Item 8.01. Other Events.

On December 4, 2006, Dana Corporation (Dana) issued a news release announcing that it has entered into a stock and asset purchase agreement with MAHLE GmbH for the sale of Dana's non-core engine hard parts business. The text of the release is set out in the attached Exhibit 99.1. As announced in the release, the agreement provides for MAHLE and certain of its affiliates to acquire the equity and tangible and intangible assets of the global operations comprising Dana's engine hard parts business from Dana and certain of its affiliates for an aggregate price of approximately $157 million. The price includes approximately $98 million in cash, subject to usual adjustments at closing, and the buyers' assumption of certain liabilities related to the business. In connection with the transaction, the parties will also enter into ancillary agreements, including a transition services agreement and a distribution agreement relating to Victor Reinz® branded products. The transaction is subject to the approval of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, which has jurisdiction over Dana's bankruptcy case, In re Dana Corporation, et al., Case No. 06-10354 (BRL); government regulatory approvals; and customary closing conditions. Dana has filed a motion with the Bankruptcy Court seeking approval of procedures that will provide an opportunity for competitive bids on the business before the sale is approved by the Court. While there can be no assurances, Dana expects to complete the bidding process and secure the regulatory approvals in time for the sale to close in the first quarter of 2007.
