Item 8.01 Other Events.

As previously disclosed, Rockland Trust Company ("Rockland Trust"), the wholly-owned bank subsidiary of Independent Bank Corp. (the "Company"), is the plaintiff in the pending federal court case commonly known as Rockland Trust Company v. Computer Associates International, Inc., United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts Civil Action No. 95-11683-DPW. The case arises from a 1991 License Agreement (the "Agreement") between Rockland Trust and Computer Associates International, Inc. ("CA") for an integrated system of banking software products. Rockland Trust filed the Complaint in the case in July 1995 in federal court in Boston to assert various claims against CA. CA filed a Counterclaim against Rockland Trust for breach of the Agreement.

The non-jury trial of the case was completed in early 2001. At trial CA asserted that Rockland Trust is obligated to CA under the Agreement in an amount of at least approximately $1.1 million.

On July 24, 2007 the federal judge before whom the CA case is pending informed the parties that he is "going to enter judgment for Computer Associates." The judge, however, did not have a written opinion ready at that point to explain the basis for his decision and did not indicate the amount that would be awarded to CA when that decision is rendered.

While the CA decision may affect the Company's operating results for the quarter in which the decision is rendered, the final outcome of this case will not likely have any material, long-term impact on the Company's financial condition.
