Issued: Friday 20 April 2012, London UK - LSE Announcement

GlaxoSmithKline reaches agreement to divest non-core over-the-counter (OTC) brands in international markets for £164 million

- Announcement follows divestment of brands in USA, Canada & Europe

GlaxoSmithKline plc (GSK) today announced that it has reached agreement to divest the previously identified non-core OTC brands in its international markets to Aspen Pharmacare Holdings Limited (Aspen) for £164 million in cash.

The brands being divested include Phillips MOM, Solpadeine, Dequadin, Cartia and Zantac, and generated sales of approximately £60 million in 2011. It is expected the divestment will complete in Q2 2012, subject to regulatory approvals.

The net cash proceeds from the transaction are expected to be approximately £135 million. These are expected to be returned to shareholders during 2012.

Net profit on this disposal in 2012 (after deducting transaction costs and a profit deferral of approximately £25 million pre-tax arising because Aspen is an associate of GSK) is estimated to be approximately £105 million (pre-tax), £90 million (post-tax).

In February 2011, GSK announced its intention to divest its non-core Consumer Healthcare OTC products to realise value for shareholders and simplify the business by enabling it to focus on priority brands and markets. Agreements were reached in December 2011 and in March 2012 to divest the brands in the USA & Canada and in Europe respectively.

Total sales for the brands now agreed to be divested in the United States, Canada, Europe and international markets were approximately £370 million in 2011. The total gross cash proceeds from the divestment of these products are £981 million and the net cash proceeds are approximately £690 million.

The company continues to plan to divest alli. However, as previously stated, pending the resolution of a temporary third party supply interruption, the process to divest alli has been delayed.

Notes to Editors:

In December 2011, GSK announced that it had reached agreement with Prestige Brands Holdings, Inc. to divest brands in the United States and Canada for £426 million ($660 million), generating net cash proceeds of approximately £242 million. The vast majority of this transaction was completed at the end of January 2012 and the net cash proceeds were returned to shareholders via a supplemental dividend of 5p paid with the fourth quarter 2011 ordinary dividend. The remaining portion of this transaction closed in April 2012.

In March 2012, GSK announced that it had reached agreement with Omega Pharma to divest its non-core OTC brands in Europe for £391 million (€470 million), generating net cash proceeds of approximately £310 million. This transaction is expected to complete in Q2 2012, subject to regulatory approvals. It is expected that proceeds will be returned to shareholders during 2012.
