Different tax consequences may apply to you because of your individual circumstances or because special tax rules apply to you, for example, if you:

- are a tax-exempt organization;
- are a mutual fund;
- are a dealer in securities or foreign currencies;
- are a bank or other financial institution;
- are an insurance company;
- are a non-United States person;
- are subject to the alternative minimum tax;
- are a trader in securities who elects to apply a mark-to-market method of accounting;
- acquired your shares of NewMil's common stock from the exercise of options or otherwise as compensation or through a qualified retirement plan;
- hold shares of NewMil's common stock as part of a straddle, hedge, constructive sale or conversion transaction; or
- do not hold shares of NewMil's common stock as capital assets.

Tax matters are very complicated. You should consult your tax advisor for a full explanation of the tax consequences of the merger to you.

NewMil Board of Directors Recommends Approval (page 15)

The NewMil Board of Directors unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger and unanimously recommends that you vote FOR approval of these matters.

In the Opinion of NewMil's Financial Advisor, the Consideration is Fair, From a Financial Point of View, to NewMil's Stockholders (page 25)

In deciding to approve the merger, NewMil's Board of Directors considered the opinion of Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc., NewMil's financial advisor. The opinion concluded that the proposed consideration to be received by the holders of NewMil's common stock in the merger is fair to the stockholders from a financial point of view. This opinion is attached as Appendix B to this document. We encourage you to read this opinion carefully in order to completely understand the assumptions made, matters considered and limitation of the review made by Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc. in providing this opinion.

Differences in the Rights of Stockholders (page 38)

The rights of NewMil stockholders who continue as Webster stockholders after the merger will be governed by the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of Webster rather than the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of NewMil.

NewMil's Officers and Directors Have Interests in the Merger Which May Be Different From Yours. (page 37)

At the close of business on [redacted], 2006, excluding all options to purchase NewMil common stock, NewMil's directors and executive officers and their affiliates owned a total of [redacted] shares of NewMil's common stock, which was approximately [redacted]% of the total number of shares of NewMil's common stock that were outstanding on that date. Each of NewMil's directors and executive officers has agreed to vote his or her shares in favor of the merger agreement and merger.

Additionally, some of NewMil's directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger as directors and employees that may be different from yours as a NewMil stockholder. These interests are described at page [redacted].

Regulatory Approvals We Must Obtain to Complete the Merger (page 20)

For the merger to take place, we need to receive the regulatory approvals of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Connecticut Commissioner of Banking. We have filed applications with these regulators. We also need to receive the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or receive a waiver thereof.

[As of the date of this document, we have only received the required approval of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and a waiver from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.] We can't be certain when or if we will obtain the approval of the Connecticut Commissioner of Banking.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (page 33)

The merger agreement specifies a number of situations in which Webster and NewMil may terminate the merger agreement, which are described beginning on page 33. The merger agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the effective time by our mutual consent and by either of us under specified circumstances, including if the merger is not consummated by December 31, 2006, if we do not receive the necessary stockholder or regulatory approvals or if the other party breaches its agreements.

Under certain circumstances, the termination of the merger agreement will result in NewMil having to pay all documented reasonable costs and expenses of Webster up to $750,000, plus a breakup fee of $8,750,000. These circumstances are described on page 25.

Table of ContentsComparative Per Share Data

The following table shows historical information about net income per share, cash dividends per share and book value per share, and similar information reflecting the merger, which we refer to as pro forma information. In presenting the comparative pro forma information for the time periods shown, we assumed that we had been merged throughout these periods. The pro forma information reflects the purchase method of accounting.

[The information listed as equivalent pro forma was obtained by multiplying the pro forma amounts by the [] share exchange ratio.]

We expect that we will incur merger and integration charges as a result of combining our companies. We also anticipate that the merger will provide the combined company with financial benefits that include reduced operating expenses. These charges and financial benefits are not reflected in the pro forma data. While helpful in illustrating the financial characteristics of the combined company under one set of assumptions, the pro forma information does not reflect these anticipated financial benefits and, accordingly, does not attempt to predict or suggest future results. It also does not necessarily reflect what the historical results of the combined company would have been had our companies been combined.

The per share data gives effect to all previous stock splits of Webster's common stock.

The information in the following table is based on, and you should read it together with, the historical financial information that Webster and NewMil have presented in prior filings with the SEC and which are incorporated into this document by reference. See "Where You Can Find More Information" on page 45 for a description of where you can find our prior filings.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information included in this proxy statement/prospectus (including the matters addressed in Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements on page 46), you should carefully consider the matters described below in determining whether to approve the merger agreement. Please also refer to the additional risk factors identified in the periodic reports and other documents of Webster and NewMil incorporated by reference into this document and listed in Where You Can Find More Information on page 45.

The integration of the companies will present significant challenges that may result in the combined business not operating as effectively as expected or in the failure to achieve some or all of the anticipated benefits of the transaction.

The benefits and synergies expected to result from the proposed transaction will depend in part on whether the operations of NewMil and its subsidiaries can be integrated in a timely and efficient manner with those of Webster. Webster will face challenges in consolidating its functions with those of NewMil, and integrating the organizations, procedures and operations of the two businesses. The integration of Webster and NewMil will be complex and time-consuming, and the management of both companies will have to dedicate substantial time and resources to it. These efforts could divert management's focus and resources from other strategic opportunities and from day-to-day operational matters during the integration process. Failure to successfully integrate the operations of Webster and NewMil could result in the failure to achieve some of the anticipated benefits from the transaction, including cost savings and other operating efficiencies, and could have an adverse effect on the business, results of operations, financial condition or prospects of Webster after the transaction.

The price of Webster common stock will fluctuate before and after the merger, which could increase or decrease the value of the merger consideration received by NewMil stockholders receiving Webster common stock.

On April 24, 2006, the day before the merger was announced, the closing price of a share of Webster common stock was $47.59. On [], 2006, the most recent practicable date before the mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus, the closing price was $[]. Based on these closing prices and the exchange ratio, the implied value of the merger consideration consisting of Webster's common stock was approximately $172.5 million on April 24 and $[] on []. The price of Webster common stock may increase or decrease before and after completion of the merger. Therefore, the market value of Webster common stock received by a NewMil stockholder in connection with the merger could be lower than the market value of Webster's common stock on April 24, 2006, [], 2006 or the closing date of the merger. The market value of Webster's common stock received by a NewMil stockholder in connection with the merger could also be higher than those trading prices. The market price of Webster's common stock fluctuates based upon general market economic conditions, Webster's business and prospects and other factors.

The merger agreement limits NewMil's ability to pursue alternatives to the merger.

The merger agreement contains terms and conditions that make it more difficult for NewMil to sell its business to a party other than Webster. These no shop provisions impose restrictions on NewMil that, subject to certain exceptions, limit NewMil's ability to discuss or facilitate competing third-party proposals to acquire all or a significant part of NewMil.

In addition, the Board of Directors of NewMil has agreed that it will not recommend a competing acquisition proposal and that it will not withdraw or negatively modify the recommendation that NewMil stockholders vote for the merger, subject to limited exceptions. While the Board of Directors could take such actions if it determined that the failure to do so would violate its fiduciary duties, doing so would entitle Webster to terminate the merger agreement and would entitle Webster to receive a termination fee. NewMil will also be required to pay the termination fee in the event that the merger agreement is terminated by Webster by reason of NewMil stockholders not having given any required approval and both (i) after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the special meeting of stockholders there shall have been a competing acquisition proposal made known to NewMil or its stockholders and (ii) within 18 months following the special meeting, NewMil enters into an alternative acquisition transaction.

Table of Contents

Webster required NewMil to agree to these provisions as a condition to Webster's willingness to enter into the merger agreement. However, these provisions might discourage a third party that might have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of NewMil from considering or proposing that acquisition even if it were prepared to pay consideration with a higher per share market price than the current proposed merger consideration, and the termination fee might result in a potential competing acquirer proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire NewMil than it might otherwise have proposed to pay.

NewMil's executive officers and directors have financial interests in the merger that are different from your interest as a NewMil stockholder.

NewMil's executive officers negotiated the merger agreement with Webster, and the Board of Directors approved the agreement and is recommending that NewMil stockholders vote for the agreement. In considering these facts and the other information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus, you should be aware that NewMil's executive officers and directors may have financial interests in the merger in addition to the interests that they share with you as a NewMil stockholder. As described in detail under the heading Interests of NewMil Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger That are Different Than Yours, on page 37, there are certain financial interests to be conveyed to two executive officers of NewMil under the terms of new consulting agreements.

STOCKHOLDER MEETING

Matters to be Considered at the Special Meeting

We are first mailing this document to the holders of NewMil's common stock on or about [], 2006. It is accompanied by a proxy card furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the NewMil Board of Directors for use at the special meeting of NewMil's stockholders on [], 2006, at 9:30 a.m. local time, at the Candlewood Valley Country Club in New Milford, Connecticut. At the special meeting, the holders of NewMil's common stock will consider and vote on:

the proposal to approve and adopt the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and any other business that properly comes before the special meeting, or any adjournments or postponements of the meeting, including, without limitation, a motion to adjourn the special meeting to another time and/or place for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies in order to approve the merger agreement and the merger or otherwise.

Record Date and Voting

The NewMil Board of Directors has fixed the close of business on [], 2006 as the record date for determining the NewMil stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the special meeting. Only holders of record of NewMil's common stock at the close of business on that day will be entitled to vote at the special meeting or at any adjournment or postponement of the meeting. At the close of business on [], 2006, there were [] shares of NewMil's common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the special meeting, held by approximately [] stockholders of record.

Each holder of NewMil's common stock on [], 2006 will be entitled to one vote for each share held of record on each matter that is properly submitted at the special meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the meeting. The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of NewMil's common stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote at the special meeting is necessary to constitute a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be included in the calculation of the number of shares represented at the special meeting in order to determine whether a quorum has been achieved. Since approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of NewMil s common stock issued and outstanding, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger agreement.

If a quorum is not obtained, or if fewer shares of NewMil's common stock are voted in favor of the proposal for approval of the merger agreement than the number required for approval, it is expected that the special meeting will be adjourned to allow additional time for obtaining additional proxies. In that event, proxies will be voted to approve an adjournment, except for proxies as to which instructions have been given to vote against the merger agreement.

If your proxy card is properly executed and received by NewMil in time to be voted at the special meeting, the shares represented by the proxy card will be voted in accordance with the instructions marked on the proxy card. Executed proxies with no instructions indicated on the proxy card will be voted FOR the merger agreement and the merger.

The NewMil Board of Directors is not aware of any other matters that may properly come before the special meeting. If any other matters properly come before the special meeting, the persons named in the accompanying proxy will vote the shares represented by all properly executed proxies on those matters as determined by a majority of the NewMil Board of Directors.

You are requested to complete, date and sign the accompanying proxy form and to return it promptly in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. To vote on the merger agreement, you need to complete the proxy card properly and return it in the enclosed envelope or attend the special meeting and vote in person.

You should not forward any stock certificates with your proxy card. If you are a holder of NewMil common stock you will receive written instructions from the exchange agent after the merger is completed on how to exchange your stock certificates for the merger consideration.

Required Vote; Revocability of Proxies

In order to approve and adopt the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, the holders of at least a majority of the shares of NewMil's common stock issued and outstanding on [], 2006, must affirmatively vote FOR the merger agreement and the merger.

The required vote of NewMil's stockholders is based on the total number of outstanding shares of NewMil's common stock and not on the number of shares which are actually voted. Not returning a proxy card, not voting in person at the special meeting or abstaining from voting all will have the same effect as voting AGAINST the merger agreement and the merger.

The directors and executive officers of NewMil beneficially owned as of [], 2006, a total of [] shares of NewMil's common stock (excluding all options to purchase shares of NewMil's common stock), which was approximately []% of the outstanding shares of NewMil's common stock on that date. The directors and executive officers have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the merger agreement and the merger and against competing proposals.

If you submit a proxy card, attending the special meeting will not automatically revoke your proxy. However, you may revoke a proxy at any time before it is voted by:

delivering to the Secretary of NewMil, 19 Main Street, New Milford, Connecticut 06776, a written notice of revocation before the special meeting, delivering to NewMil a duly executed proxy bearing a later date before the special meeting, or attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Solicitation of Proxies

In addition to solicitation by mail, directors, officers and employees of NewMil may solicit proxies for the special meeting from stockholders personally or by telephone or telecopier without receiving additional compensation for these activities. The cost of soliciting proxies will be paid by NewMil. NewMil also will make arrangements with brokerage firms and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to send proxy materials to their principals and will reimburse those parties for their expenses in doing so. NewMil has retained Georgeson Shareholder Communications Inc. to assist in soliciting proxies for the meeting for an estimated cost of $10,000. NewMil has retained its transfer agent, American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, to send proxy materials to brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for transmittal to their principals, tabulate the vote and provide other customary services in connection with the special meeting of stockholders, at a cost of approximately $8,000 plus out-of-pocket expenses.

The information in this section is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the merger agreement including the exhibits attached thereto, a copy of which is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A and which is incorporated by reference into this document.

Background of the Merger

The Board of Directors of NewMil for over a decade has met annually, and sometimes semi-annually, for strategic reviews in sessions run by its longtime financial consultant, MG Advisors, Inc. The last strategic review session occurred in May 2005 at which time MG Advisors reviewed, among other things, NewMil's strong past financial performance as well as various factors that could negatively influence future earnings growth. At this meeting the Board of Directors made a decision not to initiate discussions with any historical suitors but to remain receptive to any approaches that might occur.

Table of Contents

In November 2005, an interested party contacted NewMil to express interest in a potential business combination. After several discussions, NewMil was unable to structure a suitable business combination with this entity. In February 2006 another interested party contacted NewMil and also expressed an interest in a potential business combination. These discussions did not lead to the immediate pursuit of a business combination with the interested party. Subsequently, another party contacted NewMil but no substantive discussions occurred with that party.

Francis J. Wiatr, NewMil's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, and James C. Smith, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Webster, have known each other professionally and socially for a long period of time and from time to time have had informal conversations about the possibility of a merger. During these conversations, Mr. Smith had indicated a willingness to initiate discussions regarding a possible business combination between Webster and NewMil if NewMil so desired.

In March 2006, after overtures from several companies and the heightened interest in merger activity in the greater New York metro market, the Board of Directors of NewMil made the decision to contact Webster to discuss a potential business combination as an alternative to continued independence. After its regularly scheduled Board of Directors meeting on March 22, 2006, the Board of Directors met in executive session and conducted a thorough discussion of strategic alternatives, including continued independence. Following this executive session of the Board of Directors on March 22, 2006, Mr. Wiatr was authorized to contact Mr. Smith. Mr. Wiatr first spoke with Mr. Smith regarding a potential business combination on March 26, 2006.

On March 28, 2006, NewMil and Webster executed confidentiality agreements with regard to the sharing of information between the two parties in connection with a possible transaction. Thereafter, the companies began to share non-public business and financial information through an exchange of documentation and high-level discussions among the principals. This information included financial information, business strategies, and risk management and asset quality data, among other things. On Saturday, April 1, 2006, Webster made an all stock acquisition proposal to NewMil, subject to many contingencies, including a review of additional financial information and satisfactory completion of a due diligence examination.

Following receipt of Webster's non-binding proposal, Mr. Wiatr and a representative of MG Advisors engaged in negotiations with William J. Healy, Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Webster, regarding the terms of the offer, including discussions regarding price and exchange ratio parameters, treatment of employees, timing considerations, contingencies, the amount of the break-up fee payable to the respective parties under certain circumstances, and other aspects of Webster's proposal. On Friday, April 7, 2006, the preliminary business terms were agreed to in principle by Mr. Wiatr, Mr. Smith and Mr. Healy and a representative of MG Advisors, subject to satisfactory negotiation of definitive transaction documents.

On April 10, 2006, Mr. Wiatr contacted Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc. (KBW) regarding KBW providing a fairness opinion to the NewMil Board of Directors with regard to the potential business combination with Webster. NewMil formally retained KBW to deliver a fairness opinion pursuant to an engagement letter dated April 20, 2006.

On Wednesday, April 12, 2006, NewMil's Board of Directors met with representatives of Pitney Hardin LLP, legal counsel to NewMil, with MG Advisors also present. Mr. Wiatr provided the Board of Directors with an update on the possible transaction with Webster, including specific details of the informal, all stock offer. Legal counsel advised the Board of Directors of its fiduciary obligations and its confidentiality obligations. A representative from MG Advisors analyzed the proposal in detail, including analyses of comparable transactions. MG Advisors addressed the proposed value to be offered for each share of NewMil common stock, the methodology of its calculation, as well as Webster's dividend rate, anticipated cost savings and restructuring charge, as well as the ability of Webster to complete the transaction. A representative from MG Advisors answered questions from the Board of Directors regarding specific details of the offer. The directors engaged in a discussion with MG Advisors and Mr. Wiatr about the transaction.

NewMil's Board of Directors expressed general satisfaction with the terms of the proposal but instructed Mr. Wiatr to negotiate with Webster regarding the break-up fee, and to negotiate the other items which had not yet been agreed upon.

Legal counsel for NewMil received the first draft of a merger agreement from counsel to Webster on April 12, 2006. Under the direction of Mr. Wiatr, legal counsel for NewMil began negotiations with Webster's attorneys with regard to the merger agreement during the week of April 17, 2006.

On April 13, 2006, Webster sent a due diligence information request checklist to NewMil to perform a due diligence review of NewMil. NewMil and Webster communicated by e-mail and completed this information exchange on April 21, 2006. On April 22, 2006, Webster performed additional diligence on NewMil. NewMil and its advisors also conducted a due diligence review on Webster from April 13, 2006 to April 19, 2006.

NewMil's Board of Directors met again on April 24, 2006 with representatives of MG Advisors, KBW and legal counsel present. Legal counsel advised the Board of Directors of its fiduciary duties and its confidentiality obligations. Legal counsel also summarized the draft merger agreement for the Board of Directors and answered questions from the Board of Directors about the transaction documents. In particular, legal counsel outlined for the Board of Directors the events which would trigger the payment of the break-up fee by NewMil to Webster and informed the Board of Directors that the amount of the break-up fee had been reduced from what was first proposed by Webster. A representative of MG Advisors presented its updated financial analysis of the proposed merger and explained to the Board of Directors the mechanics of the exchange ratio and other details regarding the consideration to be paid by Webster. The results of the due diligence conducted on Webster were described for the Board of Directors. The directors engaged in a discussion with the financial and legal advisors and senior management about the transaction.

At this time, KBW orally expressed its opinion that the consideration paid to NewMil's stockholders under the draft merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view. Following the discussion, NewMil's Board of Directors expressed its view that based upon its own experiences and KBW's fairness review and opinion, the proposed merger represented the best value reasonably available to stockholders. Webster was also preferable to some other potential acquirers from an employee, customer and vendor point of view. Based upon Webster's historic pattern of acquisitions, NewMil's Board of Directors felt comfortable that Webster would attempt to retain as many NewMil employees as possible and to provide adequate severance benefits to those employees not continuing with the surviving company. NewMil's marketplace and customer base represented new and expanded growth opportunities for Webster with some overlap. The Board of Directors also considered its fiduciary responsibilities to stockholders and determined that the negotiated break-up fee would not unreasonably preclude other interested parties from submitting offers to acquire NewMil. Thereafter, the Board of Directors unanimously approved the merger of NewMil and Webster and the merger agreement, and voted to recommend the adoption of the merger agreement to NewMil's stockholders. Immediately following the Board of Directors vote, KBW delivered its written fairness opinion, dated April 24, 2006.

Following approval by Webster's Board of Directors, the parties executed the merger agreement and certain related agreements on the evening of April 24, 2006, and the transaction was publicly announced the next morning on April 25, 2006.

Reasons for the Merger and the Recommendation of NewMil's Board of Directors

NewMil's Board of Directors believes that the merger presents an opportunity to merge with a leading financial institution and create a combined company that will have significantly greater financial strength and earnings power than NewMil would have on its own. NewMil's Board of Directors consulted with management as well as financial and legal advisors and determined that the merger is fair to, and in the best interests of, NewMil and its stockholders.

In making its determination to accept Webster common stock as merger consideration, the NewMil Board of Directors, with the assistance of its financial advisors and NewMil management, thoroughly analyzed Webster, its demographics, its diversification and lines of business, the historical performance and prospects of its stock, its current and relative valuation, its financial size and strength and its possible future performance. Webster's stock is widely followed by numerous analysts, and with the assistance of its financial advisors, NewMil's Board of Directors considered the analyst reports and consensus short-term and long-term earnings estimates and liquidity for Webster.

In reaching its conclusion to approve the merger agreement, NewMil's Board of Directors considered a number of factors, including those discussed below.

FINANCIAL CONSIDERATIONS

Merger consideration to NewMil stockholders. NewMil's Board of Directors took into account the proposed merger consideration for NewMil stockholders. NewMil's Board of Directors assessed the merger consideration in light of the following factors:

Based upon its discussions with other potential acquirors, the Board of Directors believed the consideration represented the best value reasonably available;

The price to be paid per share of NewMil's common stock in the transaction represented a premium of 42% over the closing sale price of NewMil's common stock on April 24, 2006 (the trading day immediately prior to the public announcement of the transaction);

The potential for Webster stock price appreciation;

The multiples, including price to book value, price to earnings and price to tangible book value, price to assets and core deposit premium implied by Webster's proposal compared favorably to those which may be realized in comparable transactions;

The dramatically increased trading liquidity of the larger Webster franchise; and

The belief that the transaction will be tax-free to NewMil stockholders.

Financial strength. NewMil's Board of Directors considered the expected financial strength of the combined company following the merger, the ability of the combined company to realize cost savings and to take advantage of various business opportunities with greater financial resources.

Financial analyses and KBW opinion. NewMil's Board of Directors evaluated the financial analyses and financial presentation of MG Advisors as well as the written opinion of KBW dated April 24, 2006, that, as of such date and based on and subject to the considerations set forth in its opinion, the merger consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to holders of NewMil common stock. See Fairness Opinion of Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc. beginning on page 25.

STRATEGIC CONSIDERATIONS

Comparison of prospects of the merged entity and a stand alone strategy. NewMil's Board of Directors considered what it believed to be a number of strategic advantages of the merger in comparison to a stand alone strategy. Webster's franchise represents one of the most attractive commercial banking franchises in the greater New York metropolitan area.

Enhanced regional retail banking presence. NewMil's Board of Directors considered that a merger with Webster would create a strong regional banking franchise by combining Webster's strong banking presence in the northeastern United States with NewMil's strong retail banking franchise in the western Connecticut area.

Attractive markets. NewMil's Board of Directors noted the complementary nature of NewMil's and Webster's geographic markets for consumer financial service products, which it believed to present a desirable strategic opportunity for geographic expansion and diversification.

INTEGRATION CONSIDERATIONS

Ability to integrate. NewMil's Board of Directors took note of the integration record of Webster. In this regard, NewMil's Board of Directors noted that customer and employee disruption from consolidations in the transition phase should not be significant due to the complementary nature of the markets served by NewMil and Webster.

Table of Contents

Similarity of business strategy, philosophy and culture. NewMil's Board of Directors noted that NewMil and Webster share a similar commitment to their stockholders, customers, employees and the communities they serve and are both focused on maintaining strong profitability with high asset quality, which NewMil's Board of Directors believed would facilitate the process of integration of these two organizations.

OTHER STRATEGIC ALTERNATIVES

Continued independence. NewMil's Board of Directors considered the substantial consolidation that is occurring among depository institutions, the high level of competition in banking, and financial services generally, and the increasing importance of scale in the industry. NewMil's Board of Directors further considered the risks and potential problems involved in a strategy involving growth and the fact that a number of NewMil's major competitors have substantially greater market share in NewMil's market area.

Superiority of value. NewMil's Board of Directors noted that based on its own experience and the advice of MG Advisors, the probability of receiving a higher value offer from another competing franchise in the near term was low.

Alternative strategic transactions. NewMil's Board of Directors also noted that, while the merger agreement prohibits NewMil from seeking alternative transactions, it permits NewMil to consider and react appropriately to alternative combination proposals made on an unsolicited basis and that the termination fee should not unreasonably deter another bidder.

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

In addition to the foregoing, NewMil's Board of Directors also took into consideration the following factors:

Its knowledge of Webster's business, operations, financial condition, earnings, asset quality and prospects;

Its review of the reports of management and outside advisors concerning the operations, financial condition and prospects of Webster.

Its review with its legal advisors of the provisions of the merger agreement. Some of the features of the merger agreement that NewMil's Board of Directors considered are:

The formula by which the merger consideration will be adjusted in the event Webster's pre-closing stock price is above or below certain levels.

The high level of probability that the transaction will close.

Its ability to comply with its fiduciary duties if NewMil receives a superior acquisition proposal; and NewMil's Board of Directors also considered potentially adverse factors in connection with the merger, including the following:

The challenges of integrating the businesses and operations of two unique financial institutions;

The possibility that anticipated transaction synergies, including anticipated cost savings, revenue enhancements and growth prospects, would not be achieved or would be achieved later than planned;

The requirement to pay Webster a $8.75 million termination fee plus expenses in certain circumstances;

The possibility that Webster's base period trading price falls below $44.85, which would result in a decline in the value of the merger consideration to be received by NewMil stockholders;

The risks associated with possible delays in obtaining necessary regulatory and stockholder approvals; and

Table of Contents

The possibility that merger integration would occupy more of management's time and attention than anticipated and therefore impact other strategic and business priorities, along with the possibility that the merger may not be consummated.

NewMil's Board of Directors realized that there can be no assurance about future results, including results expected or considered in the factors listed above. However, the Board of Directors concluded that the potential positive factors outweighed the potential risks of consummating the merger.

The foregoing discussion of the factors considered by the NewMil Board of Directors in evaluating the merger agreement is not intended to be exhaustive, but rather, includes all material factors considered by the NewMil Board of Directors. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and the merger, the NewMil Board of Directors did not quantify or assign any relative weights to the factors considered, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. The NewMil Board of Directors considered all these factors as a whole, and overall considered them to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

Purpose and Effects of the Merger

The purpose of the merger is to enable Webster to acquire the assets and business of NewMil through the merger of Webster and NewMil. After the merger, Webster expects to consolidate up to five of NewMil's and Webster's branch banking locations based on the close proximity of these branches. The remaining NewMil branches will be operated as branches of Webster Bank.

Webster expects to achieve reductions in the current operating expenses of NewMil upon the consolidation of NewMil Bank's operations into Webster Bank. Upon completion of the merger, except as discussed below, the issued and outstanding shares of NewMil's common stock automatically will be converted into the merger consideration. See Merger Consideration on page 19.

Structure

NewMil will merge with and into Webster, with Webster surviving following the merger. Prior to the consummation of the merger, Webster and NewMil will cause Webster Bank and NewMil Bank to enter into a merger agreement providing for the merger of NewMil Bank with and into Webster Bank, with Webster Bank being the surviving bank. When the merger takes place, except as discussed below, each issued and outstanding share of NewMil's common stock will be converted into the right to receive shares of Webster's common stock based on the merger consideration, as described below. Cash will be paid instead of fractional shares of Webster common stock. Shares of NewMil's common stock held as treasury stock or held directly or indirectly by NewMil, Webster or any of their respective subsidiaries, other than trust account shares and shares related to a previously contracted debt, will be canceled and shall cease to exist.

Webster and NewMil expect that the merger will take place in the fourth quarter of 2006, after the receipt of all required regulatory and stockholder approvals and the expiration of all regulatory waiting periods. If the merger does not take place by December 31, 2006, the merger agreement may be terminated by either party unless both parties agree to extend it, provided, however, that if regulatory approval or the stockholder meeting is pending, the termination date shall automatically be extended for an additional 30 days.

Merger Consideration

The merger agreement provides that NewMil stockholders will have the right, with respect to each of their shares of NewMil common stock, to receive $41.00 in Webster common stock for each share of NewMil common stock so long as Webster's average stock price is between $44.85 and $50.25 based upon the average closing price on The New York Stock Exchange of shares of Webster common stock for the ten consecutive trading days ending on the third trading day prior to the date the merger is consummated. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is less than $44.85, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .9142. If the average closing price of Webster common stock is greater than $50.25, the exchange ratio will be fixed at .8159.

Table of Contents

NewMil Stock Options. Upon completion of the merger, each NewMil stock option which is outstanding and unexercised immediately before the merger, shall be automatically converted into an option to purchase shares of Webster common stock in an amount and at an exercise price determined on the following basis, and as otherwise subject to the terms of the 2004 Amended and Restated Stock Option and Incentive Plan for Officers and Key Employees and the 2004 Amended and Restated Stock Option Plan for Outside Directors:

the number of shares of Webster common stock to be subject to the option immediately after the effective time of the merger shall be equal to the product of the number of shares of NewMil common stock subject to the option immediately before the merger, multiplied by the Exchange Ratio (as defined in the merger agreement). Any fractional shares of Webster common stock resulting from this multiplication will be rounded down to the nearest whole share; and the exercise price per share of Webster common stock under the converted option immediately after the merger will be equal to the exercise price per share of NewMil common stock under the option immediately before the merger divided by the Exchange Ratio, provided that the exercise price will be rounded up to the nearest cent.

The adjustment will be made in a manner consistent with Section 424(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). The duration and other terms of the NewMil options will otherwise be unchanged except that all references to NewMil in any of the NewMil stock plans (and corresponding references in any option agreement documenting such option) shall be deemed to be references to Webster.

Certificates for fractions of shares of Webster's common stock will not be issued. In lieu of fractional shares, a NewMil stockholder will be entitled to receive an amount of cash equal to the fraction of a share of Webster's common stock to which the stockholder would otherwise be entitled multiplied by the average of the daily closing prices per share for Webster's common stock for the five consecutive trading days immediately preceding, but not including, the trading day before the closing date of the merger.

The conversion of NewMil's common stock into merger consideration will occur automatically upon completion of the merger. Under the merger agreement, after the effective time of the merger, Webster will cause its exchange agent to pay the purchase price to each NewMil stockholder who surrenders the appropriate documents to the exchange agent. In this document, we use the term purchase price to refer to the (i) shares of Webster's common stock and (ii) any cash to be paid instead of a fraction of a share of Webster's common stock, payable to each holder of NewMil's common stock.

Surrender of Stock Certificates

Webster will deposit with the exchange agent the certificates representing Webster's common stock and cash to be issued to NewMil stockholders in exchange for NewMil's common stock. As soon as practicable after the completion of the merger but no later than ten business days, the exchange agent will mail to NewMil stockholders a letter of transmittal, together with instructions for the exchange of their NewMil stock certificates for the merger consideration. Upon surrendering his or her certificate(s) representing shares of NewMil's common stock, together with the signed letter of transmittal, the NewMil stockholder shall be entitled to receive (i) certificate(s) representing the number of whole shares of Webster's common stock determined in accordance with the exchange ratio, and (ii) a check representing the amount of cash in lieu of fractional shares. NewMil stockholders will not be paid dividends or other distributions declared after the merger with respect to any Webster common stock into which their shares have been converted until they surrender their NewMil stock certificates for exchange. No interest will be paid or accrue to NewMil stockholders on the cash in lieu of fractional shares or unpaid dividends and distributions, if any. After the effective time of the merger, there will be no further transfers of NewMil common stock. NewMil stock certificates presented for transfer after the completion of the merger will be canceled and exchanged for the merger consideration.

If your stock certificates have been lost, stolen or destroyed, you will have to prove your ownership of these certificates and certify that they were lost, stolen or destroyed before you receive any consideration for your shares. Upon request, American Stock Transfer & Trust Company will send you instructions on how to provide evidence of ownership.

If any certificate representing shares of Webster's common stock is to be issued in a name other than that in which the certificate for shares surrendered in exchange is registered, or cash is to be paid to a person other than the registered holder, it will be a condition of issuance or payment that the certificate so surrendered be properly endorsed or otherwise be in proper form for transfer and that the person requesting the exchange either:

pay to the exchange agent in advance any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the issuance of a certificate or payment to a person other than the registered holder of the certificate surrendered, or establish to the satisfaction of the exchange agent that the tax has been paid or is not payable.

Any portion of the purchase price made available to the exchange agent that remains unclaimed by NewMil stockholders for six months after the effective time of the merger will be returned to Webster. Any NewMil stockholder who has not exchanged shares of NewMil's common stock for the purchase price in accordance with the merger agreement before that time may look only to Webster for payment of the purchase price for these shares and any unpaid dividends or distributions after that time. Nonetheless, Webster, NewMil, the exchange agent or any other person will not be liable to any NewMil stockholder for any amount properly delivered to a public official under applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws.

Regulatory Approvals

For the merger of Webster Bank and NewMil Bank to take place, we must receive approvals of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, referred to in this section as the OCC, and the Connecticut Commissioner of Banking. In this section, we refer to these approvals as the required regulatory approvals. Webster and NewMil have agreed to cooperate to obtain the required regulatory approvals.

Webster Bank has filed with the OCC an application for approval of the merger of Webster Bank and NewMil Bank, and received the required approval of the OCC on _____, 2006. We refer to that merger in this section as the bank merger. The bank merger is subject to the approval of the OCC under the National Bank Merger and Consolidation Act, the Bank Merger Act provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and related OCC regulations. These approvals require consideration by the OCC of various factors, including assessments of the competitive effect of the contemplated transaction, the managerial and financial resources and future prospects of the resulting institution, the effectiveness of the institutions involved in combating money laundering, and the effect of the contemplated transaction on the convenience and needs of the communities to be served. The Community Reinvestment Act of 1977, commonly referred to as the CRA, also requires that the OCC, in deciding whether to approve the bank merger, assess the records of performance of Webster Bank and NewMil Bank in meeting the credit needs of the communities they serve, including low and moderate income neighborhoods. As part of the review process, it is not unusual for the OCC to receive protests and other adverse comments from community groups and others. Webster Bank currently has an outstanding CRA rating from the OCC. NewMil Bank currently has an outstanding CRA rating from the FDIC. The OCC regulations require publication of notice and an opportunity for public comment concerning the applications filed in connection with the bank merger, and authorize the OCC to hold informal and formal meetings in connection with the applications if the OCC, after reviewing the applications or other materials, determines it desirable to do so or receives a request for an informal meeting. The bank merger may not take place for a period of 15 to 30 days following OCC approval, during which time the Department of Justice has authority to challenge the merger on antitrust grounds. The OCC will determine the precise length of the period in consultation with the Department of Justice. The commencement of an antitrust action would stay the effectiveness of any approval granted by the OCC unless a court specifically orders otherwise. If the Department of Justice does not start a legal action during the waiting period, it may not challenge the transaction afterward, except in an action under Section 2 of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

An acquisition statement has been filed with the Connecticut Commissioner of Banking in connection with the bank merger. In reviewing the acquisition statement, the Connecticut Commissioner will review and consider, among other things, whether the investment and lending policies of Webster Bank and NewMil Bank are consistent with safe and sound banking practices and will benefit the economy of the state, whether the services or proposed services of Webster Bank are consistent with safe and sound banking practices and will benefit the economy of the state, the competitive effects of the transaction, and the financial and managerial resources of Webster and Webster Bank. The Connecticut Commissioner also will review the records of Webster Bank and NewMil Bank under the CRA. The Connecticut Commissioner may, at his discretion, hold a public hearing on the proposed transaction.

Under the Bank Holding Company Act, Webster is required to obtain the approval of the Federal Reserve for the acquisition of NewMil immediately prior to the merger of NewMil Bank into Webster Bank. The Federal Reserve is authorized to waive the application filing requirements for transactions that are structured in the manner of the proposed transaction. Webster has requested [and received approval for] such a waiver.

Webster and NewMil are not aware of any other material governmental approvals that are required for the bank merger to take place that are not described above. If any other approval or action is required, we expect that we would seek the approval or take the necessary action.

The merger cannot take place without all required regulatory approvals, which we have not yet received. There is no assurance that we will receive the remaining approvals, or if we do, when we will receive them or that they will not contain a non-customary condition that materially alters the anticipated benefits and effects of the merger. Also, there is no assurance that the Department of Justice will not challenge the merger on antitrust grounds, or, if a challenge is made, what the result of a challenge would be.

Conditions to the Merger

Under the merger agreement, Webster and NewMil are not obligated to complete the merger unless the following conditions are satisfied:

the merger agreement and the merger are approved and adopted by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of NewMil's common stock;

all required regulatory approvals are obtained and remain in full force and effect or are waived, all statutory waiting periods related to these approvals have expired, and none of the regulatory approvals contains a non-customary condition that materially alters the benefits for which Webster bargained for in the merger agreement;

the Registration Statement, which includes this proxy statement/prospectus, is declared effective by the SEC, and no stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement is issued and no proceedings for that purpose are initiated or threatened by the SEC; and no order, injunction or decree issued by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing the merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement from taking place is in effect, and no statute, rule, regulation, order, injunction or decree is enacted, entered, promulgated or enforced by any governmental entity which prohibits, restricts or makes illegal the consummation of the merger.

Webster is not obligated to complete the merger unless the following additional conditions are satisfied or waived:

the representations and warranties of NewMil contained in the merger agreement are true and correct in all material respects as of the date of the merger agreement and (except to the extent such representations and warranties speak as of an earlier date) as of the closing date of the merger as though made on and as of the closing date;

NewMil obtains the consents, approvals or waivers of each person whose consent or approval is required in order to permit the succession by Webster pursuant to the merger to any obligation, right or interest of NewMil under any loan or credit agreement, note, mortgage, indenture, lease, license or other agreement or instrument, except where the failure to obtain consents, approvals or waivers will not have a material adverse effect on NewMil or Webster;

no changes, other than changes contemplated by the merger agreement, in the business, operations, condition (financial or otherwise), assets or liabilities of NewMil or any of its subsidiaries (regardless of whether or not such events or changes are inconsistent with the representations and warranties given in the merger agreement), have occurred that individually or in the aggregate have or would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on NewMil; and NewMil delivers to Webster a comfort letter from PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, NewMil's independent registered public accounting firm, with respect to NewMil's financial data presented in the proxy statement/prospectus.

NewMil is not obligated to complete the merger unless the following additional conditions are satisfied or waived:

Webster performs in all material respects all covenants and agreements contained in the merger agreement required to be performed by it at or prior to the closing date;

the consent, approval or waiver of each person whose consent or approval is required in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement under any loan or credit agreement, note, mortgage, indenture, lease, license or other agreement or instrument to which Webster is a party or is otherwise bound shall be obtained;

the shares of Webster common stock to be issued in the merger are approved for listing on The New York Stock Exchange; and NewMil shall have received an opinion of counsel stating that the merger will qualify as a reorganization for United States federal income tax purposes.

Conduct of Business Pending the Merger

The merger agreement contains various restrictions on the operations of NewMil before the effective time of the merger. In general, the merger agreement obligates NewMil to continue to carry on its businesses in the ordinary course consistent with past practices and with prudent banking practices, with specific limitations on the lending activities and other operations of NewMil. The merger agreement prohibits NewMil from:

declaring any dividends or other distributions on its capital stock other than regular quarterly cash dividends on NewMil's common stock not to exceed $0.22 per share;

splitting, combining or reclassifying any of its capital stock;

Third Party Proposals

Under the merger agreement, NewMil generally may not, and must instruct its officers, directors, employees, agents and other representatives not to, maintain, initiate, solicit or encourage (including by way of furnishing information or assistance) or take any other action to facilitate any inquiries or the making of any proposal that constitutes or reasonably may be expected to lead to any competing proposal. The merger agreement also prohibits NewMil from holding discussions or negotiations relating to any competing proposal and from agreeing to or endorsing any competing proposal.

The merger agreement defines a competing proposal as (i) any inquiry, proposal or offer from any person relating to any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase of NewMil or any business line of NewMil that constitutes 15% or more of the net revenues, net income or assets of NewMil or 15% or more of any class of equity securities of NewMil, (ii) any tender offer or exchange offer that if consummated would result in any person beneficially owing 15% or more of any class of equity securities of NewMil or (iii) any merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving NewMil, other than the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Notwithstanding the above restrictions, in connection with a superior competing transaction and subject to other specified conditions, NewMil will be permitted to furnish information with respect to, or enter into discussions or negotiations with, any person that makes an unsolicited bona fide proposal to acquire NewMil; provided, however, that (a) the NewMil stockholders have not adopted and approved the merger agreement; (b) the NewMil Board of Directors has determined in good faith, after consultation with outside counsel, that such action is required in order to comply with the Board's fiduciary duties to the NewMil stockholders imposed by Delaware law; (c) NewMil provides prior written notice to Webster of its decision to take such action; (d) NewMil receives an executed confidentiality agreement on terms no less favorable to NewMil than those contained in the confidentiality agreement between Webster and NewMil; and (e) NewMil keeps Webster informed, on a current basis, of the status and details of any such discussions or negotiations.

The merger agreement defines a superior competing transaction as any proposal made by a third party to acquire, directly or indirectly, including pursuant to a tender offer, exchange offer, merger, consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction, for consideration consisting of cash and/or securities, more than 50% of the combined voting power of the shares of NewMil common stock then outstanding or all or substantially all the assets of NewMil, and otherwise on terms which the Board of Directors of NewMil determines in its good faith judgment (after consultation with its outside legal counsel and its financial advisors) to be more favorable to its stockholders than the merger and for which financing, to the extent required, is then committed or which if not committed is, in the good faith judgment of its Board of Directors, reasonably capable of being obtained by such third party.

Expenses; Breakup Fee

The merger agreement generally provides that all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement shall be paid for by the party incurring such costs and expenses. However, if the merger agreement is terminated by Webster or NewMil due to NewMil's stockholders not having approved the merger agreement and both (a) after the date of the merger agreement (April 24, 2006) and before the special meeting date, there shall have been a third party public event (as defined in the merger agreement) and (b) within 18 months following the date of termination of the merger agreement, NewMil enters into an agreement for an acquisition transaction (as defined in the merger agreement) or an acquisition transaction otherwise occurs, NewMil shall pay all documented, reasonable costs and expenses of Webster up to $750,000, plus a breakup fee of $8,750,000. If the merger agreement is terminated by Webster or NewMil as a result of a willful material breach of a representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained in the merger agreement by the other party, such breaching party shall pay all documented, reasonable costs and expenses of the terminating party up to $750,000, plus liquidated damages in the amount of $8,750,000. If the merger agreement is terminated by Webster due to the failure of NewMil's Board of Directors to recommend approval of the merger agreement or to oppose any third party proposal, and both (a) after the date of the merger agreement (April 24, 2006) and before the special meeting date, there shall have been a competing proposal (as defined in the merger agreement) and (b) within 18 months following the date of termination of the merger agreement, NewMil enters into an agreement for an acquisition transaction or an acquisition transaction otherwise occurs, NewMil shall pay all documented, reasonable costs and expenses of Webster up to $750,000, plus a breakup fee of $8,750,000. If the merger agreement is terminated by Webster as a result of NewMil's failure to hold the special meeting within the specified time period or the violation of the no-shop provision contained in the merger agreement, NewMil shall pay all documented, reasonable costs and expenses up to $750,000 incurred by Webster in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, plus a breakup fee of $8,750,000.

Fairness Opinion of Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc.

NewMil engaged KBW to render financial advisory and investment banking services to NewMil. KBW agreed to assist NewMil in assessing the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger with Webster to the stockholders of NewMil. NewMil selected KBW because KBW is a nationally recognized investment-banking firm with substantial experience in transactions similar to the merger and is familiar with NewMil and its business. As part of its investment banking business, KBW is continually engaged in the valuation of financial businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions.

As part of its engagement, representatives of KBW attended the meeting of the NewMil Board of Directors held on April 24, 2006, at which the NewMil Board of Directors evaluated the proposed merger with Webster. At this meeting, KBW reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger and rendered an opinion that, as of such date, the consideration to NewMil stockholders in the merger was fair from a financial point of view. The NewMil Board of Directors approved the merger agreement at this meeting.

The full text of KBW's written opinion is attached as Appendix B to this document and is incorporated herein by reference. NewMil's stockholders are urged to read the opinion in its entirety for a description of the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by KBW. The description of the opinion set forth herein is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion.

KBW's opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion. The opinion is directed to the NewMil Board of Directors and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the consideration offered to the NewMil stockholders. It does not address the underlying business decision to proceed with the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any NewMil stockholder as to how the stockholder should vote at the NewMil special meeting on the merger or any related matter.

In rendering its opinion, KBW:

reviewed, among other things,

the merger agreement,

Annual Reports to stockholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K of Webster, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of Webster,

Annual Reports to stockholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K of NewMil, and

Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of NewMil; held discussions with members of senior management of NewMil and Webster regarding past and current business operations, regulatory relationships,

financial condition, and future prospects of the respective companies;

reviewed the market prices, valuation multiples, publicly reported financial condition and results of operations for NewMil and Webster and compared them with those of certain publicly traded companies that KBW deemed to be relevant;

compared the proposed financial terms of the merger with the financial terms of certain other transactions that KBW deemed to be relevant; and performed other studies and analyses that it considered appropriate.

In conducting its review and arriving at its opinion, KBW relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information provided to or otherwise made available to KBW or that was discussed with, or reviewed by KBW, or that was publicly available. KBW did not attempt or assume any responsibility to verify such information independently. KBW relied upon the management of NewMil and Webster as to the reasonableness and achievability of the financial and operating forecasts and projections (and assumptions and bases therefor) provided to KBW. KBW assumed, without independent verification, that the aggregate allowances for loan and lease losses for Webster and NewMil are adequate to cover those losses. KBW did not make or obtain any evaluations or appraisals of any assets or liabilities of Webster or NewMil, nor did it examine or review any individual credit files.

The projections furnished to KBW and used by it in certain of its analyses were prepared by NewMil's and Webster's senior management teams. NewMil and Webster do not publicly disclose internal management projections of the type provided to KBW in connection with its review of the merger. As a result, such projections were not prepared with a view towards public disclosure. The projections were based on numerous variables and assumptions, which are inherently uncertain, including factors related to general economic and competitive conditions. Accordingly, actual results could vary significantly from those set forth in the projections.

Table of Contents

For purposes of rendering its opinion, KBW assumed that, in all respects material to its analyses:

the merger will be completed substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement;

the representations and warranties of each party in the merger agreement and in all related documents and instruments referred to in the merger agreement are true and correct;

each party to the merger agreement and all related documents will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by such party under such documents;

all conditions to the completion of the merger will be satisfied without any waivers; and in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory, contractual, or other consents or approvals for the merger, no restrictions, including any divestiture requirements, termination or other payments or amendments or modifications, will be imposed that will have a material adverse effect on the future results of operations or financial condition of the combined entity or the contemplated benefits of the merger, including the cost savings and related expenses expected to result from the merger.

KBW further assumed that the merger will be accounted for as a purchase under generally accepted accounting principles, and that the conversion of NewMil common stock into Webster common stock will be tax-free for Webster and NewMil. KBW's opinion is not an expression of an opinion as to the prices at which shares of NewMil common stock or shares of Webster common stock will trade following the announcement of the merger or the actual value of the shares of common stock of the combined company when issued pursuant to the merger, or the prices at which the shares of common stock of the combined company will trade following the completion of the merger.

In performing its analyses, KBW made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, which are beyond the control of KBW, NewMil and Webster. Any estimates contained in the analyses performed by KBW are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Additionally, estimates of the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which such businesses or securities might actually be sold. Accordingly, these analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. In addition, the KBW opinion was among several factors taken into consideration by the NewMil Board of Directors in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and the merger. Consequently, the analyses described below should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of the NewMil Board of Directors with respect to the fairness of the consideration.

The following is a summary of the material analyses presented by KBW to the NewMil Board of Directors on April 24, 2006, in connection with its fairness opinion. The summary is not a complete description of the analyses underlying the KBW opinion or the presentation made by KBW to the NewMil Board of Directors, but summarizes the material analyses performed and presented in connection with such opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytic process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Therefore, a fairness opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, KBW did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. The financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. Accordingly, KBW believes that its analyses and the summary of its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on the information presented below in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying its analyses and opinion. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses.

Summary of Proposal. Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, each outstanding share of NewMil common stock will be converted into a certain number of shares of Webster common stock, determined by dividing $41.00 by the Base Period Trading Price (as defined in the Agreement) for Webster common stock, computed to four decimal places (the Exchange Ratio). If the Base Period Trading Price exceeds $50.25, the Exchange Ratio will be fixed at 0.8159; if the Base Period Trading Price is less than $44.85, the Exchange Ratio will be fixed at 0.9142. Based on Webster's closing stock price on April 21, 2006, of $47.65, the exchange ratio represented a value of $41.00 per share to NewMil.

Transaction multiples for the merger were derived from $41.00 (based upon Webster's closing share price on April 21, 2006) per share price for NewMil. KBW compared these results with announced multiples. The results of the analysis are set forth in the following table.

	Webster / NewMil	Bank Comparable Transactions Median	Thrift Comparable Transactions Median
Price / LTM EPS	19.5x	22.8x	20.4x
Price / Estimated EPS	18.2x	18.3x	18.6x

Price / Tangible Book Value	3.73x	2.60x	2.54x
Core Deposit Premium	23.0%	17.5%	20.8%

No company or transaction used as a comparison in the above analysis is identical to NewMil, Webster or the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of these results is not mathematical. Rather, it involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies.

Financial Impact Analysis. KBW performed pro forma merger analyses that combined projected income statement and balance sheet information of Webster and NewMil. Assumptions regarding the accounting treatment, acquisition adjustments and cost savings were used to calculate the financial impact that the merger would have on certain projected financial results of Webster. In the course of this analysis, KBW used earnings estimates for Webster for 2006 and 2007 from a nationally recognized earnings estimate consolidator and assumed 8% earnings growth in 2008, and used NewMil management's earnings estimate for 2006, and assumed 9% growth in 2007 and 2008. This analysis indicated that the merger is expected to be accretive to Webster's estimated earnings per share in 2007 and 2008, and accretive to cash earnings per share in 2007 and 2008. Cash earnings were estimated by adding the anticipated core deposit intangible amortization expense to GAAP earnings. The analysis also indicated that the merger is expected to be accretive to book value per share and dilutive to tangible book value per share for Webster and that Webster would maintain well capitalized capital ratios and thus will have the financial ability to execute the merger. This analysis was based on certain assumptions provided by Webster and NewMil with regard to cost savings, merger related charges and the amortization of intangibles. For all of the above analyses, the actual results achieved by Webster following the merger will vary from the projected results, and the variations may be material.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. KBW performed a discounted cash flow analysis to estimate a range of the present values of after-tax cash flows that NewMil could provide to equity holders through 2010 on a stand-alone basis, excluding the effects related to the merger. In performing this analysis, KBW used budgeted

2006 net income and applied a range of long-term growth rates from 8.0% to 10.0% thereafter. The range of values was determined by adding (1) the present value of projected cash dividends to NewMil stockholders from 2006 to 2010, assuming a constant dividend payout ratio of 40.4% and (2) the present value of the terminal value of NewMil's common stock. In calculating the terminal value of NewMil, KBW applied multiples ranging from 14.0x to 19.0x to 2011 forecasted earnings. The dividend stream and the terminal value were discounted back to present value terms using discount rates ranging from 10.0% to 12.0%, which KBW viewed as appropriate for a company with NewMil's risk characteristics. This resulted in a range of values of NewMil from $30.37 to $43.50 per share.

KBW stated that the discounted cash flow present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology but noted that it relies on numerous assumptions, including asset and earnings growth rates, terminal values and discount rates. The analysis did not purport to be indicative of the actual values or expected values of NewMil.

Other Analyses. KBW reviewed the relative financial and market performance of NewMil and Webster along with a variety of relevant industry peer groups and indices. KBW also reviewed earnings estimates, balance sheet composition, historical stock performance and other financial data for Webster.

The NewMil Board of Directors has retained KBW as an independent contractor to act as financial adviser to NewMil regarding the merger. As part of its investment banking business, KBW is continually engaged in the valuation of banking businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes. As specialists in the securities of banking companies, KBW has experience in, and knowledge of, the valuation of banking enterprises. In the ordinary course of its business as a broker-dealer, KBW may, from time to time, purchase securities from, and sell securities to, NewMil and Webster. As a market maker in securities KBW may from time to time have a long or short position in, and buy or sell, debt or equity securities of NewMil and Webster for KBW's own account and for the accounts of its customers.

NewMil and KBW have entered into an agreement relating to the services to be provided by KBW in connection with the merger. NewMil paid KBW a cash fee of $50,000 promptly after the execution of the engagement letter. NewMil has also agreed to pay KBW cash fee of $50,000 promptly after the mailing of any proxy statement or registration statement relating to the Merger. Finally, NewMil has agreed to pay KBW a cash fee of $150,000 at the time of consummation of the Merger. Pursuant to the KBW engagement agreement, NewMil also agreed to reimburse KBW for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements incurred in connection with its retention and to indemnify against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws.

The projected financial information of NewMil, referred to above, under the heading "Fairness Opinion of Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc.," in this Form S-4, has been prepared by, and is the responsibility of, NewMil's management. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP has neither examined nor compiled the projected financial information and, accordingly, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance with respect thereto. The PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP report included in this offering document relates to NewMil's historical financial information. Termination and Amendment of the Merger Agreement by mutual written consent of Webster and NewMil;

Before or after NewMil stockholders approve the merger agreement, it may be terminated:

by either Webster or NewMil upon written notice if any required regulatory approval is denied or any regulatory application is withdrawn at a regulator's request unless within ten business days following such denial or withdrawal, the parties have agreed to file or have filed a petition for a rehearing or an amended application or have agreed to take some other ameliorative action, unless such denial or request for withdrawal is due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate;

by either Webster or NewMil if the merger has not taken place on or before December 31, 2006, unless the failure to complete the merger by that date is due to the terminating party's failure to perform or observe its covenants and agreements in the merger agreement, provided, however, that if regulatory approval or the stockholder meeting is pending, the termination date shall automatically be extended for an additional 30 days;

by either Webster or NewMil if NewMil's stockholders do not approve the merger agreement due to failure to obtain the required vote at a duly held meeting of stockholders;

by either Webster or NewMil (provided that the terminating party is not then in breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained in the merger agreement that, individually or in the aggregate, would give the other party the right to terminate the merger agreement) if there shall have been a breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in the merger agreement on the part of the other party, if such breach, individually or in the aggregate, has had or is likely to have a material adverse effect on the breaching party, and such breach is not curable or shall not have been cured within 30 days following receipt by the breaching party of written notice of such breach from the other party thereto or such breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the closing;

by either Webster or NewMil (provided that the terminating party is not then in breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained in the merger agreement that, individually or in the aggregate, would give the other party the right to terminate the merger agreement) if there shall have been a material breach of any of the covenants or agreements set forth in the merger agreement on the part of the other party, and such breach is not curable or shall not have been cured within 30 days following receipt by the breaching party of written notice of such breach from the other party thereto or such breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the closing; and by Webster if NewMil (i) fails to call and hold, within 40 days of the registration statement being declared effective by the SEC, a special meeting of NewMil stockholders to approve the merger agreement, (ii) fails to recommend that NewMil stockholders approve the merger and merger agreement, (iii) fails to oppose a competing third party proposal, or (iv) violates the no shop provision contained in the merger agreement.

The merger agreement also permits, subject to applicable law, the Boards of Directors of Webster and NewMil to:

amend the merger agreement except as provided below; extend the time for performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other party; waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement or in any document delivered under the merger agreement; or waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions contained in the merger agreement.

After approval of the merger agreement by NewMil's stockholders, no amendment of the merger agreement may be made without further stockholder approval if the amendment would reduce the amount or change the form of the consideration to be delivered to NewMil's stockholders under the merger agreement.

Material Federal Income Tax Consequences

The summary is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, referred to in this section as the Code, the U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code and related administrative interpretations and judicial decisions, all as in effect as of the effective time of the merger, and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect.

The summary assumes that the holders of shares of NewMil's common stock hold their shares as capital assets. The summary applies only to holders of shares of NewMil common stock that are U.S. persons. For purposes hereof, a U.S. person is:

This summary is not binding on the Internal Revenue Service and there can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will not take a position contrary to one or more of the positions reflected in this summary or that these positions will be upheld by the courts if challenged by the Internal Revenue Service. No ruling from the Internal Revenue Service has been or will be requested with respect to the merger.

The summary does not address the tax consequences that may be applicable to particular NewMil stockholders in light of their individual circumstances or to NewMil stockholders who are subject to special tax rules, including:

Exchange for Webster Common Stock. A holder that exchanges its shares of NewMil common stock solely for shares of Webster common stock will not recognize any gain or loss except in respect of cash received instead of a fractional share of Webster common stock (as discussed below). The aggregate adjusted tax basis of the shares of Webster common stock received in the merger (including fractional shares deemed received and redeemed as described below) will be equal to the aggregate adjusted tax basis of the shares of NewMil common stock surrendered for the Webster common stock, reduced by the adjusted tax basis allocable to any fractional shares deemed received in the merger as described below. The holding period of the Webster common stock (including fractional shares deemed received and redeemed as described below) will include the period during which the shares of NewMil common stock were held.

Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share. A holder who receives cash instead of a fractional share of Webster common stock will generally be treated as having received such fractional share and then as having received such cash in redemption of the fractional share. Gain or loss generally will be recognized based on the difference between the amount of cash received instead of the fractional share and the portion of the holder's aggregate adjusted tax basis of the share of NewMil common stock surrendered which is allocable to the fractional share. Such gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the holding period for such shares of NewMil common stock is more than one year at the effective time of the merger.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding. Unless an exemption applies, the exchange agent will be required to withhold, and will withhold, 28% of any cash payments to which a NewMil stockholder or other payee is entitled pursuant to the merger, unless the stockholder or other payee provides his or her tax identification number (social security number or employer identification number) and certifies that the number is correct. Each stockholder and, if applicable, each other payee, is required to complete and sign the Form W-9 that will be included as part of the transmittal letter to avoid being subject to backup withholding, unless an applicable exemption exists and is proved in a manner satisfactory to Webster and the exchange agent.

The federal income tax consequences set forth above are based upon present law and do not purport to be a complete analysis or listing of all potential tax effects that may apply to a holder of NewMil's common stock. The tax effects that are applicable to a particular holder of NewMil common stock may be different from the tax effects that are applicable to other holders of NewMil common stock, including the application and effect of state, local and other tax laws other than those pertaining to the federal income tax, and thus, holders of NewMil common stock are urged to consult their own tax advisors.

Options. As described above in the section titled Merger Consideration – NewMil Stock Options, holders of options to purchase NewMil common stock that are outstanding at the effective time of the merger will have their NewMil options converted into options to purchase shares of Webster common stock. The assumption of the options by Webster should not be a taxable event and former holders of NewMil options who hold options to purchase Webster common stock after the merger should be subject to the same federal income tax treatment upon exercise of those options as would have applied if they had exercised their NewMil options.

Holders of NewMil options are urged to consult their own tax advisors as to the specific tax consequences to them of the merger, including tax return reporting requirements, available elections, the applicability and effect of federal, state, local and other applicable tax laws, and the effect of any proposed changes in the tax laws.

Accounting Treatment

The merger, if completed, will be treated as a purchase by Webster of NewMil for accounting purposes. Accordingly, under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, the assets and liabilities of NewMil will be recorded on the books of Webster at their respective fair values at the time of the consummation of the merger.

Resales of Webster's Common Stock Received in the Merger

Webster is registering the issuance of the shares of its common stock to be exchanged in the merger under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act). The shares will be freely transferable under the Securities Act, except for shares received by NewMil stockholders who are affiliates of NewMil or Webster at the time of the special meeting. These affiliates may only resell their shares pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act covering the shares, in compliance with Securities Act Rule 145 or under another exemption from the Securities Act's registration requirements. This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover any resales of Webster's common stock by Webster or NewMil affiliates. Affiliates will generally include individuals or entities who control, are controlled by or are under common control with NewMil or Webster, and may include officers or directors, as well as principal stockholders of NewMil or Webster.

Employee Benefits

To the extent permissible under applicable law and the Webster Bank Employee Investment Plan, Webster shall recognize, solely for purposes of determining eligibility and vesting under the Webster Bank Employee Investment Plan, the service of any NewMil employee who becomes an employee of Webster Bank or a subsidiary of Webster Bank at the effective time and such service shall also include any service with a predecessor of NewMil to the extent that such service was credited for eligibility and vesting purposes under the NewMil Bank 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan. No service with NewMil or any predecessor of NewMil shall be taken into account for any purpose under the Webster Bank Pension Plan or the Webster Bank Employee Stock Ownership Plan.

Employees of NewMil who become employees of Webster Bank or a subsidiary of Webster Bank after the merger will (i) be eligible for employee benefits that Webster Bank or a subsidiary of Webster Bank, as the case may be, provides to its newly-hired employees generally and, except as set forth in the next paragraph, on substantially the same basis as is applicable to such newly-hired employees, (ii) be given credit with respect to the satisfaction of the limitations as to pre-existing condition exclusions, evidence of insurability requirements and waiting periods for participation and coverage under Webster Bank's group health, life insurance and disability plans equal to the credit that any such employee had received as of the effective time towards the satisfaction of any such limitations and waiting periods under the comparable plans of NewMil, (iii) be given credit for amounts paid under similar plans of NewMil in connection with annual deductible, co-insurance and maximum out-of-pocket expenses for purposes of satisfying applicable annual deductible, co-insurance and maximum out-of-pocket expenses under Webster Bank's plans and (iv) have waived preexisting condition limitations to the same extent waived under the corresponding NewMil plan.

NewMil full-time employees, other than any employee who is a party to any written agreement relating to employment or severance, who are not offered full-time employment with Webster Bank or any of its subsidiaries as of the closing date of the merger or who are terminated by Webster Bank or an employing subsidiary of Webster Bank following the closing date of the merger, will be eligible to receive severance benefits in accordance with the terms of the Webster Salary Continuation Policy, excluding severance payments with respect to annual incentive or other bonuses. NewMil employees who are offered comparable full-time employment with Webster as of the closing of the merger, but who do not accept such employment, shall not be eligible for severance.

Support Agreements

Webster required NewMil's officers and directors to enter into support agreements. These support agreements require the officers and directors to vote all of the shares of NewMil common stock beneficially owned by them in favor of the merger.

As of the record date, the NewMil stockholders who entered into support agreements collectively held shares of NewMil common stock which represented approximately []% of the outstanding NewMil common stock. None of the NewMil officers and directors who are parties to the support agreements were paid additional consideration in connection with the execution of such agreements.

Interests of NewMil Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger That are Different Than Yours

Pre-Existing Employment Agreement. NewMil has a pre-existing employment agreement with Mr. Wiatr (the Wiatr Employment Agreement) which will be superseded or clarified by new agreements as described below. Under the Wiatr Employment Agreement, upon a change of control, Mr. Wiatr would be entitled to receive a lump sum cash payment of three times his annual compensation, which includes bonuses or incentive compensation. Additionally, NewMil will (i) cause Mr. Wiatr to become fully vested in any qualified and non-qualified plans, if such plans do not address the effect of a change of control, (ii) contribute any matching and profit-sharing contributions to Mr. Wiatr's 401(K) plan account based upon the income earned for the plan year, (iii) continue life and disability insurance for 36 months after Mr. Wiatr's termination or until he becomes employed by another employer and (iv) continue medical coverage for Mr. Wiatr and his family through February 2015. The merger would constitute a change of control for purposes of the Wiatr Employment Agreement.

Executive Officer Automobiles. By prior agreement and pursuant to Mr. Wiatr's Employment Agreement, the ownership of certain bank owned automobiles used exclusively by Messrs. Wiatr, McMahon and Granata will be transferred to these executives before the closing of the merger. The aggregate book value of these automobiles is anticipated to be approximately $18,500, at September 30, 2006.

Executive Officer Change in Control Agreements. Each of the following executive officers of NewMil has entered into a Change in Control Agreement with NewMil: John A. Baker, Diane Farrell, Thomas W. Grant III, B. Ian McMahon, Betty A. Pacocha, Roberta Reed, Terrence J. Shannon, William Starbuck, Robert Granata, Virginia Dexter and June Walker. Pursuant to the Change in Control Agreements, if NewMil merges or consolidates with another corporation, such executive officer will receive severance benefits. Depending on the terms of each Change in Control Agreement, the executive officer will receive a lump sum cash payment equal to (i) 50% of the executive officer's annual compensation (two agreements), (ii) 100% of the executive officer's annual compensation (seven agreements), (iii) 150% of the executive officer's annual compensation (one agreement), and (iv) 299% of the executive officer's annual compensation (one agreement). Annual compensation includes bonuses and incentive compensation. Additionally, NewMil will (i) cause the executive officer to become fully vested in any qualified and non-qualified plans, if such plans do not address the effect of a change of control and (ii) contribute any matching and profit-sharing contributions to the executive officer's 401(K) plan account based upon the income earned for the plan year. Six of the Change in Control Agreements pay reasonable expenses (up to $30,000 for five agreements and up to $25,000 for one agreement) associated with the outplacement of the executive officer to a professional outplacement firm for the purpose of assisting the executive officer to find a comparable position. The other five Change in Control Agreements do not pay any expenses for outplacement services. If the legality of the Change in Control Agreements is challenged, such agreements provide for the payment of the executive's legal fees (maximum amount of $20,000 for two agreements, $40,000 for two agreements, $50,000 for five agreements, $150,000 for one agreement and $250,000 for one agreement) in defending against any such action. The merger would constitute a change of control for purposes of these Change of Control Agreements.

Table of Contents

New Agreements with Messrs. Wiatr and McMahon. Prior to closing the merger, each of Webster Bank and Messrs. Wiatr and McMahon intend to negotiate and enter into new consulting agreements.

Board of Advisors. After the merger, Webster Bank will establish an advisory board, whose membership may include some of the directors of NewMil, among others.

Indemnification and Insurance. Webster has agreed to indemnify and hold harmless each of NewMil's present and former directors, officers and employees for a period of six years from the effective time of the merger from costs and expenses arising out of matters existing or occurring at or before the consummation of the merger to the fullest extent allowed under applicable law and the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of Webster. Webster has also agreed that it will maintain NewMil's existing directors' and officers' liability insurance policy, or provide a policy providing similar coverage, for the benefit of NewMil's directors and officers who are currently covered by such insurance, for at least three years from the effective time of the merger, with respect to acts or omissions occurring prior to the effective time of the merger, subject to a limit on the cost to maintain such coverage.

DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK AND COMPARISON OF STOCKHOLDER RIGHTS

Set forth below is a description of Webster's capital stock, as well as a summary of the material differences between the rights of holders of NewMil's common stock and their prospective rights as holders of Webster's common stock. If the merger agreement is approved and the merger takes place, the holders of NewMil's common stock will become holders of Webster's common stock. As a result, Webster's restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, and bylaws, as amended, and the applicable provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, referred to in this section as the Delaware corporation law, will govern the rights of current holders of NewMil's common stock.

The following comparison is based on the current terms of the governing documents of Webster and NewMil. The discussion is intended to highlight important similarities and differences between the rights of holders of Webster's common stock and NewMil's common stock.

Webster's Common Stock

The certificate of incorporation of Webster authorizes 200,000,000 shares of common stock, par value, $.01 per share, of which [] shares were outstanding as of [], 2006. In addition, as of [], 2006, there were outstanding options to purchase [] shares of Webster's common stock granted to directors, officers and other employees of Webster.

Holders of Webster's common stock are entitled to one vote per share on each matter properly submitted to stockholders for their vote, including the election of directors. Webster's common stock is not subject to additional calls or assessments by Webster, and all shares of Webster's common stock currently outstanding are fully paid and nonassessable. For a discussion of the voting rights of Webster's common stock, its lack of preemptive rights, the classification of Webster's Board of Directors and provisions of Webster's certificate of incorporation and bylaws that may prevent a change in control of Webster or that would operate only in an extraordinary corporate transaction involving Webster or its subsidiaries, see Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaw Provisions. Holders of Webster's common stock and any class or series of stock entitled to participate with it are entitled to receive dividends declared by the Board of Directors of Webster out of any assets legally available for distribution. No dividends or other distributions may be declared or paid, however, unless all accumulated dividends and any sinking fund, retirement fund or other retirement payments have been paid, declared or set aside on any class of stock having preference as to payments of dividends over Webster's common stock.

In the unlikely event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of Webster, the holders of Webster's common stock and any class or series of stock entitled to participate with it would be entitled to receive all remaining assets of Webster available for distribution, in cash or in kind, after payment or provision for payment of all debts and liabilities of Webster and after the liquidation preferences of all outstanding shares of any class of stock having preference over Webster's common stock have been fully paid or set aside.

NewMil s Common Stock

The certificate of incorporation of NewMil authorizes 20,000,000 shares of NewMil s common stock, par value $.50 per share, of which [] shares were outstanding as of [], 2006. In addition, as of [], 2006, there were outstanding options to purchase [] shares of NewMil s common stock granted to directors, officers and other employees of NewMil.

Each share of NewMil s common stock has the same relative rights and is identical in all respects to each other share of NewMil s common stock. As with Webster s common stock, NewMil s common stock is non-withdrawable capital, is not of an insurable type and is not insured by the FDIC or any other governmental entity.

Holders of NewMil s common stock are entitled to one vote per share on each matter properly submitted to stockholders for their vote, including the election of directors. Holders of NewMil s common stock have distribution and liquidation rights similar to those of holders of Webster s common stock. All shares of NewMil s common stock currently outstanding are fully paid and nonassessable. For a discussion of the voting rights of NewMil s common stock, its lack of preemptive rights and provisions in NewMil s certificate of incorporation which may prevent a change in control of NewMil, see Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaw Provisions.

Webster s Preferred Stock

Webster s certificate of incorporation authorizes its Board of Directors, without further stockholder approval, to issue up to 3,000,000 shares of serial preferred stock for any proper corporate purpose. In approving any issuance of serial preferred stock, the Board of Directors has broad authority to determine the rights and preferences of the serial preferred stock, which may be issued in one or more series. These rights and preferences may include voting, dividend, conversion and liquidation rights that may be senior to Webster s common stock.

Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaw Provisions

The following discussion is a general summary of provisions of Webster s certificate of incorporation and bylaws, and a comparison of those provisions to similar types of provisions in the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of NewMil. The discussion is necessarily general and, for provisions contained in Webster s certificate of incorporation and bylaws or in NewMil s certificate of incorporation and bylaws, reference should be made to the documents in question. Some of the provisions included in Webster s certificate of incorporation and bylaws may serve to discourage a change in control of Webster even if desired by a majority of stockholders. These provisions are designed to encourage potential acquirers to negotiate directly with the Board of Directors of Webster and to discourage other takeover attempts.

Directors. Some of the provisions of Webster s certificate of incorporation and bylaws will impede changes in majority control of Webster s Board of Directors. The certificate of incorporation provides that the Board of Directors will be divided into three classes, with directors in each class elected for three-year staggered terms. The certificate of incorporation further provides that the size of the Board of Directors is to be within a 7 to 15 director range. The bylaws currently provide that the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. The bylaws also provide that:

to be eligible for nomination as a director, a nominee must be a resident of the State of Connecticut at the time of his nomination or, if not then a resident, have been previously a resident for at least three years;

each director is required to own not less than 100 shares of Webster's common stock; and more than three consecutive absences from regular meetings of the Board of Directors, unless excused by a Board of Directors resolution, will automatically constitute a resignation.

Webster's bylaws also contain a provision prohibiting particular contracts and transactions between Webster and its directors and officers and some other entities unless specific procedural requirements are satisfied.

Table of Contents

NewMil's bylaws provide that the size of the Board of Directors is to be within a 6 to 15 director range. The bylaws initially provided that the number of directors shall be set at 9, and thereafter shall be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors, or in the absence of a resolution, shall be the number of directors elected at the preceding Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The bylaws also provide that the Board of Directors will be divided into three classes, with directors in each class elected for three-year staggered terms. The bylaws further provide that no person shall be eligible for election as a director and no director shall be eligible for re-election once a director reaches his or her 70th birthday, although the directors serving at the time the bylaws were adopted in 1992 were not required to vacate their offices and were not barred from re-election because of their age.

NewMil's certificate of incorporation and bylaws also contain provisions requiring that certain procedural requirements are satisfied with respect to certain transactions between NewMil and any interested stockholder.

Webster's certificate of incorporation and bylaws provide that a vacancy occurring on the Board of Directors, including a vacancy created by any increase in the number of directors, is to be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by a majority vote of the directors then in office. Similarly, NewMil's bylaws provide that any vacancy occurring by reason other than an increase in the number of directorships shall be filled by the vote of a majority of the directors remaining in office, even though such remaining directors may be fewer than a majority of the number of directorships. NewMil's bylaws provide that vacancies created by an increase in the number of directorships shall be filled by the vote of no fewer than a majority of the directorships existing prior to such increase. If such remaining directors fail to fill the vacancy, then the vacancy shall be filled by action of the stockholders.

Webster's certificate of incorporation provides that a director may be removed only for cause and then only by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the total votes eligible to be voted at a duly constituted meeting of stockholders called for that purpose and that 30 days' written notice must be provided to any director or directors whose removal is to be considered at a stockholders' meeting.

NewMil's directors may be removed only for cause and then only by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the votes eligible to be voted at a duly constituted meeting of stockholders called for that purpose, provided that this two-thirds must not include an interested director. If a director attends less than 75% of the meetings of the Board of Directors in any fiscal year, the director's office shall be immediately vacated.

Webster's bylaws impose restrictions on the nomination by stockholders of candidates for election to the Board of Directors and the proposal by stockholders of business to be acted upon at an annual meeting of stockholders. NewMil's bylaws provide that nominations for election to the Board of Directors may be made by the Board of Directors or by any stockholder of any outstanding class of capital stock of the corporation entitled to vote for the election of directors.

Call of Special Meetings. Webster's certificate of incorporation provides that a special meeting of stockholders may be called at any time but only by the Chairman, the President or by the Board of Directors. NewMil's bylaws provide that a special meeting of stockholders may be called at any time by the President or the Board of Directors, unless otherwise required by law. Neither Webster's nor NewMil's stockholders are authorized to call a special meeting.

Stockholder Action without a Meeting. Webster's certificate of incorporation provides that stockholders may act by written consent without a meeting but only if the consent is unanimous. NewMil's stockholders may not act by written consent without a meeting.

Limitation on Liability of Directors and Indemnification. Each of Webster's certificate of incorporation and NewMil's certificate of incorporation provides that no director shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director other than liability:

for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders;

for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;

Table of Contents

for any payment of a dividend or approval of a stock repurchase that is illegal under Section 174 of the Delaware corporation law; or for any transaction from which a director derived an improper personal benefit.

Webster's bylaws also provide for indemnification of directors, officers, trustees, employees and agents of Webster, and for those serving in those roles with other business organizations or entities, in the event that the person was or is made a party to or is threatened to be made a party to any civil, criminal, administrative, arbitration or investigative action, suit, or proceeding, other than an action by or in the right of Webster, by reason of the fact that the person is or was serving in that kind of capacity for or on behalf of Webster. The bylaws provide that Webster will indemnify any person of this kind against expenses including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of Webster, and, for any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. Similarly, the bylaws provide that Webster will indemnify these persons for expenses reasonably incurred and settlements reasonably paid in actions, suits, or proceedings brought by or in the right of Webster, if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of Webster; provided, however, that no indemnification may be made against expenses for any claim, issue, or matter as to which the person is adjudged to be liable to Webster or against amounts paid in settlement unless and only to the extent that there is a determination made by the appropriate party set forth in Webster's bylaws that the person to be indemnified is, in view of all the circumstances of the case, fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for expenses or amounts paid in settlement. In addition, Webster's bylaws permit the corporation to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, trustee, employee, or agent of Webster or is acting in these kinds of capacity for another business organization or entity at Webster's request, against any liability asserted against the person and incurred in that capacity, or arising out of that status, whether or not Webster would have the power or obligation to indemnify him against that kind of liability under the indemnification provisions of Webster's bylaws.

Likewise, NewMil's bylaws also provide for indemnification of its directors, officers, employees and such other persons specified in the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, to the full extent permitted or required of corporations subject to such Act.

Cumulative Voting. Neither Webster nor NewMil stockholders have cumulative voting rights in the election of directors.

Preemptive Rights. Webster's certificate of incorporation provides that stockholders do not have any preemptive rights regarding the entity's securities. Similarly, NewMil's certificate of incorporation provides that stockholders do not have any preemptive rights regarding the entity's securities.

Notice of Meetings. Webster's bylaws require that notice be given not less than 10 nor more than 60 days prior to each annual or special meeting of stockholders. Similarly, NewMil must provide no fewer than 10 nor more than 60 days notice of an annual or special meeting of stockholders.

Quorum. Webster's bylaws provide that the holders of one-third of the capital stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote at a meeting constitutes a quorum. NewMil's bylaws provide that the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of stock of the company entitled to vote at a meeting constitutes a quorum.

General Vote. Webster's bylaws provide that any matter brought before a meeting of stockholders will be decided by the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast on the matter except as otherwise required by law or Webster's certificate of incorporation or bylaws. NewMil's bylaws provide that any matter brought before a meeting of stockholders will be decided by the vote of the holders of a majority of the shares present at any meeting of stockholders at which a quorum is present, except as otherwise required by law or NewMil's certificate of incorporation or bylaws.

Record Date. Webster's bylaws provide that the record date for determination of stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting and for other specified purposes may not be less than 10 nor more than 60 days before the date of the meeting or other action. The record date for determination of stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of NewMil's stockholders may not be less than 10 nor more than 60 days before the date of meeting. The record date for dividends and any other specified actions may not be more than 60 days prior to any such action.

Approvals for Acquisitions of Control and Offers to Acquire Control. Webster's certificate of incorporation prohibits any person, whether an individual, company or group acting in concert, from acquiring beneficial ownership of 10% or more of Webster's voting stock unless the acquisition has received the prior approval of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of voting stock at a duly called meeting of stockholders held for that purpose and of all required federal regulatory authorities. Also, no person may make an offer to acquire 10% or more of Webster's voting stock without obtaining prior approval of the offer by at least two-thirds of Webster's Board of Directors or, alternatively, before the offer is made, obtaining approval of the acquisition from the OCC. These provisions do not apply to the purchase of shares by underwriters in connection with a public offering or by the employee stock ownership plans or other employee benefit plans of Webster or any of its subsidiaries, and the provisions remain effective only so long as an insured financial institution is a majority-owned subsidiary of Webster. Shares acquired in excess of these limitations are not entitled to vote or take other stockholder action or be counted in determining the total number of outstanding shares in connection with any matter involving stockholder action. These excess shares are also subject to transfer to a trustee, selected by Webster, for the sale on the open market or otherwise, with the expenses of the trustee to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.

Procedures for Business Combinations. Webster's certificate of incorporation requires that business combinations between Webster or any majority-owned subsidiary of Webster and a 10% or more stockholder or its affiliates or associates, referred to collectively in this section as the interested stockholder, be approved by at least 80% of the total number of outstanding shares of voting stock of Webster. NewMil's certificate of incorporation requires that business combinations between NewMil or any majority-owned subsidiary and an interested stockholder be approved first by NewMil's Board of Directors and then by the affirmative vote of (i) the holders of at least two-thirds of the voting powers of the then outstanding shares of voting stock of NewMil and (ii) the holders of at least two-thirds of the voting powers of the then outstanding shares of voting stock, exclusive of any shares held by or on behalf of interested stockholders.

The types of business combinations with an interested stockholder covered by Webster's certificate of incorporation include: any merger, consolidation and share exchange; any sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge or other transfer of assets other than in the usual and regular course of business; an issuance or transfer of equity securities having an aggregate market value in excess of 5% of the aggregate market value of Webster's outstanding shares; the adoption of any plan or proposal of liquidation proposed by or on behalf of an interested stockholder; and any reclassification of securities, recapitalization of Webster or any merger or consolidation of Webster with any of its subsidiaries or any other transaction which has the effect of increasing the proportionate ownership interest of the interested stockholder. Other business combinations require the vote provided for under the General Corporation Law of Delaware or the certificate of incorporation, provided the proposed business combination has been approved by at least two-thirds of the continuing directors then in office, which means those directors unaffiliated with the interested stockholder and serving before the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder, and the proposed business combination meets specified price and procedure requirements that provide for consideration per share generally equal to or greater than that paid by the interested stockholder when it acquired its block of stock. The types of business combinations with an interested stockholder covered by NewMil's certificate of incorporation are substantially similar to the types of business combinations with an interested stockholder covered by Webster's certificate of incorporation, except that the NewMil certificate of incorporation does not contain a provision that all other proposed business combinations have to be approved by at least two-thirds of the continuing directors then in office, which means those directors unaffiliated with the interested stockholder and serving before the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder.

Webster's certificate of incorporation excludes employee stock purchase plans and other employee benefit plans of Webster and any of its subsidiaries from the definition of interested stockholder.

Anti-Greenmail. Webster's certificate of incorporation requires approval by a majority of the outstanding shares of voting stock before Webster may directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any voting stock beneficially owned by a holder of 5% or more of Webster's voting stock if the holder has owned the shares for less than two years. NewMil's certificate of incorporation requires approval by a majority of the outstanding shares of voting stock before NewMil may directly or indirectly purchase or otherwise acquire any voting stock beneficially owned by a holder of 3% or more of NewMil's voting stock, if the holder has owned the shares for less than two years. Any shares beneficially held by such 5% or 3% holder, as the case may be, are required to be excluded in calculating majority stockholder approval. The Webster and NewMil provisions would not apply to pro rata offers made by Webster or NewMil, as the case may be, to all of their respective stockholders in compliance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules and regulations under that statute. The Webster provision would also not apply to a purchase of voting stock by Webster if the Board of Directors has determined that the purchase price per share does not exceed the fair market value of that voting stock.

Criteria for Evaluating Offers. Webster's certificate of incorporation provides that the Board of Directors, when evaluating any acquisition offer, shall give due consideration to all relevant factors, including, without limitation, the economic effects of acceptance of the offer on depositors, borrowers and employees of its insured institution subsidiaries and on the communities in which its subsidiaries operate or are located, as well as on the ability of its subsidiaries to fulfill the objectives of insured institutions under applicable federal statutes and regulations.

Amendment to Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws. Amendments to Webster's certificate of incorporation must be approved by at least two-thirds of Webster's Board of Directors at a duly constituted meeting called for that purpose and also by stockholders by the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon at a duly called annual or special meeting; provided, however, that approval by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the shares entitled to vote thereon is required to amend the provisions regarding amendment of the certificate of incorporation, directors, bylaws, approval for acquisitions of control and offers to acquire control, criteria for evaluating offers, the calling of special meetings of stockholders, greenmail, and stockholder action by written consent. In addition, the provisions regarding business combinations may be amended only by the affirmative vote of at least 80% of the shares entitled to vote thereon. Webster's bylaws may be amended by the affirmative vote at a duly constituted meeting called for that purpose of at least two-thirds of the Board of Directors or by stockholders holding at least two-thirds of the total votes eligible to be voted.

Certain provisions of NewMil's certificate of incorporation may not be repealed or amended unless such amendment is approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares entitled to vote on that issue, provided that, if there is an interested stockholder, the two-thirds vote must include two-thirds of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares entitled to vote on that issue other than the interested stockholder. These provisions relate to the management of NewMil by a Board of Directors, the calling of special meetings, the procedures for business combinations, the filing of vacancies on the Board of Directors, the removal of directors, the nomination of director candidates by stockholders, stockholder action at meetings and not by written consent, purchases by NewMil of its common stock from a 3% stockholder or affiliate, and the procedure for amending these provisions of NewMil's certificate of incorporation. NewMil's bylaws may be altered, amended, added to or repealed by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of shares entitled to vote thereon or by the affirmative vote of directors holding a majority of the number of directorships; provided that notice of the alteration, amendment, addition or repeal is given in the notice of the meeting of stockholders or of the Board of Directors; and provided further that the provisions relating to the calling of a special meeting, the procedure for amending the bylaws, the number, election and term of office of directors, the nomination of director candidates by stockholders, the removal of directors and the filling of vacancies on the Board of Directors may not be amended without the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the voting power of the shares entitled to vote. If there is an interested stockholder, the two-thirds vote must include two-thirds of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares entitled to vote on that issue other than the interested stockholder.

Applicable Law

The following discussion is a general summary of particular federal and state statutory and regulatory provisions that may be deemed to have an anti-takeover effect.

Delaware Law. Section 203 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware applies to Delaware corporations such as Webster and NewMil. In general, the provisions of Section 203 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware prohibit a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging in various business combination transactions with any interested stockholder for a period of three years after the date of the transaction in which the person became an interested stockholder, unless the transaction is approved by the board of directors prior to the date the interested stockholder obtained such status;

upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced; or on or subsequent to such date, the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of stockholders by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested stockholder.

A business combination is defined to include mergers, asset sales and other transactions resulting in financial benefit to a stockholder. In general, an interested stockholder is a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns (or within three years, did own) 15% or more of a corporation's voting stock. The statute could prohibit or delay mergers or other takeover or change in control attempts with respect to us and, accordingly, may discourage attempts to acquire us even though such a transaction may offer our stockholders the opportunity to sell their stock at a price above the prevailing market price.

Connecticut Law. Connecticut banking statutes prohibit any person from directly or indirectly offering to acquire or acquiring voting stock of a Connecticut-chartered savings bank, like NewMil Bank, or a holding company of that kind of entity, like NewMil, that would result in the person becoming, directly or indirectly, the beneficial owner of (1) more than 10% or (2) 25% or more of any class of voting stock of that entity unless the person had previously filed an acquisition statement with the Connecticut Commissioner of Banking and the offer or acquisition has not been disapproved by the Connecticut Commissioner.

Federal Law. Federal law provides that, subject to some exemptions, no person acting directly or indirectly or through or in concert with one or more other persons may acquire control of an insured institution or holding company of an insured institution without giving at least 60 days prior written notice providing specified information to the appropriate federal banking agency. In the case of Webster and NewMil, the appropriate federal banking agency is the Federal Reserve; in the case of Webster Bank, the appropriate federal banking agency is the OCC; and in the case of NewMil Bank, the appropriate federal banking agency is the FDIC. Control is defined for this purpose as the power, directly or indirectly, to direct the management or policies of an insured institution or to vote 25% or more of any class of voting securities of an insured institution. Control is presumed to exist where the acquiring party has voting control of at least 10% of any class of the institution's voting securities and other conditions are present. The Federal Reserve, the OCC, or the FDIC may prohibit the acquisition of control if the respective agency finds, among other things, that:

the acquisition would result in a monopoly or substantially lessen competition;

the financial condition of the acquiring person might jeopardize the financial stability of the institution; or the competence, experience or integrity of any acquiring person or any of the proposed management personnel indicates that it would not be in the interest of the depositors or the public to permit the acquisition of control by that person.

Federal law also provides that, subject to some exceptions, a bank holding company may not acquire more than 5 percent of the voting stock of a bank, and a new holding company may not be formed to acquire control of a bank, without the prior approval of the Federal Reserve. Control is defined for this purpose in a similar manner as discussed in the preceding paragraph. The Federal Reserve may not approve the acquisition of control if it finds that the acquisition of control would result in a monopoly or would further an attempt to monopolize the business of banking in any part of the United States or if the acquisition of control would substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly and the anticompetitive effects are not clearly outweighed by the public benefits of the proposed transaction. The Federal Reserve also may not approve the acquisition of control if the company fails to provide the Federal Reserve with adequate assurances regarding the availability of information concerning the operations or activities of the company and any affiliate of the company that the Federal Reserve determines to be appropriate. The Federal Reserve also must take into consideration:

the financial resources and future prospects of the companies and banks concerned, and the convenience and needs of the community to be served;

the managerial resources of a company or bank, including the competence, experience, and integrity of officers, directors, and principal stockholders;

the company's record of meeting the credit needs of its entire community, including low- and moderate-income neighborhoods; and the effectiveness of the company in combating money laundering activities.

WHEREAS, the parties desire to make certain representations, warranties and agreements in connection with the Merger and also to prescribe certain conditions to the Merger; and

WHEREAS, unless otherwise indicated, capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth in Section 9.13;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants, representations, warranties and agreements contained herein, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

THE MERGER

1.1 The Merger.

Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, in accordance with Delaware General Corporation Law (DGCL), at the Effective Time, NewMil will merge into Webster with Webster being the surviving corporation (hereinafter sometimes called the Surviving Corporation) in the Merger. Upon consummation of the Merger, the separate corporate existence of NewMil shall cease.

1.2 Effective Time.

The Merger shall become effective on the date and at the time specified in the certificate of merger (the Certificate of Merger) as filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. The term Effective Time shall be the date and time when the Merger becomes effective as set forth in the Certificate of Merger.

1.3 Effects of the Merger.

The Merger shall have the effects set forth in the DGCL.

1.4 Conversion of NewMil Common Stock.

(a) At the Effective Time, subject to Section 1.4(b), each share of common stock, par value $.50 per share, of NewMil (NewMil Common Stock) issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, by virtue of this Agreement and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be converted into and exchangeable for that number of shares of common stock of Webster, par value $.01 per share (Webster Common Stock), determined by dividing $41.00 by the Base Period Trading Price (as defined below), as may be adjusted as provided below, computed to four decimal places (the Exchange Ratio); provided, however, if the Base Period Trading Price shall be greater than $50.25, the Exchange Ratio shall be fixed at 0.8159; provided, further, however, that if the Base Period Trading Price is less than $44.85, than the Exchange Ratio shall be fixed at 0.9142. The number of shares of Webster Common Stock issuable with respect to each share of NewMil Common Stock, as determined as set forth herein, is called the Merger Consideration. For purposes of this Agreement, the term Base Period Trading Price shall mean the average of the daily closing prices per share for Webster Common Stock for the ten consecutive trading days on which shares of Webster Common Stock are actually traded (as reported on the New York Stock Exchange) ending on the third trading day prior to the Closing Date (as hereinafter defined). All of the shares of NewMil Common Stock converted into Webster Common Stock pursuant to this Article I shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and shall cease to exist, and each certificate (each a Certificate) previously representing any such shares of NewMil Common Stock shall thereafter represent the right to receive (i) the number of whole shares of Webster Common Stock and (ii) cash in lieu of fractional shares (determined in accordance with Section 2.2(f)) into which the shares of NewMil Common Stock represented by such Certificate have been converted pursuant to this Section 1.4(a) hereof. Certificates previously representing shares of NewMil Common Stock shall be exchanged for certificates representing whole shares of Webster Common Stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares issued in consideration therefore upon the surrender of such Certificates in accordance with Section 2.2 hereof, without any interest thereon. If prior to the Effective Time Webster should split or combine its common stock, or pay a dividend or other distribution in such common stock, then the Exchange Ratio shall be appropriately adjusted to reflect such split, combination, dividend or distribution.

(b) At the Effective Time, all shares of NewMil Common Stock that are owned by NewMil as treasury stock and all shares of NewMil Common Stock that are owned directly or indirectly by Webster or NewMil, or any of their respective Subsidiaries, (other than shares of NewMil Common Stock held directly or indirectly in trust accounts, managed accounts and the like or otherwise held in a fiduciary capacity that are beneficially owned by third parties (any such shares, and shares of Webster Common Stock which are similarly held, whether held directly or indirectly by Webster or NewMil, as the case may be, being referred to herein as Trust Account Shares) and other than any shares of NewMil Common Stock held by Webster or NewMil or any of their respective Subsidiaries in respect of a debt previously contracted (and such shares of NewMil Common Stock, and shares of Webster Common Stock which are similarly held, whether directly or indirectly by Webster or NewMil, being referred to herein as DPC Shares)), shall be canceled and shall cease to exist and no cash or other consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor. All shares of Webster Common Stock that are owned by NewMil or any of its Subsidiaries (other than Trust Account Shares and DPC Shares) shall become treasury stock of Webster.

1.5 Options.

At the Effective Time, each option granted by NewMil to purchase shares of NewMil Common Stock which is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior thereto shall be converted automatically into a right to purchase shares of Webster Common Stock in an amount and at an exercise price determined as provided below, and otherwise subject to the terms of the 2004 Amended and Restated Stock Option and Incentive Plan for Officers and Key Employees, the 2004 Amended and Restated Stock Option Plan for Outside Directors (collectively, the NewMil Stock Plans):

(a) The number of shares of Webster Common Stock subject to the option immediately after the Effective Time shall be equal to the number of shares of NewMil Common Stock subject to the option immediately before the Effective Time, multiplied by the Exchange Ratio, provided that any fractional shares of Webster Common Stock resulting from such multiplication shall be rounded down to the nearest whole share; and

(b) The exercise price per share of Webster Common Stock under the option immediately after the Effective Time shall be equal to the exercise price per share of NewMil Common Stock under the option immediately before the Effective Time divided by the Exchange Ratio, provided that such exercise price shall be rounded up to the nearest cent.

The adjustment provided herein shall be and is intended to be effected in a manner which is consistent with Section 424(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). The duration and other terms of the option immediately after the Effective Time shall be the same as the corresponding terms in effect immediately before the Effective Time, except that all references to NewMil in the NewMil Stock Plans shall be deemed to be references to Webster. Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing option holders from exercising the same before the Effective Time in accordance with the terms thereof.

1.6 Articles of Incorporation.

At the Effective Time, the certificate of incorporation of Webster, as in effect at the Effective Time, shall be the certificate of incorporation of the Surviving Corporation.

1.7 Bylaws.

At the Effective Time, the bylaws of Webster, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, shall be the bylaws of the Surviving Corporation.

ARTICLE II

EXCHANGE PROCEDURES

2.1 Webster to Make Shares Available.

At or prior to the Effective Time, Webster shall deposit, or shall cause to be deposited, with Webster's transfer agent, American Stock Transfer and Trust Company, or such other bank, trust company or transfer agent as Webster may select and is reasonably acceptable to NewMil (the Exchange Agent), for the benefit of the holders of Certificates, certificates representing the shares of Webster Common Stock and the cash in lieu of fractional shares (such cash and certificates for shares of Webster Common Stock being hereinafter referred to as the Exchange Fund) to be issued pursuant to Section 1.4 and paid pursuant to Section 2.2(a) hereof (collectively, sometimes referred to herein as the Shares) in exchange for outstanding shares of NewMil Common Stock. There shall be a written agreement between Webster and the Exchange Agent in which the Exchange Agent expressly undertakes the obligation to issue the Merger Consideration as provided herein.

Upon surrender of a Certificate for exchange and cancellation to the Exchange

Agent, together with such letter of transmittal, duly executed, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor (x) a certificate representing that number of whole shares of Webster Common Stock to which such holder of NewMil Common Stock shall have become entitled pursuant to the provisions of Article I hereof and (y) a check representing the amount of cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any, which such holder has the right to receive in respect of the Certificate surrendered pursuant to the provisions of Article I, and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be canceled. Webster shall cause the Exchange Agent to issue checks to the holders of the Certificates within ten Business Days following receipt of the Certificate and the letter of

After the surrender of a Certificate in accordance with this Article II, the record holder thereof shall be entitled to receive any such dividends or other distributions, without any interest thereon, which theretofore had become payable with respect to shares of Webster Common Stock represented by such Certificate. No holder of an unsurrendered Certificate shall be entitled, until the surrender of such Certificate, to vote the shares of Webster Common Stock into which his NewMil Common Stock shall have been converted.

(c) If any certificate representing shares of Webster Common Stock is to be issued in a name other than that in which the Certificate surrendered in exchange therefor is registered, it shall be a condition of issuance thereof that the Certificate so surrendered shall be properly endorsed (or accompanied by an appropriate instrument of transfer) and otherwise in proper form for transfer, and that the person requesting such exchange shall pay to the Exchange Agent in advance any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the issuance of a certificate representing shares of Webster Common Stock in any name other than that of the registered holder of the Certificate surrendered, or shall establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such tax has been paid or is not payable.

(d) As of the Effective Time, there shall be no transfers on the stock transfer books of NewMil of the shares of NewMil Common Stock which were issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. If, after the Effective Time, Certificates representing such shares are presented for transfer to the Exchange Agent, they shall be canceled and exchanged for the Merger Consideration as provided in this Article II.

(e) All of the shares of NewMil Common Stock exchanged for the Merger Consideration pursuant to this Article II shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and shall cease to exist, and each Certificate previously representing any such shares of NewMil Common Stock shall thereafter represent the right to receive the Merger Consideration for each share of Common Stock represented by such Certificate.

(f) No Webster stock certificates representing fractional shares of Webster Common Stock shall be issued upon the surrender for exchange of Certificates; no dividend or distribution by Webster shall relate to such fractional share interests; and such fractional share interests will not entitle the owner thereof to vote or to any rights as a stockholder of Webster. In lieu of any such fractional shares, each holder of a Certificate who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fractional share interest in exchange for such Certificate shall receive an amount in cash equal to the product obtained by multiplying (A) the fractional share interest to which such holder (after taking into account all shares of NewMil Common Stock held by such holder at the Effective Time) would otherwise be entitled by (B) the Closing Webster Share Value.

(g) Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains unclaimed by the stockholders of NewMil for six months after the Effective Time may be returned to Webster. Any stockholders of NewMil who have not complied with this Article II prior to such return shall thereafter look only to Webster for payment of cash deliverable in respect of each share of NewMil Common Stock such stockholder holds as determined pursuant to this Agreement, in each case, without any interest thereon. Notwithstanding the foregoing, none of Webster, NewMil, the Exchange Agent or any other person shall be liable to any former holder of shares of NewMil Common Stock for any amount properly delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws.

(h) In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Webster, the posting by such person of a bond in such amount as Webster may reasonably direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent will issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the cash deliverable in respect thereof.

ARTICLE VI

ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS

6.1 Regulatory Matters.

(a) As promptly as reasonably practicable following the date hereof, Webster and NewMil shall cooperate in preparing and each shall cause to be filed with the SEC mutually acceptable Proxy Materials which shall constitute the proxy statement-prospectus relating to the matters submitted to the NewMil stockholders at the Special Meeting and Webster shall prepare and file with the SEC a registration statement on Form S-4 with respect to the issuance of Webster Common Stock in the Merger (such Form S-4, and any amendments or supplements thereto, the Registration Statement). The proxy statement-prospectus will be included as a prospectus in and will constitute a part of the Registration Statement as Webster's prospectus. Each of Webster and NewMil shall use reasonable best efforts to have the Proxy Materials cleared by the SEC and the Registration Statement declared effective by the SEC and to keep the Registration Statement effective as long as is necessary to consummate the Merger and the transactions contemplated thereby. Webster and NewMil shall, as promptly as practicable after receipt thereof, provide the other party copies of any written comments and advise the other party of any oral comments, with respect to the Proxy Materials or to the Registration Statement received from the SEC. The parties shall cooperate and provide the other with a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any amendment or supplement to the Proxy Materials and the Registration Statement prior to its filing with the SEC, respectively, and will provide each other with a copy of all such filings made with the SEC. Notwithstanding any other provision herein to the contrary, no amendment or supplement of the Proxy Materials or the Registration Statement shall be made without the approval of both parties, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Webster will use reasonable best efforts to allow NewMil to cause the Proxy Materials to be mailed to NewMil stockholders as promptly as practicable after the Registration Statement is declared effective under the Securities Act. Each party will advise the other party, promptly after it receives notice thereof, of the time when the Proxy Materials have been approved by the SEC and the Registration Statement has become effective, the issuance of any stop order, the suspension of the qualification of the Webster Common Stock issuable in connection with the Merger for offering or sale in any jurisdiction, or any request by the SEC for amendment of the Proxy Materials or any amendment of the Registration Statement. If at any time prior to the Effective Time any information relating to Webster or NewMil, or any of their respective affiliates, officers or directors, should be discovered by Webster or NewMil, which should be set forth in an amendment or supplement to any of the Registration Statement or the Proxy Materials so that any of such documents would not include any misstatement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, the party which discovers such information shall promptly notify the other party hereto and, to the extent required by law, rules or regulations, an appropriate amendment or supplement describing such information shall be promptly filed with the SEC and disseminated to the stockholders of NewMil.

(b) Webster also shall take any action (other than qualifying to do business in any jurisdiction in which it is not now so qualified or to file a general consent to service of process) required to be taken under any applicable state securities laws in connection with the Merger and each of NewMil and Webster shall furnish all information concerning it and the holders of its Common Stock as may be reasonably requested in connection with any such action.

(c) Prior to the Effective Time, Webster take such action as is necessary in order to list on the New York Stock Exchange the additional shares of Webster Common Stock to be issued by Webster in exchange for the shares of NewMil Common Stock.

(d) Webster and NewMil will prepare and file all necessary documentation, to effect all applications, notices, petitions and filings, and to obtain as promptly as practicable all permits, consents, approvals and authorizations or waivers thereof of all third parties and Governmental Entities which are necessary or advisable to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including without limitation the Merger). Webster and NewMil shall cooperate with each other to effect the foregoing. NewMil and Webster shall have the right to review in advance, and to the extent practicable each will consult the other on, in each case subject to applicable Laws relating to the exchange of information, all the information relating to NewMil or Webster, as the case may be, which appears in any filing made with, or written materials submitted to, any third party or any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be deemed to provide either party with a right to review any information provided to any Governmental Entity on a confidential basis in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby. In exercising the foregoing right, each of the parties hereto shall act reasonably and as promptly as practicable. The parties hereto agree that they will consult with each other with respect to the obtaining of all permits, consents, approvals and authorizations of all third parties and Governmental Entities necessary or advisable to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each party will keep the other apprised of the status of matters relating to contemplation of the transactions contemplated herein.

(e) Webster and NewMil shall promptly advise each other upon receiving any communication from any Governmental Entity whose consent or approval is required for consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement which causes such party to believe that there is a reasonable likelihood that any Requisite Regulatory Approval) will not be obtained or that the receipt of any such approval will be materially delayed.

6.2 Access to Information.

(a) Upon reasonable notice and subject to applicable Laws relating to the exchange of information, NewMil shall accord to the officers, employees, accountants, counsel and other representatives of Webster, access, during normal business hours during the period prior to the Effective Time, to all its properties, books, contracts, commitments and records and, during such period, NewMil shall make available to Webster (i) a copy of each report, schedule, registration statement and other document filed or received by it during such period pursuant to the requirements of federal securities laws or federal or state banking laws and (ii) all other information concerning its business, properties and personnel as Webster may reasonably request. Webster shall receive notice of all meetings of the NewMil Board of Directors and any committees thereof, and of any management committees (in all cases, at least as timely as all NewMil representatives to such meetings are provided notice). Webster will hold all such information in confidence to the extent required by, and in accordance with, the provisions of the Confidentiality Agreement.

(b) No investigation by either of the parties or their respective representatives shall relieve any other party from any breach or violation of this Agreement and shall not have any effect for the purposes of determining the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Article VII or compliance by NewMil with the covenants set forth in Section 5.1.

(c) NewMil shall provide Webster with true, correct and complete copies of all financial and other information provided to directors of NewMil in connection with meetings of their Boards of Directors or committees thereof.

6.3 Stockholder Meeting.

NewMil shall take all reasonable steps necessary to duly call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of its stockholders (the Special Meeting) within 40 days after the Registration Statement is declared effective by the SEC. The Board of Directors of NewMil shall recommend to NewMil's stockholders approval of this Agreement, including the Merger, and the transactions contemplated hereby, together with any matters incident thereto, and shall oppose any third party proposal or other action that is inconsistent with this Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby; provided, however, that NewMil shall not be obligated to so recommend or oppose, as the case may be, and the Board of Directors shall be permitted to modify or withdraw any such recommendation if previously made, if the Board of Directors of NewMil determines in accordance with the terms of this Agreement to enter into a transaction which the NewMil Board of Directors determines is a Superior Competing Transaction or that the fiduciary duties of the Board of Directors under Delaware law prohibit it from fulfilling its obligations under the preceding sentence. Notwithstanding any change in the Board of Director's recommendation, unless otherwise directed in writing by Webster, this Agreement and the Merger shall be submitted to the stockholders of NewMil at the Special Meeting for the purpose of approving the Agreement and the Merger and nothing contained herein shall be deemed to relieve NewMil of such obligation, provided, however, that if the Board of Directors of NewMil shall have changed its recommendation in accordance with this Agreement, then in submitting this Agreement to NewMil's stockholders, the Board of Directors of NewMil may submit this Agreement to the stockholders without recommendation (although the resolutions adopting this Agreement and the Plan of Merger as of the date hereof may not be rescinded or amended), in which event the Board of Directors of NewMil may communicate the basis for its lack of a recommendation to the stockholders in the Proxy Materials or an appropriate amendment or supplement thereto to the extent required by law.

6.4 Legal Conditions to Merger.

Subject to the exceptions set forth herein and applicable Law, each of Webster and NewMil shall use their reasonable best efforts (a) to take, or cause to be taken, all actions necessary, proper or advisable to comply promptly with all legal requirements which may be imposed on such party with respect to the Merger and, subject to the conditions set forth in Article VII hereof, to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and (b) to obtain (and to cooperate with the other party to obtain) any consent, authorization, order or approval of, or any exemption by, any Governmental Entity and any other third party, or any waiver thereof, which is required to be obtained by NewMil or Webster in connection with the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

6.5 Employees.

(a) To the extent permissible under the applicable provisions of the Code and ERISA and the Webster Bank Employee Investment Plan, Webster shall recognize, solely for purposes of determining eligibility and vesting under the Webster Bank Employee Investment Plan, the service of any employees of NewMil who become employees of Webster or a Webster Subsidiary as of the Effective Time and such service shall also include any service with a predecessor of NewMil to the extent that such service was credited for eligibility and vesting purposes under the NewMil Bank 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan. No service with NewMil or any predecessor of NewMil shall be taken into account for any purpose under the Webster Bank Pension Plan or the Webster Bank Employee Stock Ownership Plan.

(b) If required by Webster in writing and delivered to NewMil not less than thirty calendar days before the Closing Date, NewMil shall, on or before the day immediately preceding the Closing Date, (i) terminate the NewMil Bank 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan and any other Plan that includes a qualified cash or deferred arrangement within the meaning of Code Section 401(k) (collectively, the 401(k) Plans) and no further contributions shall be made to any 401(k) Plan after such termination or (ii) freeze the 401(k) Plans and no further contributions shall be made to any 401(k) Plan after such freeze; or (iii) cause the 401(k) Plans to be merged into the Webster 401(k) Plan and the participants of the 401(k) Plans shall be governed by the terms of the Webster 401(k) Plan. NewMil shall provide to Webster (i) certified copies of resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors of NewMil (or other such party as may be authorized, under the terms of the Plan, to amend and terminate the Plan), as applicable, authorizing such termination, freeze or merger of the 401(k) Plans and (ii) an executed amendment to each 401(k) Plan in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Webster to conform the plan document for such Plan with all applicable requirements of the Code, and regulations thereunder, with regard to termination, freeze or merger of the 401(k) Plans, or otherwise relating to the tax-qualified status of such 401(k) Plans. Webster and Webster Bank will not be obligated to make any matching or other employer contributions to any 401(k) Plan or any other plan after the Merger. Obligations of Webster or any Webster Subsidiary, with regard to any 401(k) Plan, shall be limited to those actions which are necessary to terminate, freeze or merge such 401(k) Plan (with the exception of the return of any amounts forfeited under any 401(k) Plan due to the termination of such 401(k) Plan).

(c) After the Effective Time, except to the extent that Webster or its Subsidiaries continues Plans in effect or as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, employees of NewMil who become employed by Webster or any of the Webster Subsidiaries will be eligible for employee benefits that Webster or such Webster Subsidiary, as the case may be, provides to its newly-hired employees generally and, except as otherwise required by this Agreement, on substantially the same basis as is applicable to such newly-hired employees, provided that nothing in this Agreement shall require any duplication of benefits. To the extent permitted under applicable Law and Webster's group health, life insurance and disability plans, and paid time off plans, Webster will or will cause Webster Bank to (i) give credit to employees of NewMil, with respect to the satisfaction of the limitations as to pre-existing condition exclusions, evidence of insurability requirements and waiting periods for participation and coverage that are applicable under such plans of Webster or Webster Bank, equal to the credit that any such employee had received as of the Effective Time towards the satisfaction of any such limitations and waiting periods under the comparable plans of NewMil or NewMil Subsidiaries; (ii) give employees of NewMil who become employees of Webster or a Webster Subsidiary as of the Effective Time and their beneficiaries credit for amounts paid by such employees and their beneficiaries under similar plans of NewMil and its respective affiliates in connection with annual deductible, co-insurance and maximum out-of-pocket expenses for purposes of satisfying applicable annual deductible, co-insurance and maximum out-of-pocket expenses under Webster's Plans; and (iii) waive preexisting condition limitations to the same extent waived under the corresponding Plan.

(d) NewMil full-time employees, other than any such employee who is a party to any written agreement relating to employment or severance, who (i) are not offered full-time employment with Webster as of the Closing Date or (ii) are offered and accept full-time employment with Webster as of the Closing Date and are subsequently involuntarily terminated (other than for cause) by Webster, shall receive credit for prior employment with NewMil as if such Person was employed by Webster for such period of time in accordance with the terms of the Webster Salary Continuation Policy, attached hereto as Schedule 6.5(d), and shall be eligible to receive severance benefits pursuant to such policy, excluding severance payments with respect to annual incentive or any other bonuses. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, NewMil employees who are offered comparable full-time employment with Webster as of the Closing Date, but do not accept such employment shall not be eligible for severance.

(a) In the event of any threatened or actual claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal or administrative, in which any Person who is now, or has been at any time prior to the date of this Agreement, or who becomes prior to the Effective Time, a director or officer or employee of NewMil (the Indemnified Parties) is, or is threatened to be, made a party based in whole or in part on, or arising in whole or in part out of, or pertaining to (i) the fact that he is or was a director, officer or employee of NewMil or any of their respective predecessors or (ii) this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby, whether in any case asserted or arising before or after the Effective Time, the parties hereto agree to cooperate and defend against and respond thereto to the extent permitted by applicable Law and the articles of incorporation and bylaws of NewMil as in effect on the date hereof. It is understood and agreed that after the Effective Time, Webster shall indemnify and hold harmless, as and to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law or the articles of incorporation and bylaws of Webster as in effect on the date hereof (subject to change as required by law), each such Indemnified Party against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs, expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees and expenses in advance of the final disposition of any claim, suit, proceeding or investigation to each Indemnified Party to the fullest extent permitted by law upon receipt of any undertaking required by applicable Law), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement in connection with any such threatened or actual claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, and in the event of any such threatened or actual claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (whether asserted or arising before or after the Effective Time), the Indemnified Parties may retain counsel reasonably satisfactory to Webster; provided, however, that (1) Webster shall have the right to assume the defense thereof and upon such assumption Webster shall not be liable to any Indemnified Party for any legal expenses of other counsel or any other expenses subsequently incurred by any Indemnified Party in connection with the defense thereof, except that if Webster elects not to assume such defense or counsel for the Indemnified Parties reasonably advises the Indemnified Parties that there are issues which raise conflicts of interest between Webster and the Indemnified Parties, the Indemnified Parties may retain counsel reasonably satisfactory to Webster, and Webster shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for the Indemnified Parties, (2) Webster shall be obligated pursuant to this Section 6.6(a) to pay for only one firm of counsel for each Indemnified Party, and (3) Webster shall not be liable for any settlement effected without its prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed). Webster shall have no obligation to advance expenses incurred in connection with a threatened or pending action, suit or proceeding in advance of final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding, unless (i) Webster would be permitted to advance such expenses pursuant to the DGCL and (ii) Webster receives an undertaking by the Indemnified Party to repay such amount if it is determined that such party is not entitled to be indemnified by Webster pursuant to the DGCL. Any Indemnified Party wishing to claim indemnification under this Section 6.6, upon learning of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, shall notify Webster thereof; provided, however, that the failure to so notify shall not affect the obligations of Webster under this Section 6.6 except to the extent such failure to notify materially prejudices Webster. Webster's obligations under this Section 6.6 continue in full force and effect for a period of six years from the Effective Time; provided, however, that all rights to indemnification in respect of any claim asserted or made within such period shall continue until the final disposition of such claim. Webster shall require any successor to expressly assume its obligations under this Section 6.6(a).

(b) Webster shall purchase for the benefit of the persons serving as officers and directors of NewMil immediately prior to the Effective Time and who are, as of the date of this Agreement, individually covered by a directors' and officers' liability insurance policy, a similar directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage for at least three years after the Effective Time, under either NewMil's policy in existence on the date hereof, or under a policy of similar coverage and amounts containing terms and conditions which are generally not less advantageous than Webster's current policy, and in either case, with respect to acts or omissions occurring prior to the Effective Time which were committed by such officers and directors in their capacity as such; provided however, that in no event shall Webster be required to expend pursuant to this Section 6.6(b) more than an amount equal to 300% of the current annual amount expended by NewMil to maintain or procure insurance coverage pursuant hereto. In connection with the foregoing, NewMil agrees to provide such insurer or substitute insurer with such representations as such insurer may reasonably request with respect to the reporting of any prior claims.

6.7 Subsequent Interim and Annual Financial Statements.

NewMil will deliver to Webster its Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Annual Reports on Form 10-K contemporaneously with their filing with the SEC.

6.8 Additional Agreements.

In case at any time after the Effective Time any further action is necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this Agreement, or to vest the Surviving Corporation or the Surviving Bank with full title to all properties, assets, rights, approvals, immunities and franchises of any of the parties to the Merger, or the constituent banks to the Bank Merger, as the case may be, the proper officers and directors of each party to this Agreement and Webster's and NewMil's Subsidiaries shall take all such necessary action as may be reasonably requested by Webster.

6.9 Advice of Changes.

Webster and NewMil shall promptly advise the other party of any change or event that, individually or in the aggregate, has or would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on it or to cause or constitute a material breach of any of its respective representations, warranties or covenants contained herein. From time to time prior to the Effective Time, each party will promptly supplement or amend its disclosure schedule delivered in connection with the execution of this Agreement to reflect any matter which, if existing, occurring or known at the date of this Agreement, would have been required to be set forth or described in such disclosure schedule or which is necessary to correct any information in such disclosure schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby. Assuming that NewMil delivers to Webster the Section 16 Information (as defined below) in a timely fashion, the Webster Board, or a committee of non-employee directors thereof (as such term is defined for purposes of Rule 16b-3(d) under the Exchange Act), shall adopt a resolution providing that the receipt by NewMil Insiders of Webster Common Stock in exchange for shares of NewMil Common Stock and of Webster stock options in exchange for NewMil stock options, in each case pursuant to the Merger and to the extent such securities are listed in the Section 16 Information, are intended to be exempt from liability pursuant to Section 16(b) under the Exchange Act. Section 16 Information shall mean information accurate in all material respects regarding NewMil Insiders, the number of shares of NewMil Common Stock beneficially owned by each such NewMil Insider and expected to be exchanged for Webster Common Stock in the Merger and the number and description of NewMil stock options beneficially owned by each such NewMil Insider and expected to be converted into Webster stock options in connection with the Merger. NewMil Insiders shall mean those officers and directors of NewMil who are subject to reporting requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act and who will be subject to such requirements in their capacity as officers and/or directors of Webster following the Merger.

This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the parties hereto.

8.4 Extension; Waiver.

APPENDIX B

[KEEFE, BRUYETTE & WOODS, INC. LETTERHEAD]

The Board of Directors
NewMil Bancorp, Inc.
19 Main Street
New Milford, CT 06776

Members of the Board:

You have requested our opinion as investment bankers as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of NewMil Bancorp (NewMil) of the consideration offered in the proposed merger (the Merger) of NewMil into Webster Financial Corporation (Webster), pursuant to the Agreement and Plan of Merger, between NewMil and Webster (the Agreement). Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, each outstanding share of NewMil common stock, par value $0.50 per share (the Common Shares) will be converted into a certain number of shares of Webster common stock, par value of $0.01 per share, determined by dividing $41.00 by the Base Period Trading Price (as defined in the Agreement) for Webster common stock, computed to four decimal places (the Exchange Ratio). If the Base Period Trading Price exceeds $50.25, the Exchange Ratio will be fixed at 0.8159; if the Base Period Trading Price is less than $44.85, the Exchange Ratio will be fixed at 0.9142. (the Merger Consideration).

Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc., as part of its investment banking business, is continually engaged in the valuation of banks, bank holding companies, thrifts, and thrift holding companies and their securities in connection with acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for various other purposes. As specialists in the securities of banking companies, we have experience in, and knowledge of, the valuation of the banking enterprises. In the ordinary course of our business as a broker-dealer, we may, from time to time purchase securities from, and sell securities to, NewMil and Webster, and as a market maker in securities, we may from time to time have a long or short position in, and buy or sell, debt or equity securities of NewMil and Webster for our own account and for the accounts of our customers. To the extent we have any such position as of the date of this opinion it has been disclosed to NewMil. We have acted exclusively for the Board of Directors of NewMil in rendering this fairness opinion and will receive a fee from NewMil for our services.

In connection with this opinion, we have reviewed, analyzed and relied upon material bearing upon the financial and operating condition of NewMil and Webster and the Merger, including among other things, the following: (i) the Agreement; (ii) the Annual Reports to Stockholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the three years ended December 31, 2005 of NewMil and Webster; (iii) certain interim reports to stockholders and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of NewMil and Webster and certain other communications from NewMil and Webster to their respective stockholders; and (iv) other financial information concerning the businesses and operations of NewMil and Webster furnished to us by NewMil and Webster for purposes of our analysis. We have also held discussions with senior management of NewMil and Webster regarding the past and current business operations, regulatory relations, financial condition and future prospects of their respective companies and such other matters as we have deemed relevant to our inquiry. In addition, we have compared certain financial and stock market information for NewMil and Webster with similar information for certain other companies the securities of which are publicly traded, reviewed the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry and performed such other studies and analyses as we considered appropriate.

In conducting our review and arriving at our opinion, we have relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information provided to us or publicly available and we have not assumed any responsibility for independently verifying the accuracy or completeness of any such information. We have relied upon the management of NewMil and Webster as to the reasonableness and achievability of the financial and operating forecasts and projections (and the assumptions and bases therefore) provided to us, and we have assumed that such forecasts and projections reflect the best currently available estimates and judgments of such managements and that such forecasts and projections will be realized in the amounts and in the time periods currently estimated by such managements. We are not experts in the independent verification of the adequacy of allowances for loan and lease losses and we have assumed, with your consent, that the aggregate allowances for loan and lease losses for NewMil and Webster are adequate to cover such losses. In rendering our opinion, we have not made or obtained any evaluations or appraisals of the property of NewMil or Webster, nor have we examined any individual credit files.

We have considered such financial and other factors as we have deemed appropriate under the circumstances, including, among others, the following: (i) the historical and current financial position and results of operations of NewMil and Webster; (ii) the assets and liabilities of NewMil and Webster; and (iii) the nature and terms of certain other merger transactions involving financial institutions. We have also taken into account our assessment of general economic, market and financial conditions and our experience in other transactions, as well as our experience in securities valuation and knowledge of the banking industry generally. Our opinion is necessarily based upon conditions as they exist and can be evaluated on the date hereof and the information made available to us through the date hereof.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion that, as of the date hereof, the exchange ratio in the Merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of NewMil.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Keefe, Bruyette & Woods, Inc.

PART II

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Reference is made to the provisions of Article 6 of Webster's certificate of incorporation, and the provisions of Article IX of the Webster's bylaws, as amended.

Webster is a Delaware corporation subject to the applicable indemnification provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Corporation Law"). Section 145 of the Delaware Corporation Law provides for the indemnification, under certain circumstances, of persons who are or were directors, officers, employees or agents of Webster, or are or were serving at the request of Webster in such a capacity with another business organization or entity, against expenses, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement in actions, suits or proceedings, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, brought or threatened against or involving such persons because of such person's service in any such capacity. In the case of actions brought by or in the right of Webster, Section 145 provides for indemnification only of expenses, and only upon a determination by the Court of Chancery or the court in which such action or suit was brought that, in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses.

Webster's bylaws provide for indemnification of directors, officers, trustees, employees and agents of Webster, and for those serving in such roles with other business organizations or entities, in the event that such person was or is made a party to (or is threatened to be made a party to) any civil, criminal, administrative, arbitration or investigative action, suit, or proceeding (other than an action by or in the right of Webster) by reason of the fact that such person is or was serving in such a capacity for or on behalf of Webster. Webster will indemnify any such person against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement if such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of Webster, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. Similarly, Webster shall indemnify such persons for expenses reasonably incurred and settlements reasonably paid in actions, suits, or proceedings brought by or in the right of Webster, if such person acted in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of Webster; provided, however, that no indemnification shall be made against expenses in respect of any claim, issue, or matter as to which such person is adjudged to be liable to Webster or against amounts paid in settlement unless and only to the extent that there is a determination made by the appropriate party set forth in the bylaws that the person to be indemnified is, in view of all the circumstances of the case, fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses or amounts paid in settlement. In addition, Webster may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, trustee, employee, or agent of Webster or is acting in such capacity for another business organization or entity at Webster's request, against any liability asserted against such person and incurred in such capacity, or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not Webster would have the power or obligation to indemnify him against such liability under the provisions of Article IX of Webster's bylaws.

Article 6 of Webster's second restated certificate of incorporation provides that no director will be personally liable to Webster or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of a fiduciary duty as a director other than liability for any breach of such director's duty of loyalty to Webster or its stockholders, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, for any payment of a dividend or approval of a stock repurchase that is illegal under Section 174 of the Delaware Corporation Law, or for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

The foregoing indemnity and insurance provisions have the effect of reducing directors and officers exposure to personal liability for actions taken in connection with their respective positions.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of Webster pursuant to the foregoing provisions, Webster has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by Webster of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of Webster in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, Webster will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question of whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

Table of Contents
