SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

Labor Contract Statutes

Texas

Texas law does not contain a provision addressing the protection of employees in the event of a merger, consolidation, sale of assets or business combination.

Delaware

Delaware law contains a provision designed to protect employees after a merger, consolidation, sale of assets or business combination by requiring that no collective bargaining or employment contract be terminated or impaired prior to the business combination, unless agreed upon by all parties to the contract.

In anticipation of the potential reincorporation to Delaware, the Company’s Corporate Governance Principles have been amended to include the language set forth below:

“Treatment of Labor Contract Statutes

The Company will not enter into any employment contracts that cover, or collective bargaining agreements that include, employees providing services in or based in the State of Delaware, unless any such contract or agreement provides that the parties agree to a termination of the contract or agreement upon a business combination.”
