Barclays announces agreement for the disposal of vendor finance businesses to CIT

Barclays Bank PLC ("Barclays") has agreed to sell certain of its vendor finance businesses in the United Kingdom and Germany ("the vendor finance businesses") to CIT Group Inc. ("CIT") of the United States of America.

The vendor finance businesses operate within Barclays Asset & Sales Finance, which is the specialist commercial asset finance provider within UK Business Banking. The vendor finance businesses provide asset finance to customers of manufacturers and suppliers in the industrial equipment and technology markets throughout the UK and Germany.

The gross assets of the vendor finance businesses to be sold amounted to approximately GBP1.1 billion as at 30th June 2006, about 12% of the gross assets of Barclays Asset & Sales Finance. Approximately 60% of the gross assets to be sold were originated in the UK with the balance in Germany. As part of the acquisition CIT will also take on the vendor finance sales and administration staff in the UK and Germany. Barclays will retain its successful controlling interest in Iveco Finance.

The completion of the sale is conditional upon receiving clearance from the relevant regulatory authorities and other customary closing conditions. The transaction is expected to close at the end of 2006.

Naguib Kheraj, Group Finance Director, Barclays PLC, said: "This transaction leaves Barclays Asset & Sales Finance well positioned for its future development. Significant investment will be focused on its core asset and sales finance business including the ongoing expansion of its successful direct leasing business. The future strategy of the vendor finance businesses is now best pursued within a specialised leading global provider of asset finance solutions."

Jeffrey M. Peek, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of CIT said: "We are very pleased with this transaction as it represents a major growth opportunity within a core business, accelerates our international expansion and solidifies our position as a leading provider of global vendor finance solutions."
