VODAFONE AGREES TO ACQUIRE CONTROL OF HUTCH ESSAR IN INDIA

On 11 February 2007, Vodafone Group Plc (Vodafone) announced that it has agreed to acquire a controlling interest in Hutchison Essar Limited (Hutch Essar), a leading operator in the fast growing Indian mobile market, via its subsidiary Vodafone International Holdings B.V. Vodafone also announced that it has signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with Bharti Airtel Limited (Bharti) on infrastructure sharing and that it has granted an option to a Bharti group company to buy its 5.6% direct interest in Bharti.

The key highlights are:

Acquisition of a controlling interest in Hutch Essar

Vodafone announced it has agreed to acquire companies that control a 67% interest in Hutch Essar from Hutchison Telecom International Limited (HTIL) for a cash consideration of US$11.1 billion (£5.7 billion)

Vodafone will assume net debt of approximately US$2.0 billion (£1.0 billion)¹

The transaction implies an enterprise value of US$18.8 billion (£9.6 billion) for Hutch Essar

The acquisition meets Vodafone's stated financial investment criteria

Infrastructure sharing MOU with Bharti

Whilst Hutch Essar and Bharti will continue to compete independently, Vodafone and Bharti have entered into a MOU relating to a comprehensive range of infrastructure sharing options in India between Hutch Essar and Bharti

Infrastructure sharing is expected to reduce the total cost of delivering telecommunication services, especially in rural areas, enabling both parties to expand network coverage more quickly and to offer more affordable services to a broader base of the Indian population

Local partners

The Essar Group (Essar) currently holds a 33% interest in Hutch Essar and Vodafone will make an offer to buy this stake at the equivalent price per share it has agreed with HTIL

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

Vodafone's arrangements with the other existing minority partners will result in a shareholder structure post acquisition that meets the requirements of India's foreign ownership rules

10% economic interest in Bharti

Vodafone has granted a Bharti group company an option, subject to completion of the Hutch Essar acquisition, to buy its 5.6% listed direct interest in Bharti for US$1.6 billion (£0.8 billion) which compares with the acquisition price of US$0.8 billion

If the option is not exercised, Vodafone would be able to sell this 5.6% interest

Vodafone will retain its 4.4% indirect interest in Bharti, underpinning its ongoing relationship

Commenting on the transaction, Arun Sarin, Chief Executive of Vodafone, said:

We are delighted to be deepening our involvement in the Indian mobile market with the full range of Vodafone's products, services and brand. This announcement is clear evidence of how we are executing our strategy of developing our presence in emerging markets. We have concluded this transaction within our stated financial investment criteria and we are confident that this will prove to be an excellent investment for our shareholders. Hutch Essar is an impressive, well run company that will fit well into the Vodafone Group.

Sir John Bond, Chairman of Vodafone, said:

India is destined to become one of the largest and most important mobile markets in the world and this acquisition will enable our shareholders to benefit from our increased investment in this market. We also look forward to playing our part in delivering the significant economic and social benefits which mobile telephony can bring to the people of India.

Principal benefits

The principal benefits to Vodafone of the transaction are:

Accelerates Vodafone's move to a controlling position in a leading operator in the attractive and fast growing Indian mobile market

India is the world's most populated country with over 1.1 billion inhabitants

India is the fastest growing major mobile market in the world, with around 6.5 million monthly net adds in the last quarter

India benefits from strong economic fundamentals with expected real GDP growth in high single digits

Hutch Essar delivers a strong existing platform in India

nationwide presence with recent expansion to 22 out of 23 licence areas (circles)

23.3 million customers as at 31 December 2006, equivalent to a 16.4% nationwide market share

year-on-year revenue growth of 51% and an EBITDA margin of 33% in the six months to 30 June 2006

experienced and highly respected management team

Driving additional value in Hutch Essar

accelerated network investment driving penetration and market share growth infrastructure sharing MOU with Bharti plans to reduce substantially network opex and capex potential for Hutch Essar to bring Vodafone's innovative products and services to the Indian market, including Vodafone's focus on total communication solutions for customers

Vodafone and Hutch Essar both expected to benefit from increased purchasing power and the sharing of best practices

Increases Vodafone's presence in higher growth emerging markets

Operational plan for Hutch Essar

Vodafone will execute an operational plan to build on the strengths of Hutch Essar in order to capture the Indian telecom growth opportunity.

Key strategic objectives

In the context of penetration that is expected to exceed 40% by FY2012, Vodafone is targeting a 20-25% market share within the same timeframe. The operational plan focuses on the following objectives:

Expanding distribution and network coverage

Lowering the total cost of network ownership

Growing market share

Driving a customer focused approach

Site sharing

The MOU outlines a process for achieving a more extensive level of site sharing and covers both new and existing sites. Around one third of Hutch Essar's current sites are already shared with other Indian mobile operators and Vodafone is planning that around two thirds of total sites will be shared in the longer term.

The MOU recognises the potential for achieving further efficiencies by sharing infrastructure with other mobile operators in India.

The MOU envisages the potential, subject to regulatory approval and commercial development, to extend the agreement to sharing of active infrastructure such as radio access network and access transmission.

Financial assumptions

As part of the operational plan, Vodafone expects to increase capital investment, particularly in the first two to three years, with capex as a percentage of revenues reducing to the low teens by FY2012. Cash tax rates of 11-14% for FY2008-12 are expected due to various tax incentives and will trend towards approximately 30-34% in the long term.

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

As a result of this operational plan, the transaction meets Vodafone's stated financial investment criteria, with a ROIC exceeding the local risk adjusted cost of capital in the fifth year and an IRR of around 14%.

Financial impact on Vodafone

The transaction enhances Vodafone's growth profile on a pro forma statutory basis, with Vodafone's revenue CAGR increasing by around one and a half percentage points over the three year period to 31 March 2010.

The transaction is expected to be broadly neutral to adjusted earnings per share in the first year post acquisition and accretive thereafter excluding the impact of intangible asset amortisation for the transaction. Including this impact, the transaction is expected to be approximately seven percent dilutive to adjusted earnings per share in the first year post acquisition and neutral by the fifth year.²

The Board remains committed to its longer term targeted dividend payout of 60% of adjusted earnings per share. Furthermore, the Board expects the dividend per share to be at least maintained in the short term.

The acquisition of HTIL's controlling interest in Hutch Essar will be financed through debt and existing cash reserves and Vodafone expects pro forma net debt (i.e. net debt adjusted for the impact of the Hutch Essar transaction) of around £22.8-23.3 billion³ at 31 March 2007 as a result of this transaction. For more information on the calculation of pro forma net debt, see Important information .

Further transaction details

The transaction is expected to close in the second quarter of calendar year 2007 and is conditional on Indian regulatory approval.

HTIL's existing partners, who between them hold a 15% interest in Hutch Essar, have agreed to retain their holdings and become partners with Vodafone. Vodafone's interest will be 52% following completion and Vodafone will exercise full operational control over the business. If Essar decides to accept Vodafone's offer, these local minority partners between them will increase their combined interest in Hutch Essar to 26%.

In the event that the Bharti group company exercises its option over Vodafone's 5.6% direct interest in Bharti, consideration will be received up to 18 months after completion of the Hutch Essar acquisition.

Vodafone will continue to hold its 26% interest in Bharti Infotel Private Limited (BIPL), which is equivalent to an indirect 4.4% economic interest in Bharti. Vodafone will now account for its entire interest as an investment.

UBS Investment Bank acted as financial adviser to Vodafone.

² Including the estimated effect of acquired intangible asset amortisation of approximately £0.3-0.4 billion per annum initially, reducing to £0.25-0.35 billion as shorter lived assets become fully amortised

³ Assuming closing of the transaction on 31 March 2007, no proceeds from the sale of the 5.6% listed direct interest in Bharti and no material movement in foreign exchange since September 2006

About Vodafone
