Dear Lord Cromer,

City of London Investment Management Company Limited ("City of London") is, on behalf of our clients, an investor in the JPMorgan China Region Fund, Inc. (the "Fund"). We are writing today in response to the Fund's announcement, released earlier today, that the anticipated merger between the Fund and the Korea Equity Fund, Inc. has reached an impasse and that discussions between the two Funds have been suspended.

Our view is that this turn of events is a great shame. We believe that provisions of the Maryland Business Combination Act prevented what would otherwise have been a very positive transaction for all shareholders of both Funds. These provisions cast a pall over the U.S. closed-end fund industry.

Both Funds elected years ago to voluntarily adopt the provisions of the Act. Those decisions led directly to the current situation. The provisions that prevented the merger from progressing were not uncovered for several months. We believe this outcome reflects the complexity of the Act and is a classic example of an unintended consequence.

At this point, shareholders will need to reassess the situation. Another shareholder had initially submitted a proposal to terminate the investment management contract. In good faith, believing that the merger between the two Funds would proceed as announced, we voted against that proposal. Now, we currently intend to submit our own proposal to terminate the investment management agreement at the earliest possible opportunity.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Bannister
Director, Corporate Governance
