Item 2.05. Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities.

On March 11, 2015, Rosetta Stone Inc. (the “Company” or “Rosetta Stone”) announced that it is refocusing its strategy and realigning resources around its Global Enterprise & Education segment (“E&E”) in order to pursue the most attractive opportunities for enhancing shareholder value. To accomplish this, the Company is prioritizing the needs of educators and corporations, where the most profitable growth potential is anticipated. This decision follows several months of close collaboration between management and a leading education consulting firm hired to perform a thorough review of Rosetta Stone’s strategy, with active oversight from the board of directors.

The Company's refocus and realignment are expected to lower costs and reduce global non-E&E headcount by approximately 15%, resulting in annual expense reductions of approximately $50 million that will target Consumer sales and marketing, Consumer product investment, and general and administrative costs. These actions are expected to result in an estimated $7 million charge in the first quarter of 2015, largely reflecting cash separation payments. In addition, the Company has recorded a non-cash charge of $18.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2014 to impair the carrying value of goodwill associated with its North America Consumer segment.

The Company's strategy and realignment are discussed in more detail in its earnings' press release issued March 11, 2015 and furnished as an exhibit to the Company's Current Report on Form 8-K filed on March 11, 2015.
