GOL Increases Flights to Panama with Copa Airlines

São Paulo, January 19, 2006 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes (Bovespa: GOLL4 and NYSE: GOL), Brazil's low cost, low fare airline, announces that it will start operating daily flights between Brazil and Panama, made possible through the Company's code-share agreement with Copa Airlines. Through the previous agreement the two companies operated only four flights per week.

The agreement, signed in August 2005, aims to offer more flights and connection options between Brazil and Panama, including several points across the Americas, through the Hub de las Américas – a direct flight distribution center located at Tocúmen International Airport, in Panama City, which serves 30 destinations in 20 countries. Increasing flight frequencies not only proves the code-share agreement is successful, but more importantly, creates additional benefits for customers of both companies, says Wilson Maciel Ramos, Vice President of Planning and Information Technology at GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes.

Under the code-share agreement, passengers flying to Brazil on Copa Airlines will travel through the Hub de las Américas to Guarulhos International Airport (São Paulo) with connection to Galeão International Airport (Rio de Janeiro). They also have connections available to all other destinations served by GOL from these airports. Passengers traveling within GOL's flight network in Brazil and South America will fly through Guarulhos Airport (São Paulo) to Panama City, where connections are available to all of Copa's destinations in North and Central America.

We are pleased to continue expanding our working alliance with GOL. This latest expansion increases the flights we jointly offer our passengers in code-share between Panama and Brazil, and further strengthens the Hub de las Américas, says Jorge Garcia, Copa Airlines' Commercial Vice President.
