 SELECTED NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 March 31, 2005

Note 1. Condensed Financial Statements:

The condensed balance sheet as of March 31, 2005, the statement of operations and cash flows for the periods ended March 31, 2005 and 2004 have been prepared by the Company, without audit. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (which include normal recurring adjustments and adjustments to revenues for compliance with the company's revenue recognition policy) necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and changes in cash flows at March 31, 2005 and for all periods presented have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's December 31, 2004 audited financial statements filed on form 10-KSB. The results of operations for the period ended March 31, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full year.

Note 2. Revenue Recognition:

The Company derives revenues from the sale of systems, license and maintenance and services.

System sales: Revenue from systems that have been demonstrated to meet customer specifications during installation is recognized when the product has been installed, title and risk of loss have transferred to the customer and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

System sales are accounted for as multiple-element arrangements. In transactions that include multiple products and/or services, the Company allocates the revenue to each element based on their relative fair value (or in the absence of fair value, the residual method) and recognizes the associated revenue when all revenue recognition criteria have been met for each element.

License and maintenance revenue: Software and maintenance revenue are recognized ratably over the contract period.

Service revenue: Service revenue is recognized after the services are performed and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

Note 3. Customer Concentration: 8 Casinos customers comprised 98% of the Company's revenues from installation and licensing fees from the installation of the Company's Table Trac(TM) system through March 2005.

ITEM 2: MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Business Overview:

Table Trac, Inc.'s patented real-time management system product automates and monitors the operations of casino floors. The Table Trac(TM) system (patent number 5,957,776) is available for an installation and monthly license fee from the Company. The system is operating in 8 Midwest casinos. The Company's primary mission is to provide a high level of support for its customers systems in the field and to promote its product lines to new casinos. The Company has completed R & D and testing which expands its product line to provide complete casino floor accounting & tracking. Two of these systems were sold in the first quarter accounting for a portion of the recognized revenue and making up the entirety of the defferred revenues as of March 31, 2005.

Results of Operations:

Revenues in the quarter ended March 31 2005 decreased to $165,745 from $274,390 in 2004 . In 2004 there were 4 system installations and increased license and maintenance fees where 2005 included 50% of a single system installation along with license and maintenance fees. Cost of sales in the quarter ended March 31 decreased in 2005 to $17,735 from $18,885 in 2004. Most of the cost of sales total is associated with the system installation that occurred in the first quarter 2005. Operating expenses in the quarter ended March 31 increased in 2005, to $114,401 from $81,449 in 2004. The major changes were increased payroll, employee benefit and sales expenses in 2005 compared to 2004. The result was that there was a gain of $33,608 in the first quarter of 2005 compared with a gain of $174,056 in the first quarter 2004. The net gain per share was $0.01 in the first quarter 2005, with a net diluted gain per share of $0.01 compared to a net gain per share of $0.04 in the first quarter 2004.

Liquidity and Capital Resources:

There are no known trends, events or uncertainties that are likely to have a material impact on the short or long-term liquidity. The primary source of liquidity in both the short term and the long term will be sales. Management has been able to manage its expenses and cash flows for the swings in cash flows the Company has experienced so that monthly obligations are now by revenues from existing contracts. Management believes that the Company has adequate cash to meet its obligations and continue operations for both existing customer contracts and ongoing product development.

Safe Harbor:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides "safe harbor" for forward-looking statements. Certain information included in this Form 10-QSB and other materials filed or to be filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (as well as information included in oral statements or other written statements made or to be made by the Company) contain statements that are forward-looking, such as statements relating to plans for sales and marketing, liquidity, and other business activities and developments. Such forward-looking information involves important risks and uncertainties that could significantly affect anticipated results in the future and, accordingly, such results may differ from those expressed in any forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of the Company. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, dependence on a limited number of customers, general economic conditions, or changes in federal or state laws or regulations.
