ITEM 9. REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE.

Aviall, Inc. adds the following paragraph and table at the end of the section "Liquidity and Capital Resources - Cash Flow" as disclosed in its Form 8-K dated June 13, 2003:

In 2003, based on management's analysis of current information regarding anticipated earnings, expenses, taxes, interest and related expense and depreciation and amortization, we expect our net earnings will be approximately $30 million and our EBITDA will be approximately $85 million.

EBITDA represents earnings from continuing operations before depreciation, amortization, interest and related expense and tax expense. In no event should EBITDA be considered as an alternative to net earnings or any other GAAP measure as an indicator of our performance, nor should EBITDA be considered as an alternative to cash flows provided by operating activities as an indicator of cash flows or a measure of liquidity. We believe that EBITDA is a useful measure, along with other measurements under GAAP, in evaluating our financial performance and our ability to service our debt and is a conventionally used financial indicator. In addition, management uses EBITDA as a financial measure to evaluate our operating performance.

The following table reconciles our forecast of EBITDA for 2003 to our forecast of net earnings for 2003:

	FORECAST FOR YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 2003 ----- (IN MILLIONS)
Net earnings	$ 30
Plus:
Income tax expense	17
Interest and related expense	23
Depreciation and amortization expense	15

EBITDA	$ 85 =====

The foregoing forecast does not include the impact of our proposed $200.0 million senior notes offering. However, we do not expect our forecast of EBITDA for 2003 to be impacted by our proposed $200.0 million senior notes offering.
