Item 1.01

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On April 2, 2013, RiceBran Technologies (the “Company”) and RBT PRO LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (“RBT PRO”), entered into a series of agreements described below with various affiliates of Wilmar International Limited (“Wilmar”) to develop rice bran and its derivatives in China for human food ingredient and animal nutrition applications.

As previously disclosed, on March 14, 2013, the Company, RBT PRO and DSM New Business Development B.V. (“DSM”) entered into a License Agreement pursuant to which DSM granted RBT PRO a non-exclusive, royalty free, perpetual license to certain intellectual property owned by DSM developed under the Joint Research and Development Agreement (the “DSM Intellectual Property”). On April 2, 2013, RBT PRO entered into a Membership Interest Purchase Agreement (“MIPA”) with WONA Inc., an affiliate of Wilmar (“WONA”), whereby WONA agreed to purchase 50% of the membership interests in RBT PRO in exchange for $1,200,000 which funds shall be used by RBT PRO to pay DSM for the costs of development under the Joint Research and Development Agreement.

In connection with the MIPA, RBT PRO granted (i) Wilmar (Shanghai) Biotechnology Research Development Center Co., Ltd. (“WBRDC”) a sublicense to the DSM Intellectual Property for use throughout China, and (ii) the Company a sublicense to the DSM Intellectual Property for use worldwide, excluding China. Also in connection with the MIPA, Yihai Kerry (Harbin) Oils, Grains & Foodstuffs Industries Co., Ltd., an affiliate of Wilmar, agreed to purchase from the Company two proprietary rice bran stabilization extruders for use in China for a total purchase price of $500,000.

The Company and WBRDC also entered into a Cross License Agreement whereby (i) RBT agreed to license to WBRDC all of its intellectual property rights, know-how and current and future improvements, developments and modifications (“Intellectual Property”) with respect to the field of processing of rice bran and its derivatives for use in animal nutrition, human food ingredients, nutritional supplements, functional foods and pharmaceutical applications (the “Field”) for use in China, and (ii) WBRDC agreed to license to the Company its Intellectual Property with respect to the Field based on the Intellectual Property licensed to WBRDC under the Cross License for use worldwide, excluding China and (iii) WBRDC agreed to license to the Company its Intellectual Property with respect to the Field not based on the Intellectual Property licensed to WBRDC under the Cross License for use worldwide, excluding certain countries in Asia.

Finally, in connection with the MIPA, RBT PRO and WONA agreed to amend the Limited Liability Company Agreement of RBT PRO (the “LLC Agreement”) to provide, among other things, the right of RBT to participate in any new business of WONA or its affiliates that develop new products relating to rice bran or derivatives of rice bran using the Intellectual Property licensed to WBRDC by allowing RBT to purchase 45% of the capital stock of any entity established for such new business. If RBT declines its right to purchase 45% of the capital stock of any such new entity, RBT will have the option to purchase 25% of any such new entity within two years from receiving notice from WONA regarding the formation of any such new entity. The exercise price for the option shall equal 25% of the capital investment made in such entity.
