VODAFONE'S NEW TELECOMS MANAGEMENT SERVICE - SIMPLIFYING THE MANAGEMENT OF FIXED AND MOBILE TELECOMS SERVICES

Vodafone Global Enterprise – the division of Vodafone which manages the communications needs of the largest multinational companies worldwide – announces the launch of Vodafone telecoms management, a new service which combines and simplifies the management of fixed and mobile telecoms.

Vodafone telecoms management is a fully hosted service designed to remove the operational complexity of managing the telecoms environment for multinational businesses.

Underpinned by Vodafone's global support and service level agreements, the service will give multinationals greater visibility and management control over their telecoms expenditure, as well as improve the quality of service delivered to employees.

The offering will also deliver a single, online management view of both their fixed and mobile telecoms services. Vodafone consultants will work with customers to assess and scope their current telecoms vendors and services, then develop a management plan aimed to deliver greater efficiency and reduce costs.

Additional key features include:

- A single online view of spend across all telecoms providers
- Full visibility of telecoms assets such as mobile and fixed devices
- Ability to control and manage mobile devices

Edgar Filing: VODAFONE GROUP PUBLIC LTD CO - Form 6-K

- Capability to secure, lock and remotely wipe mobile devices
- Visibility of telecoms vendor contracts and the current contract status

The online management portal is tailored to each organisation to ensure that it interfaces with their existing company processes. For example, the service provides an employee self-service portal, enabling employees to order new mobile devices and update their profiles. The process of ordering a device and the type of device that an employee is allowed to order will be in line with each company's set approval guidelines, policies and work flows.

In this tough economic environment our customers are urgently seeking ways to reduce cost and simplify their processes, said Nick Jeffery, Director, Vodafone Global Enterprise. Very few global organisations have a complete and accurate view of their fixed and mobile telecoms landscape. Our telecoms management service has been developed in direct response to this need.

- Quick and easy to install plugs into any home broadband line
- First of its kind in Europe exclusively for Vodafone customers

A small plug-in box that will significantly improve customers' mobile phone signal in their homes has been announced today by Vodafone UK.

Available online and in store from the 1 July, the Vodafone Access Gateway service is the first of its kind anywhere in Europe. A neat box, similar in size to a router, plugs straight into any home broadband line to bring customers improved and more reliable 3 G coverage indoors.

Quick and easy to install, the Gateway works with all 3G handsets and can support up to four voice calls at any one time. Customers will no longer need to worry about missed calls on their mobiles due to inconsistent indoor coverage. With the new Vodafone Access Gateway customers will be able to take advantage of the full range of Vodafone services via their handset anywhere in the home.

The Gateway is available from free or as part of an inclusive price plan from as little as £15 a month. It is also available as a one off purchase for £160 or a monthly charge from as little as £5.

The Vodafone Access Gateway will boost indoor mobile phone coverage for customers who today, find they need to move around the rooms in their home to get a consistent signal strength, says Ian Shepherd, Consumer Director, Vodafone UK. We are committed to delivering the best, most reliable network and this is another step towards maintaining a seamless service.

The Vodafone Access Gateway can be ordered from July 1 at vodafone.co.uk/gateway or in Vodafone stores and is delivered to the customer. Customers then register online the mobile numbers they want linked to the Vodafone Access Gateway and within 24 hours the full service will be ready and working.
