NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

(1) Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation – The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Stock Yards Bancorp, Inc. (“Holding Company”), and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Stock Yards Bank & Trust Company (“Bank”). All significant inter-company transactions and accounts have been eliminated in consolidation. All companies are collectively referred to as “Bancorp” or the “Company.”

The Bank, chartered in 1904, is a Louisville, Kentucky-based, state-chartered non-member financial institution that provides services in the Louisville, Kentucky, Indianapolis, Indiana and Cincinnati, Ohio Metropolitan Statistical Areas (“MSAs”) through 38 full service banking center locations.

As of March 31, 2019, Bancorp was divided into two reportable segments: Commercial banking and Wealth Management & Trust (“WM&T”):

Commercial Banking provides a full range of loan and deposit products to individual consumers and businesses through commercial lending, retail lending, deposit services, treasury management services, private banking, online banking, mobile banking, merchant services, workplace banking, international banking, correspondent banking and other banking services. The Bank also offers securities brokerage services via its banking center network through an arrangement with a third party broker-dealer.

WM&T, with approximately $3 billion in assets under management, provides custom-tailored financial planning, investment management, retirement planning and trust and estate services in all markets in which Bancorp operates.

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, the financial statements do not include all the information and footnotes required by GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2019 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2019. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in Bancorp's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018. Certain reclassifications have been made in the prior year financial statements to conform to current year classifications.

Significant Accounting Policies - In preparing the unaudited consolidated financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of certain assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of related revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. A description of significant accounting policies is presented in Bancorp's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018.

Critical Accounting Policies - An allowance has been established to provide for probable losses on loans that may not be fully repaid. The allowance is increased by provisions charged to expense and decreased by charge-offs, net of recoveries. Loans are typically charged off when management deems them uncollectible and after underlying collateral has been liquidated; however, collection efforts continue and future recoveries may occur. Periodically, loans are partially charged off to the net realizable value based upon evaluation of related underlying collateral, including Bancorp's proclivity for resolution.

Table of Contents

The allowance methodology is driven by risk ratings, historical losses, and qualitative factors. The level of the March 31, 2019 allowance reflected a number of factors, including credit quality metrics which were generally consistent with prior periods, and expansion of the historical look-back period from 32 quarters to 36 quarters. This expansion of the historical period was applied to all classes and segments of the portfolio. Expansion of the look-back period for historical loss rates used in the quantitative allocation caused review of the overall methodology for qualitative factors to ensure we were appropriately capturing risk not addressed in the quantitative historical loss rate. Management believes extension of the look-back period is appropriate to ensure capture of the impact of a full economic cycle and more accurately represents the current level of risk inherent in the loan portfolio. Based on the look-back period extension, the allowance level increased approximately $2.0 million for the first three months of 2019. Key indicators of loan quality continued to trend at levels consistent with prior periods, however management recognizes that due to the cyclical nature of the lending business, these trends will likely normalize over the long term. Additional information regarding Bancorp's methodology for evaluating the adequacy of the allowance can be read in Bancorp's Annual Report on Form 10K.

Accounting Standards Updates (“ASUs”)

The following ASU was issued prior to March 31, 2019 and is considered relevant to Bancorp's financial statements. Generally, if an issued-but-not-yet-effective ASU with an expected immaterial impact to Bancorp has been disclosed in prior SEC filings, it will not be re-disclosed.

In June 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued ASU 2016-13, Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, (“CECL”). This ASU significantly changes the way entities recognize impairment of many financial assets by requiring immediate recognition of estimated credit losses expected to occur over their remaining life. The guidance is effective for annual and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2019. Bancorp expects to recognize a one-time cumulative-effect adjustment to the allowance on January 1, 2020. Interagency guidance issued in December 2018 allows for a three year phase-in of the cumulative-effect adjustment for regulatory capital reporting.

As a result of this ASU, Bancorp could experience an increase in its allowance. Bancorp has formed a committee to oversee its transition to the CECL methodology. Bancorp has devoted internal resources and purchased a third party software solution to analyze, compute and report upon the CECL disclosure requirements. In addition, Bancorp has analyzed loan-level data and concluded upon its CECL loan segmentation and initial segment calculation methodologies. Bancorp is currently exploring regression techniques and has begun to run forecasting scenarios.

Recently adopted accounting standards

Bancorp adopted ASU 2016-02, Leases and related amendments using an alternative transition method, effective January 1, 2019 and upon adoption recorded $17 million of right-of-use lease assets and $18 million of operating lease liabilities on its balance sheet as of March 31, 2019. Prior periods have not been restated. The right-of-use lease asset and operating lease liability are recorded in others assets and other liabilities, respectively, on the consolidated balance sheet. Bancorp elected all applicable practical expedients, including the option to expense short-term leases, which are defined as leases with a term of one year or less. Bancorp also elected not to separate lease components from non-lease components.

The adoption of this ASU did not have a meaningful impact on Bancorp's performance metrics, including regulatory capital ratios and return on average assets. Additionally, Bancorp does not believe that the adoption of this ASU by its clients will have a significant impact on Bancorp's ability to underwrite credit when client financial statements are presented inclusive of the requirements of this ASU. See the note titled "Leases" for additional information on lease activities.

Table of Contents(2) Pending Acquisition

Effective December 19, 2018, Bancorp executed a definitive Share Purchase Agreement (“Agreement”), pursuant to which Bancorp will acquire all of the outstanding common stock of privately held King Bancorp, Inc. (“King”). King, headquartered in Louisville, is the holding company for King Southern Bank, which operates five branches – three in the greater Louisville area and two in Nelson County, approximately 60 miles southeast of Louisville, Kentucky.

Under the terms of the Agreement, Bancorp will acquire all of King’s outstanding common stock in an all-cash transaction, resulting in a total cash payment to King’s existing shareholders of approximately $28 million. Bancorp will fund the cash payment through existing resources on hand.

The acquisition is scheduled to close as of end of business April 30, 2019, subject to completion of closing conditions. As of March 31, 2019, King had approximately $193 million in assets, $167 million in loans, $125 million in deposits and $16 million in tangible common equity.

(3) Securities

All of Bancorp’s securities are classified as available for sale. Amortized cost, unrealized gains and losses, and fair value of securities follow:

(In thousands)	Amortized	Unrealized		Fair

At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, there were no holdings of debt securities of any one issuer, other than the U.S. government and its agencies, in an amount greater than 10% of stockholders' equity.

Bancorp did not sell securities during the three-month periods ending March 31, 2019 or 2018.

A summary of securities available for sale by maturity follows:

(In thousands)	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Due within 1 year	$ 205,633	$ 205,367
Due after 1 year but within 5 years	60,622	60,113

Actual maturities may differ from contractual maturities because some issuers have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without prepayment penalties. The investment portfolio includes agency mortgage backed securities, which are guaranteed by agencies such as Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (“FHLMC”), Federal National Mortgage Association (“FNMA”), and Government National Mortgage Association (“GNMA”). These securities differ from traditional debt securities primarily in that they may have uncertain principal payment dates and are priced based on estimated prepayment rates on the underlying collateral.

Securities with a carrying value of $355.6 million and $355.1 million were pledged at March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, respectively, to secure accounts of commercial depositors in cash management accounts, public deposits, and uninsured cash balances for WM&T accounts.

Securities with unrealized losses at March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018 follows:

Applicable dates for determining when securities are in an unrealized loss position are March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018. As such, it is possible that a security had a market value lower than its amortized cost on other days during the past twelve months, but is not in the “Investments with an unrealized loss of less than 12 months” category above.

Unrealized losses on Bancorp’s investment securities portfolio have not been recognized as an expense because the securities are of high credit quality, and the decline in fair values is due to changes in the prevailing interest rate environment since the purchase date. Fair value is expected to recover as securities reach maturity and/or the interest rate environment returns to conditions similar to when these securities were purchased. These investments consist of 105 and 117 separate investment positions as of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, respectively. Because management does not intend to sell the investments, and it is not likely that Bancorp will be required to sell the investments before recovery of their amortized cost bases, which may be maturity, Bancorp does not consider these securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired at March 31, 2019.

Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati (“FHLB”) stock is an investment held by Bancorp which is not readily marketable and is carried at cost adjusted for identified impairment. Impairment is evaluated on an annual basis in the fourth quarter. Holdings of FHLB stock are required for access to FHLB advances.

(1) Consists of land acquired for development by the borrower, but for which no development has yet taken place.

Loans to directors and their associates, including loans to companies for which directors are principal owners and executive officers totaled $52.8 million and $52.7 million, as of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, respectively.

Consistent with regulatory guidance, Bancorp categorizes loans into credit risk categories based on relevant information about the ability of borrowers to service their debt such as: current financial information, historical payment experience, credit documentation, public information and current economic trends. Pass-rated loans included all risk-rated loans other than those classified as other assets especially mentioned, substandard, and doubtful, which are defined below:

Other assets especially mentioned (“OAEM”): Loans classified as OAEM have potential weaknesses that deserve management's close attention. These potential weaknesses may result in deterioration of repayment prospects for the loan or of Bancorp's credit position at some future date.

Substandard: Loans classified as substandard are inadequately protected by the paying capacity of the obligor or of collateral pledged, if any. Loans so classified have well-defined weaknesses that jeopardize ultimate repayment of the debt. Default is a distinct possibility if the deficiencies are not corrected.

Substandard non-performing: Loans classified as substandard non-performing have all the characteristics of substandard loans and have been placed on non-accrual status or have been accounted for as troubled debt restructurings. Loans are placed on non-accrual status when prospects for recovering both principal and accrued interest are considered doubtful or when a default of principal or interest has existed for 90 days or more.

Doubtful: Loans classified as doubtful have all the weaknesses inherent in those classified as substandard, with the added characteristic that the weaknesses make collection or repayment in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, conditions and values, highly questionable and improbable.

The considerations by Bancorp in computing its allowance are determined based on the various risk characteristics of each loan segment. Relevant risk characteristics are as follows:

Commercial and industrial: Loans in this category are made to businesses. Generally these loans are secured by assets of the business and repayment is expected from cash flows of the business. A decline in the strength of the business or a weakened economy and resultant decreased consumer and/or business spending may have an effect on the credit quality in this loan category.

Construction and development, excluding undeveloped land: Loans in this category primarily include owner-occupied and investment construction loans and commercial development projects. In most cases, construction loans require only interest to be paid during construction. Upon completion or stabilization, the construction loans generally convert to permanent financing in the real estate mortgage segment, requiring principal amortization. Repayment of development loans is derived from sale of lots or units. Credit risk is affected by construction delays, cost overruns, market conditions and availability of permanent financing; to the extent such permanent financing is not being provided by Bancorp.

Undeveloped land: Loans in this category are secured by land acquired for development by the borrower, but for which no development has yet taken place. Credit risk is primarily dependent upon the financial strength of the borrower, but can also be affected by market conditions and time to sell lots at an adequate price in the future. Credit risk is also affected by availability of permanent financing, including to the end user, to the extent such permanent financing is not being provided by Bancorp.

Real estate mortgage: Loans in this category are made to and secured by owner-occupied residential real estate, owner-occupied real estate used for business purposes, and income-producing investment properties. For owner occupied residential and owner-occupied commercial real estate, repayment is dependent on financial strength of the borrower. For income-producing investment properties, repayment is dependent on financial strength of tenants, and to a lesser extent the borrowers' financial strength, once the project is stabilized. Underlying properties are generally located in Bancorp's primary market area. Cash flows of income producing investment properties may be adversely impacted by a downturn in the economy as reflected in increased vacancy rates, which in turn, will have an effect on credit quality and property values. Overall health of the economy, including unemployment rates and real estate prices, has an effect on credit quality in this loan category.

Consumer: Loans in this category may be either secured or unsecured and repayment is dependent on credit quality of the individual borrower and, if applicable, adequacy of collateral securing the loan. Therefore, overall health of the economy, including unemployment rates as well as home and securities prices, will have a significant effect on credit quality in this loan category.

Impaired loans include non-accrual loans and accruing loans accounted for as troubled debt restructurings (“TDRs”), which continue to accrue interest. Non-performing loans include the balance of impaired loans plus any loans over 90 days past due and still accruing interest. Bancorp had $454 thousand past due more than 90 days and still accruing interest at March 31, 2019, compared with $745 thousand at December 31, 2018, and none at March 31, 2018.

The following table presents the recorded investment in non-accrual loans:

(In thousands)	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018

Subtotal: Real estate mortgage	3,080	1,627
Consumer	—	—
Total loans	$3,273	$ 2,611

In the course of working with borrowers, Bancorp may elect to restructure the contractual terms of certain loans. TDRs occur when, for economic, legal, or other reasons related to a borrower’s financial difficulties, Bancorp grants a concession to the borrower that it would not otherwise consider.

At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp had $39 thousand and $42 thousand of accruing loans classified as TDRs, respectively. Bancorp did not modify and classify any additional loans as TDRs during the three-month periods ended March 31, 2019 or March 31, 2018, respectively. No loans classified and reported as TDRs within the twelve months prior to March 31, 2019 defaulted during the three-month period ended March 31, 2019. Loans accounted for as TDRs may include modifications from original terms such as those due to bankruptcy proceedings, certain modifications of amortization periods or extended suspension of principal payments due to customer financial difficulties.

At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp did not have any outstanding commitments to lend additional funds to borrowers whose loans have been modified as TDRs.

As of March 31, 2019 formal foreclosure proceedings were in process on consumer residential mortgage loans with a total recorded investment of $795 thousand, as compared with $528 thousand as of December 31, 2018.

Table of Contents(5) Goodwill and Intangible Assets

US GAAP requires that goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives not be amortized, but instead be tested for impairment at least annually. Bancorp currently has recorded goodwill in the amount of $682 thousand related to a 1996 bank acquisition. No impairment charges have been deemed necessary or recorded to date, as the fair value is substantially in excess of the carrying value. This goodwill is assigned to the commercial banking segment of Bancorp.

Bancorp recorded a gross core deposit intangible totaling $2.5 million as a result of its 2013 acquisition of THE BANCORP, Inc. This intangible is being amortized over the expected life of the underlying deposits to which the intangible is attributable. At March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, the unamortized core deposit intangible was $1.0 million, and $1.1 million, respectively.

Mortgage servicing rights (“MSRs”), a component of other assets, are initially recognized at fair value when mortgage loans are sold with servicing retained. The MSRs are amortized in proportion to and over the period of estimated net servicing income, considering appropriate prepayment assumptions. MSRs are evaluated quarterly for impairment by comparing carrying value to fair value. Estimated fair values of MSRs at March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018 were $3.2 million and $3.6 million, respectively. Total outstanding principal balances of loans serviced for others were $324.9 million and $327.9 million at March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, respectively.

Changes in the net carrying amount of MSRs follows:

(In thousands)	Three months ended March 31,

Table of Contents(6) Income Taxes

In March 2019, the Kentucky Legislature passed HB354 requiring financial institutions to transition from a capital based franchise tax to the Kentucky corporate income tax beginning in 2021. Historically, the franchise tax, a component of non-interest expenses, was assessed at 1.1% of net capital and averaged $2.5 million annually over the prior two year-end periods. The Kentucky corporate income tax will be assessed at 5% of Kentucky taxable income and will be included as a component of current and deferred state income tax expense. Associated with this change, during the first quarter of 2019, Bancorp established a Kentucky state deferred tax asset related to existing temporary differences estimated to reverse after the effective date of the law change. Bancorp recorded a corresponding state tax benefit, net of federal impact of $1.3 million, or approximately $0.06 per diluted share for the first quarter 2019. While this is positive in the short-term, Bancorp anticipates an unfavorable impact of approximately $200 thousand per year beginning in 2021. Components of income tax expense (benefit) from operations follow:

(In thousands)	Three months ended March 31,
	2019	2018
Current income tax expense:
Federal	$2,726	$2,436
State	141	128

Effective income tax rate	10.5 %	18.5 %

State income tax expense represents tax owed in Indiana. Kentucky and Ohio state bank taxes are based on capital levels, and are recorded as other non-interest expense. See comment above regarding recent changes in Kentucky tax law.

US GAAP provides guidance on financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken, or expected to be taken, in tax returns. If recognized, tax benefits would reduce tax expense and accordingly, increase net income. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits may increase or decrease in the future for various reasons including adding amounts for current year tax positions, expiration of open income tax returns due to statutes of limitation, changes in management's judgment about the level of uncertainty, status of examination, litigation and legislative activity and addition or elimination of uncertain tax positions. As of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, the gross amount of unrecognized tax benefits was immaterial to the consolidated financial statements of the Company. Federal and state income tax returns are subject to examination for the years after 2014.

Table of Contents(8) Securities Sold Under Agreements to Repurchase

SSUAR represent a funding source of Bancorp and are primarily used by commercial customers in conjunction with collateralized corporate cash management accounts. Such repurchase agreements are considered financing agreements and mature within one business day from the transaction date. At March 31, 2019, all of these financing arrangements had overnight maturities and were secured by government sponsored enterprise obligations and government agency mortgage-backed securities which were owned and controlled by Bancorp.

Information concerning SSR follows:

(Dollars in thousands)	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018

(9) Federal Home Loan Bank Advances

Bancorp had outstanding borrowings totaling $47.9 million and $48.2 million at March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, respectively, via 14 separate FHLB fixed-rate advances. As of March 31, 2019, for two advances totaling $30 million, both of which are non-callable, interest payments are due monthly, with principal due at maturity. For the remaining advances, principal and interest payments are due monthly based on an amortization schedule.

The following is a summary of the contractual maturities and average effective rates of outstanding advances:

(In thousands) March 31, 2019 December 31, 2018

Year	Advance	Weighted average	Advance	Weighted average

Total	$47,853	2.43	% $48,177	2.39	%

FHLB advances are collateralized by certain commercial and residential real estate mortgage loans under a blanket mortgage collateral pledge agreement and FHLB stock. Bancorp views these advances to be an effective alternative to brokered deposits to fund loan growth. At March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, the amount of available credit from the FHLB totaled $523.7 million, and $537.0 million, respectively. Bancorp also had $105 million in federal funds lines available from correspondent banks at both March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018.

Table of Contents(10) Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

The following table illustrates activity within the balances in accumulated other comprehensive income (“AOCI”) by component, and is shown for the three months ended March 31, 2019 and 2018.

(11) Preferred Stock

Bancorp has a class of preferred stock (no par value; 1,000,000 shares authorized), the relative rights, preferences and other terms of which or any series within the class will be determined by the Board of Directors prior to any issuance. None of this stock has been issued to date.

Table of Contents(12) Net Income Per Share

The following table reflects, for the three months ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, net income (numerator) and average shares outstanding (denominator) for basic and diluted net income per share computations:

(In thousands, except per share data)	Three months ended
	March 31,
	2019	2018
Net income	$15,641	$13,404
Weighted average shares outstanding - basic	22,661	22,577

Weighted average shares outstanding- diluted	22,946	22,931
Net income per share, basic	$0.69	$0.59
Net income per share, diluted	$0.68	$0.58

SARs of 188 thousand granted at prices ranging from $33.08 to $40.00 were outstanding at March 31, 2019, but not included in the computation of diluted EPS because they were antidilutive. They could, however, be dilutive to EPS in the future.

(13) Defined Benefit Plan

Bancorp sponsors an unfunded, non-qualified, defined benefit retirement plan for three key officers (one current and two retired), and has no plans to increase the number of or benefits to participants. Benefits vest based on 25 years of service and all participants are fully vested. Actuarially determined pension costs are expensed and accrued over the service period, and benefits are paid from Bancorp's assets. Bancorp maintains life insurance policies, for which it is the beneficiary, on participants and certain former executives. Income from these policies is utilized to offset costs of benefits. Net periodic benefit cost was immaterial for all respective periods.

Table of Contents(14) Stock-Based Compensation

The fair value of all stock-based awards granted, net of estimated forfeitures, is recognized as compensation expense over the respective service period.

At Bancorp's 2015 Annual Meeting of Shareholders, shareholders approved the 2015 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan and authorized the shares available from the expiring 2005 plan for future awards under the 2015 plan. In 2018 shareholders approved an additional 500 thousand shares for issuance under the plan. As of March 31, 2019, there were 506 thousand shares available for future awards.

Stock Options – Bancorp had no stock options outstanding as of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018.

Stock appreciation rights (“SARs”) – SARs granted have a vesting schedule of 20% per year and expire ten years after the grant date unless forfeited due to employment termination.

Fair values of SARs are estimated at the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, a leading formula for calculating such value. This model requires the input of assumptions, changes to which can materially affect the fair value estimate. The following assumptions were used in SAR valuations at the grant date in each year:

Dividend yield and expected volatility are based on historical information for Bancorp corresponding to the expected life of SARs granted. Expected volatility is the volatility of the underlying shares for the expected term on a monthly basis. The risk free interest rate is the implied yield currently available on U.S. Treasury issues with a remaining term equal to the expected life of the awards. The expected life of SARs is based on past experience of similar-life SARs. Bancorp evaluates historical exercise and post-vesting termination behavior when determining the expected life.

Dividend yield	2.52 %	2.56 %
Expected volatility	20.40 %	20.17 %
Risk free interest rate	2.55 %	2.96 %
Expected life of SARs (in years)	7.2	7.0

Restricted stock awards (“RSAs”) – RSAs granted to officers vest over five years. For all grants prior to 2015, grantees are entitled to dividend payments during the vesting period. For grants in 2015 and forward, forfeitable dividends are deferred until shares are vested. Fair value of RSAs is equal to the market value of the shares on the date of grant.

Grants of performance stock units (“PSUs”) – PSUs vest based upon service and a three-year performance period, which begins January 1 of the first year of the performance period. Because grantees are not entitled to dividend payments during the performance period, the fair value of these PSUs is estimated based upon the market value of the underlying shares on the date of grant, adjusted for non-payment of dividends. Grants require a one year post-vesting holding period and the fair value of such grants incorporates a liquidity discount related to the holding period of 4.1%, 4.3% and 5.1% for 2019, 2018, and 2017, respectively.

Grants of restricted stock units (“RSUs”) – RSUs are only granted to directors, are time-based and vest 12 months after grant date. Because grantees are entitled to deferred dividend payments at the end of the vesting period, fair value of the RSUs equals market value of underlying shares on the date of grant.

Bancorp utilized cash of $210 thousand during the first three months of 2019 for the purchase of shares upon the vesting of RSUs. This compares with cash used of $156 thousand during the first three months of 2018 for the purchase of shares upon the vesting of RSUs net of cash received for RSUs exercised.

Expected shares to be awarded for PSUs granted to executive officers of Bancorp, the three-year performance period for which began January 1 of the award year are as follows:

Grant year	Vesting period in years	Fair value	Expected shares to be awarded
2017	3	$35.66	61,893
2018	3	31.54	50,352
2019	3	32.03	43,602

In the first quarter of 2019, Bancorp awarded 9,834 RSUs to directors of Bancorp with a grant date fair value of $330 thousand.

Table of Contents(15) Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

As of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp had various commitments outstanding that arose in the normal course of business, such as unused commitments or lines of credit and commitments made to lend in the future, which are properly not reflected in the consolidated financial statements. Total off balance sheet commitments to extend credit follows:

(In thousands)	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Commercial and Industrial	$354,903	$ 309,920
Construction - Commercial	201,465	163,314
Construction - Residential	14,785	16,050
Home Equity	149,584	147,907
Credit Cards	19,912	20,003
Overdrafts	21,558	21,751
Letters of credit	20,374	20,891
Other	33,748	33,369
Future loan commitments	213,087	101,399
Total off balance sheet commitments to extend credit	$ 1,029,416	$ 834,604

Commitments to extend credit are an agreement to lend to a customer as long as collateral is available as agreed upon and there is no violation of any condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses. Since some of the commitments are expected to expire without being drawn upon, the total commitment amounts do not necessarily represent future cash requirements. Bancorp uses the same credit and collateral policies in making commitments and conditional guarantees as for on-balance sheet instruments. Bancorp evaluates each customer's creditworthiness on a case by case basis. The amount of collateral obtained is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer. Collateral held varies but may include accounts receivable, inventory, securities, equipment, and real estate. However, should the commitments be drawn upon and should our customers default on their resulting obligation to us, our maximum exposure to credit loss, without consideration of collateral, is represented by the contractual amount of those instruments. At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp had accrued $350 thousand in other liabilities for inherent risks related to unfunded credit commitments.

Standby letters of credit and financial guarantees written are conditional commitments issued by Bancorp to guarantee the performance of a customer to a first party. Those guarantees are primarily issued to support customer commercial transactions. Standby letters of credit generally have maturities of one to two years.

As of March 31, 2019, in the normal course of business, there were pending legal actions and proceedings in which claims for damages are asserted. Management, after discussion with legal counsel, believes the ultimate result of these legal actions and proceedings will not have a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial position or results of operations of Bancorp.

(16) Assets and Liabilities Measured and Reported at Fair Value

Fair value represents the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair values:

Level 1: Valuation is based upon quoted (unadjusted) prices for identical instruments traded in active markets.

Level 2: Valuation is based upon quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active, and model-based valuation techniques for which all significant assumptions are observable in the market.

Level 3: Valuation is generated from model-based techniques that use significant assumptions not observable in the market. These unobservable assumptions would reflect internal estimates of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Valuation techniques could include pricing models, discounted cash flows and other similar techniques.

Authoritative guidance requires maximization of use of observable inputs and minimization of use of unobservable inputs in fair value measurements. Where there exists limited or no observable market data, Bancorp derives its own estimates by generally considering characteristics of the asset/liability, the current economic and competitive environment and other factors. For this reason, results cannot be determined with precision and may not be realized on an actual sale or immediate settlement of the asset or liability.

At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp's securities available for sale portfolio and interest rate swaps were recorded at fair value on a recurring basis.

All available for sale securities are priced using standard industry models or matrices with various assumptions such as yield curves, volatility, prepayment speeds, default rates, time value, credit rating and market prices for similar instruments. These assumptions are observable in the market place and can be derived from or supported by observable data. These measurements are classified as Level 2.

Fair value measurements for interest rate swaps are based on benchmark forward yield curves and other relevant observable market data. For purposes of potential valuation adjustments to derivative positions, Bancorp evaluates the credit risk of its counterparties as well as its own credit risk. To date, Bancorp has not realized any losses due to counterparty's inability to perform and the change in value of derivative assets and liabilities attributable to credit risk was not significant during the reporting period. Interest rate swaps are valued using primarily Level 2 inputs.

Mortgage servicing rights, impaired loans and OREO are recorded at fair value on a non-recurring basis, generally in the application of lower of cost or market adjustments or write-downs of specific assets.

For the securities portfolio, Bancorp monitors the valuation technique used by pricing agencies to ascertain when transfers between levels have occurred. The nature of other assets and liabilities measured at fair value is such that transfers in and out of any level are expected to be rare. For the three months ended March 31, 2019, there were no transfers between Levels 1, 2, or 3.

Bancorp had no financial instruments classified within Level 3 of the valuation hierarchy for assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis at March 31, 2019 or December 31, 2018.

Table of Contents

Discussion of assets measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis follows:

Mortgage Servicing Rights – On at least a quarterly basis, MSR's are evaluated for impairment based upon the fair value of the MSR's as compared to carrying amount. Fair value is based on a valuation model that calculates the present value of estimated net servicing income. The model incorporates assumptions that market participants would use in estimating future net servicing income. These measurements are classified as Level 3. At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, there was no valuation allowance for the mortgage servicing rights, as the fair value exceeded the cost. Accordingly, the MSR's are not included in the following tabular disclosure for March 31, 2019 or December 31, 2018.

Impaired loans - Collateral-dependent impaired loans generally reflect partial charge-downs to their respective fair value, which is commonly based on recent real estate appraisals. Also, fair value is calculated as the carrying value of loans with a specific valuation allowance, less the specific valuation allowance. Fair value of impaired loans was primarily measured based on the value of collateral securing these loans. Impaired loans are classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. Collateral may be real estate and/or business assets including equipment, inventory, and/or accounts receivable. Bancorp determines the value of real estate collateral based on independent appraisals performed by qualified licensed appraisers. These appraisals may utilize a single valuation approach or a combination of approaches including comparable sales and the income approach. Appraised values are discounted for costs to sell and may be discounted further based on management's historical knowledge, changes in market conditions from the date of the most recent appraisal, and/or management's expertise and knowledge of the customer and the customer's business. Such discounts by management are subjective and are typically significant unobservable inputs for determining fair value. For other assets, Bancorp relies on both internal and third party assessments of asset value, based on information provided by the borrower, following methodologies similar to those described for real estate. As of March 31, 2019, total impaired collateral dependent loans charged down to their fair value and impaired loans with a valuation allowance were $408 thousand, and the specific allowance totaled $39 thousand, resulting in a fair value of $369 thousand, compared with total collateral dependent loans charged down to their fair value and impaired loans with a valuation allowance of $967 thousand, and the specific allowance allocation totaling $42 thousand, resulting in a fair value of $925 thousand at December 31, 2018. Losses represent charge offs and changes in specific allowances for the periods indicated.

Other real estate owned ("OREO") - Assets acquired through or instead of loan foreclosure are initially recorded at fair value less costs to sell when acquired, establishing a new cost basis. These assets are subsequently accounted for at lower of cost or fair value less estimated costs to sell. Fair value is commonly based on recent real estate appraisals performed by external parties which use judgments and assumptions that are property-specific and sensitive to changes in the overall economic environment. Appraisals may be further discounted based on management's historical knowledge and/or changes in market conditions from the date of the most recent appraisal. Many of these inputs are not observable and, accordingly, these measurements are classified as Level 3. For OREO in the table below, fair value is the carrying value of only parcels of OREO which have a carrying value equal to appraised value. Losses represent write-downs which occurred during the period indicated. At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, carrying value of all other real estate owned was $878 thousand and $1.0 million, respectively.

Table of Contents(17) Disclosure of Financial Instruments Not Reported at Fair Value

US GAAP requires disclosure of the fair value of financial assets and liabilities, including those financial assets and financial liabilities that are not measured and reported at fair value on a recurring basis or nonrecurring basis. Carrying amounts, estimated fair values, and placement in the fair value hierarchy of Bancorp's financial instruments are as follows:

Limitations

Fair value estimates are made at a specific point in time based on relevant market information and information about financial instruments. Because no market exists for a significant portion of Bancorp's financial instruments, fair value estimates are based on judgments regarding future expected loss experience, current economic conditions, risk characteristics of various financial instruments, and other factors. These estimates are subjective in nature and involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment and therefore cannot be determined with precision. Therefore, calculated fair value estimates in many instances cannot be substantiated by comparison to independent markets and, in many cases, may not be realizable in a current sale of the instrument. Changes in assumptions could significantly affect estimates.

(18) Derivative Financial Instruments

Periodically, Bancorp enters into an interest rate swap transaction with a borrower, who desires to hedge exposure to rising interest rates, while at the same time entering into an offsetting interest rate swap, with substantially matching terms, with another approved independent counterparty. These are undesignated derivative instruments and are recognized on the balance sheet at fair value. Because of matching terms of offsetting contracts and collateral provisions mitigating any non-performance risk, changes in fair value subsequent to initial recognition have an insignificant effect on earnings. Exchanges of cash flows related to undesignated interest rate swap agreements for the first three months of 2019 were offsetting and therefore had no effect on Bancorp's earnings or cash flows.

Interest rate swap agreements derive their value from underlying interest rates. These transactions involve both credit and market risk. Notional amounts are amounts on which calculations, payments, and the value of the derivative are based. Notional amounts do not represent direct credit exposures. Direct credit exposure is limited to the net difference between the calculated amounts to be received and paid, if any. Bancorp is exposed to credit-related losses in the event of nonperformance by counterparties to these agreements. Bancorp mitigates the credit risk of its financial contracts through credit approvals, limits, collateral, and monitoring procedures, and does not expect any counterparties to fail their obligations.

Table of Contents

At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, Bancorp had outstanding undesignated interest rate swap contracts as follows:

(Dollars in thousands)	Receiving		Paying
	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018

Weighted average maturity (years)	7.7	8.0	7.7	8.0
Fair value	$217	$ 519	$240	$ 543

In 2016, Bancorp entered into an interest rate swap to hedge cash flows of a $10 million rolling fixed-rate three-month FHLB borrowing. The swap began December 6, 2016 and ends December 6, 2021. In 2015, Bancorp entered into an interest rate swap to hedge cash flows of a $20 million rolling fixed-rate three-month FHLB borrowing. The swap began December 9, 2015 and matures December 6, 2020. For purposes of hedging, rolling fixed rate advances are considered to be floating rate liabilities. Interest rate swaps involve exchange of Bancorp's floating rate interest payments for fixed rate swap payments on underlying principal amounts. These swaps were designated, and qualified, for cash-flow hedge accounting. For derivative instruments that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedging instruments, the effective portion of gains or losses is reported as a component of other comprehensive income, and is subsequently reclassified into earnings as an adjustment to interest expense in periods in which the hedged forecasted transaction affects earnings.

The following table details Bancorp's derivative position designated as a cash flow hedge, and the fair values as of March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018.

(19) Regulatory Matters

Bancorp and the Bank are subject to capital regulations in accordance with Basel III, as administered by banking regulators. Regulatory agencies measure capital adequacy within a framework that makes capital requirements, in part, dependent on the individual risk profiles of financial institutions. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory and possibly additional discretionary actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on Bancorp's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Holding Company and the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of Bancorp's assets, liabilities and certain off-balance sheet items, as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators regarding components, risk weightings and other factors.

Banking regulators have categorized the Bank as well-capitalized. For prompt corrective action, the regulations in accordance with Basel III define "well capitalized" as a 6.5% Common Equity Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital ratio, an 8.0% Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital ratio, a 10.0% Total Risk-Based Capital ratio and a 5.0% Tier 1 Leverage ratio. Additionally, in order to avoid limitations on capital distributions, including dividend payments and certain discretionary bonus payments to executive officers, Bancorp and Bank must hold a capital conservation buffer composed of Common Equity Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital above their minimum risk-based capital requirements. The capital conservation buffer phased in from 2016 to 2019 on the following schedule: a capital conservation buffer of 0.625% effective January 1, 2016; 1.25% effective January 1, 2017; 1.875% effective January 1, 2018; and a fully phased in capital conservation buffer of 2.5% on January 1, 2019.

Table of Contents

Bancorp continues to exceed the regulatory requirements for Total Risk Based Capital, Common Equity Tier I Risk Based, Tier I Risk Based Capital and Tier I Leverage Capital. Bancorp and the Bank intend to maintain a capital position that meets or exceeds the “well-capitalized” requirements as defined by the FRB and the FDIC, in addition to the Capital Conservation Buffer.

The following table sets forth consolidated Bancorp’s and the Bank’s risk based capital amounts and ratios:

Table of Contents(20) Segments

Bancorp's principal activities include commercial banking and WM&T. Commercial banking provides a full range of loan and deposit products to individual consumers and businesses. Commercial banking also includes Bancorp's mortgage origination and investment products sales activity. WM&T provides financial management services including investment management, trust and estate administration, and retirement plan services.

Financial information for each business segment reflects that which is specifically identifiable or allocated based on an internal allocation method. Income taxes are allocated based on the effective federal income tax rate adjusted for any tax exempt activity. All tax exempt activity and provision for loan losses have been allocated to the commercial banking segment. Measurement of performance of business segments is based on the management structure of Bancorp and is not necessarily comparable with similar information for any other financial institution. Information presented is also not necessarily indicative of the segments' operations if they were independent entities.

Principally, all of the net assets of Bancorp are involved in the commercial banking segment. Goodwill of $682,000 related to a bank acquisition in 1996 which has been assigned to the commercial banking segment. Assets assigned to WM&T primarily consist of net premises and equipment.

Selected financial information by business segment for the three month periods ended March 31, 2019 and 2018 follows:

(1) Outside of scope of ASC 606

(2) Outside of scope of ASC 606 with the exception of safe deposit fee which were nominal.

Revenue sources within the scope of ASC 606 are discussed below.

Bancorp earns fees from its deposit customers for transactions-based, account management, and overdraft services. Transaction-based fees, which include services such as ATM use fees, stop payments fees, and ACH fees, are recognized at the time the transaction is executed as that is when the company fulfills the performance obligation. Account management fees are earned over the course of a month and charged in the month in which the services are provided. Overdraft fees are recognized at the point in time that the overdraft occurs. Deposit service charges are withdrawn from customer's account balances.

Treasury management transaction fees are recognized at the time the transaction is executed as that is when the company fulfills the performance obligation. Account management fees are earned over the course of a month and charged in the month in which the services are provided. Treasury management fees are withdrawn from customer's account balances.

WM&T provides customers fiduciary and investment management services as agreed upon in asset management contracts. The contracts require WM&T to provide a series of distinct services for which fees are earned over time. The contracts are cancellable upon demand with fees typically based upon the asset value of investments. Revenue is accrued and recognized monthly based upon month-end asset values and collected from the customer predominately in the following month except for a small percentage of fees collected quarterly. Incentive compensation related to WM&T activities is considered a cost of obtaining the contract. Contracts between WM&T and clients do not permit performance based fees and accordingly, none of the fees earned by WM&T are performance based. Trust fees receivable as of March 31, 2019 were $2.0 million compared with $1.9 million as of December 31, 2018.

Investment products sales commissions and fees represent the Bank's share of transaction fees and wrap fees resulting from investment services and programs provided through an agent relationship with a third party broker-dealer. Transaction fees are assessed at the time of the transaction. Those fees are collected and recognized on a monthly basis. Trailing fees are based upon market value and are assessed, collected, and recognized on a quarterly basis. Because the Bank acts as an agent in arranging the relationship between the customer and third party provider, and does not control the services rendered, investment product sales commissions and fees are reported net of related costs, including incentive compensation expense of $1 thousand and $1 thousand, and trading activity charges of $133 and $137 thousand, for the three month periods ended March 31, 2019, and 2018 respectively.

Debit and credit card revenue primarily consists of debit and credit card interchange income. Interchange income represents fees assessed within the payment card system for acceptance of card based transactions. Interchange fees are assessed as the performance obligation is satisfied, which is at the point in time the card transaction is authorized. Revenue is collected and recognized daily through the payment network settlement process.

Bancorp did not establish any contract assets or liabilities as a result of adopting ASC 606, nor were any recognized during the first quarter of 2019.

Bancorp's revenue on the consolidated statement of income is categorized by product type, which effectively depicts how the nature, timing, and extent of cash flows are affected by economic factors.

(22) Leases

Bancorp has operating leases for various branch locations with terms remaining from three months to 14 years, some of which include options to extend the leases in five year increments. Options reasonably expected to be exercised are included in determination of the right of use asset. Bancorp elected the practical expedient to expense short-term lease expense associated with leases with original terms 12 months or less. Bancorp elected not to separate non-lease components from lease components for its operating leases. The right-of-use lease asset and operating lease liability are recorded in others assets and other liabilities, respectively, on the consolidated balance sheet.

Item 2. Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This item discusses the results and operations for Stock Yards Bancorp, Inc. (“Holding Company”), and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Stock Yards Bank & Trust Company (“Bank”) for the three months ended March 31, 2019 and compares this period with the same period of the previous year. All significant inter-company transactions and accounts have been eliminated in consolidation. All companies are collectively referred to as “Bancorp” or the “Company.”

Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes presented in Part 1 Item 1 “Financial Statements.”

Stock Yards Bancorp, Inc. is a financial holding company headquartered in Louisville, Kentucky.

The Bank, chartered in 1904, state-chartered non-member financial institution that provides services in the Louisville, Kentucky, Indianapolis, Indiana and Cincinnati, Ohio Metropolitan Statistical Areas (“MSAs”) through 38 full service banking center locations.

This report contains forward-looking statements under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act that involve risks and uncertainties. Although Bancorp believes assumptions underlying forward-looking statements contained herein are reasonable, any of these assumptions could be inaccurate. Factors that could cause actual results to differ from results discussed in forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to the following: economic conditions both generally and more specifically in markets in which Bancorp and the Bank operate; competition for Bancorp’s customers from other providers of financial services; government legislation and regulation which change from time to time and over which Bancorp has no control; changes in interest rates; material unforeseen changes in liquidity, results of operations, or financial condition of Bancorp’s customers; and other risks detailed in Bancorp’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are beyond the control of Bancorp.

Recent Developments

In April 2018, the Kentucky Legislature mandated combined filings for unitary businesses for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2019, unless an election is made otherwise. In March 2019, Kentucky legislation was enacted transitioning financial institutions from a capital based franchise tax to the Kentucky corporate income tax beginning in 2021. Therefore, Bancorp will begin filing a Kentucky combined filing in 2021 that will include the Bank unless Bancorp timely elects alternative filing. Bancorp's holding company historically, by nature of its operations, has generated net operating losses. Bancorp has filed as a separate company in Kentucky and has a Kentucky net operating loss ("NOL") carryforward.

As of March 31, 2019, Bancorp had not yet concluded whether it would make the election for consolidated filing. During April 2019, HB 458 was enacted which allowed for certain net operating loss carryforwards to be utilized in a combined filing return. Bancorp estimates that based on the default combined filing requirement or if it were to elect for consolidated filing, it would record a state NOL tax benefit, net of federal impact, of approximately $2 million or approximately $0.09 per diluted share for the second quarter 2019.

Business Segment Overview

As of March 31, 2019, Bancorp was divided into two reportable segments: Commercial banking and Wealth Management & Trust (“WM&T”):

Commercial banking provides a full range of loan and deposit products to individual consumers and businesses through commercial lending, retail lending, deposit services, treasury management services, private banking, online banking, mobile banking, merchant services, workplace banking, international banking, correspondent banking and other banking services. The Bank also offers securities brokerage services via its banking center network through an arrangement with a third party broker-dealer.

WM&T, with approximately $3 billion in assets under management, provides custom-tailored financial planning, investment management, retirement planning and trust and estate services in all markets that Bancorp operates in.

Table of ContentsOverview - Three Months Ended March 31, 2019 Compared to the Three Months Ended March 31, 2018

Three months ended March 31, (In thousands, except per share data)	2019	2018	$ Change	% Change
Net income	$15,641	$13,404	$ 2,237	16.7	%
Diluted earnings per share	$0.68	$0.58	$ 0.10	17.2	%
Return on average assets	1.94 %	1.76 %	18 bps	10.2	%
Return on average equity	17.09 %	16.15 %	94 bps	5.8	%

Bancorp completed the first three months of 2019 with record net income of $15.6 million, a 16.7% increase over the comparable period in 2018. The increase is primarily due to higher net interest income driven by year-over-year average loan growth, higher non-interest income led by treasury management fees and debit and credit card income, and a lower effective income tax rate resulting from a Kentucky tax law change enacted in March, 2019. Diluted earnings per share for the first three months of 2019 were a record $0.68, compared to $0.58 for the first three months of 2018.

Key factors affecting Bancorp's results for the first quarter of 2019 included:

Average loans increased $96.0 million year over year, contributing to a 17.8% increase in interest income on a comparable quarter basis, while total average deposits increased 7.0% to support loan growth;
 Continued strong loan production was offset by a high level of loan payoffs;
 Net interest margin rose 10 basis points compared with the same quarter of 2018 consistent with higher yields on loans, loan prepayment penalties and an increase in non-interest bearing deposits;
 Credit quality metrics remained strong, as Bancorp experienced its second consecutive quarter of net loan loss recoveries;
 The Wealth Management and Trust Group ("WM&T") posted consistent performance against a strong first quarter last year;
 Card income and Treasury Management fees, bolstered by increased usage and expanding customer bases, continue to stand out as diversifying revenue streams; and Bancorp's effective income tax rate declined to 10.5% at March 31, 2019 based on Kentucky State legislation requiring financial institutions to transition from a bank franchise tax to the Kentucky corporate income tax beginning in 2021. Associated with this change, during the first quarter of 2019, Bancorp established a Kentucky state deferred tax asset related to existing temporary differences estimated to reverse after the effective date of the law change. Bancorp recorded a corresponding state tax benefit, net of federal impact of $1.3 million, or approximately $0.06 per diluted share for the first quarter 2019.

As is the case with most banks, Bancorp's primary revenue sources are net interest income and fee income from various financial services provided to customers. Net interest income is the difference between interest income earned on loans, investment securities and other interest earning assets less interest expense on deposit accounts and other interest bearing liabilities. Loan volume and interest rates earned on those loans are critical to overall profitability. Similarly, deposit volume is crucial to funding loans and rates paid on corresponding deposits directly impact profitability. New business volume is influenced by economic factors including market interest rates, business spending, consumer confidence and competitive conditions within the marketplace.

Net interest income increased $2.3 million, or 8.6%, for the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. Net interest margin increased to 3.89% for the first three months of 2019, compared with 3.79% for the same period of 2018. Increasing average rates earned on interest earning assets, along with the impact of increased volumes of loans and short-term investments contributed to higher interest income for the first quarter of 2019, as interest income increased $5.3 million, or 17.8%, over the same period in 2018. Higher funding costs on deposits and borrowings, coupled with growth in interest bearing demand deposits and time deposits, resulted in an increase in interest expense of $2.9 million, or 120.6%, year over year. The average balance of time deposits increased $118.9 million, or 50.7% in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018, as a result of targeted marketing campaigns initiated in 2018 to support loan growth and add liquidity to the balance sheet. The corresponding cost of time deposits increased from 0.77% for the first three months of 2018 to 1.83% for the same period in 2019, as Bancorp aggressively promoted certificate of deposits.

For the three-month period ended March 31, 2019, Bancorp recorded a $600 thousand provision for loan and lease losses (“provision”), compared with $735 thousand for the same period in 2018. The provision represents a charge to earnings necessary to maintain an allowance that, in management’s evaluation, is adequate to provide coverage for the inherent losses on outstanding loans. The provision reflects many factors including trends in the portfolio, as well as changes in quantitative and qualitative factors. Reflecting a moderate increase in classified loans and net recoveries of $330 thousand in the first quarter of 2019, the allowance to total loans was 1.05% as of March 31, 2019, compared with 0.96% as of March 31, 2018. In management’s opinion, the allowance remained adequate to cover potential losses within the portfolio.

Total non-interest income for the first three months of 2019 increased $153 thousand, or 1.4%, compared with the same period in 2018. Non-interest income comprised 27.2% of total revenues, defined as net interest income and non-interest income, as compared with 28.5% for the same period in 2018. Bancorp's WM&T services comprised 49.2% of Bancorp's non-interest income, despite a slight reduction in revenue in the first three months of 2019 of 1.1%, or $61 thousand. The stock market recovery in the first quarter of 2019 significantly impacted WM&T income for the quarter. Should positive market trends continue, WM&T is expected to deliver low single digit growth in 2019, however, market volatility could affect near-term results. Debit and credit card revenue, as a result of increasing transaction volumes, increased $236 thousand, or 15.6% in the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. Treasury management fees, a steadily growing source of revenue for Bancorp, increased $110 thousand, or 10.5% in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the first quarter of 2018. These items offset declines of $164 thousand, or 11.6%, and $94 thousand, or 16.3%, for deposit service charges and mortgage banking income, respectively, for the first three months of 2019, as compared with 2018.

Total non-interest expense in the first three months of 2019 increased $1.6 million, or 7.7%, compared with the same period in 2018. Increases in compensation, technology and communication, and other expenses drove the increase. Bancorp's efficiency ratio in the first three months of 2019 was 55.52% compared with 54.89% in the same period in 2018.

Bancorp recorded income tax expense of $1.8 million for the first three months of 2019, compared to $3.1 million for the same period in 2018. The effective rate for the corresponding three month periods was 10.5% and 18.5%, respectively. The decrease in the effective tax rate from 2018 to 2019 related primarily to a Kentucky state tax law change. In March 2019, the Kentucky Legislature passed HB354 requiring financial institutions to transition from a capital based franchise tax to the Kentucky corporate income tax beginning in 2021. Historically, the franchise tax, a component of non-interest expenses, was assessed at 1.1% of net capital and averaged $2.5 million annually over the prior two year-end periods. The Kentucky corporate income tax will be assessed at 5% of Kentucky taxable income and will be included as a component of current and deferred state income tax expense. Associated with this change, during the first quarter of 2019, Bancorp established a Kentucky state deferred tax asset related to existing temporary differences estimated to reverse after the effective date of the law change. Bancorp recorded a corresponding state tax benefit, net of federal impact of $1.3 million, or approximately $0.06 per diluted share for the first quarter 2019. While this is positive in the short-term, Bancorp anticipates an unfavorable impact of approximately $200 thousand per year beginning in 2021.

The ratio of stockholder's equity to total assets was 11.52% as of March 31, 2019 as compared with 11.10% at December 31, 2018. Total equity increased $11.5 million in the first quarter of 2019 as net income of $15.6 million was offset by dividends declared of $5.7 million. Bancorp's ratio of tangible common equity ("TCE") to total tangible assets was 11.47% as of March 31, 2019, compared with 11.05% at December 31, 2018. TCE, a non-Generally Accepted Accounting Principle ("GAAP") measure, is a measure of a company's capital which is useful in evaluating the quality and adequacy of capital. It consists of a company's common equity less any preferred equity, less intangible assets. Tangible common equity is divided by tangible assets, which equals total assets less intangible assets. See the Non-GAAP Financial Measures section for details on reconciliation to GAAP measures.

Results of Operations

Net income of $15.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2019 increased $2.2 million, or 16.4%, from $13.4 million for the comparable 2018 period. Basic net income per share was $0.69 for the first quarter of 2019, an increase of 16.9% from the $0.59 for the first quarter of 2018. Net income per share on a diluted basis was $0.68 for the first quarter of 2019, an increase of 17.2% from the $0.58 for the same period in 2018. See Note 12 for additional information related to net income per share.

Annualized return on average assets and annualized return on average stockholders' equity were 1.94% and 17.09%, respectively, for the first quarter of 2019, compared with 1.76% and 16.15%, respectively, for the same period in 2018.

Notes to the average balance and interest rate tables:

Average balances for loans include the principal balance of non-accrual loans, as well as all loan premiums, discounts, fees and costs, and exclude participation loans accounted for as secured borrowings. These participation loans averaged $10.3 million and $18.0 million, respectively, for the three month periods ended March 31, 2019 and 2018.

Interest income on a fully tax equivalent basis includes additional amounts of interest income that would have been earned if investments in certain tax-exempt interest earning assets had been made in assets subject to federal taxes yielding the same after-tax income. Interest income on municipal securities and tax-exempt loans has been calculated on a fully tax equivalent basis using a federal income tax rate of 21% for 2019 and 2018. Approximate tax equivalent adjustments to interest income were $56 thousand and $93 thousand, respectively, for the three month periods ended March 31, 2019 and 2018.

Interest income includes loan fees of $481 thousand and $217 thousand for the three months ended March 31, 2019, and March 31, 2018, respectively.

Net interest income, the most significant component of the Bank's earnings represents total interest income less total interest expense. The level of net interest income is determined by mix and volume of interest earning assets, interest bearing deposits and borrowed funds, and changes in interest rates.

Net interest spread is the difference between taxable equivalent rates earned on interest earning assets less the cost of interest bearing liabilities.

Net interest margin represents net interest income on a taxable equivalent basis as a percentage of average interest earning assets. Net interest margin is impacted by both interest rate spread and the level of non-interest bearing sources of funds, primarily consisting of demand deposits and stockholders' equity.

Net interest spread and net interest margin were 3.57% and 3.89%, respectively, for the first quarter of 2019, and 3.65% and 3.79%, respectively, for the first quarter of 2018. Fully taxable equivalent net interest income of $29.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2019 increased $2.3 million, or 8.4%, from $27.4 million for the same period in 2018. Fully taxable equivalent interest income increased $5.2 million or 17.6% for the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the first quarter of 2018, due primarily to increased average loan balances stemming from 2018 loan growth, as well as increased rates earned on loans. Wall Street Journal Prime interest rate was 75 basis points ("bps") higher in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with 2018, which benefited short-term loan and investment pricing, while new, fixed-rate loans originated during the period benefited from a higher five-year treasury yield curve. Taxable securities, and federal funds sold and interest bearing due from banks average balances also increased in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with 2018, as a result of Bancorp deploying excess liquidity into short-term investments, which earned higher yields year over year. In total, average earning assets increased $169.0 million or 5.77% to $3.1 billion for the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. The average rate on earnings assets increased 46 bps to 4.59%, as Bancorp benefited from a generally higher interest rate environment.

Interest expense increased due primarily to rising deposit costs, and strategic growth in interest bearing demand deposits and time deposits. Average interest bearing liabilities increased $105.7 million, or 5.2%, to $2.1 billion for the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. Growth in average interest bearing demand deposits and time deposits was partially offset by declines in money market deposits, and securities sold under agreements to repurchase. The average cost of interest bearing liabilities increased 54 bps to 1.02% for the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the first quarter of 2018. Bancorp increased rates paid on money market accounts in the first half of 2018 in addition to launching a marketing campaign promoting certificate of deposit accounts. Costs of money market deposit accounts and time deposits increased 62 bps, and 106 bps, respectively, in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. The average balance of securities sold under agreements to repurchase (“SSUARs”) decreased $33.7 million, or 47.3%, as customers migrated from lower yielding collateralized products to higher yielding non-collateralized deposits.

Going forward yield curve inversion could pose a significant challenge if loans were to be originated and repriced at a relatively low five-year portion of the treasury yield curve, while deposits and other funding sources priced or re-priced based upon a stagnant or increasing shorter end of the curve.

Table of ContentsAsset/Liability Management and Interest Rate Risk

Managing interest rate risk is fundamental for the financial services industry. The primary objective of interest rate risk management is to neutralize effects of interest rate changes on net income. By considering both on and off-balance sheet financial instruments, management evaluates interest rate sensitivity with the goal of optimizing net interest income within the constraints of prudent capital adequacy, liquidity needs, market opportunities and customer requirements.

Interest Rate Simulation Sensitivity Analysis

Bancorp uses an earnings simulation model to estimate and evaluate the impact of an immediate change in interest rates on earnings in a one year forecast. The simulation model is designed to reflect dynamics of interest earning assets and interest bearing liabilities. By estimating effects of interest rate fluctuations, the model can approximate interest rate risk exposure. This simulation model is used by management to gauge approximate results given a specific change in interest rates at a given point in time. The model is therefore a tool to indicate earnings trends in given interest rate scenarios and may not indicate actual expected results.

The March 31, 2019 simulation analysis, which shows moderate interest rate sensitivity, indicates that increases in interest rates of 100 to 200 basis points would have a positive effect on net interest income, and decreases of 100 to 200 basis points in interest rates would have a negative effect on net interest income. The moderate increase in net interest income in the rising rate scenarios is primarily due to variable rate loans and short-term investments repricing more quickly than deposits and short-term borrowings. Asset balances subject to immediate repricing cause an estimated decline in net interest income in down 100 and 200 basis point rate scenarios, as rates on non-maturity deposits cannot be lowered sufficiently to offset declining interest income. These estimates are summarized below.

	Change in Rates
	-200	-100	+100	+200
	Basis	Basis	Basis	Basis
	Points	Points	Points	Points
% Change from base net interest income at March 31, 2019	-11.00%	-1.23 %	3.03 %	6.08 %

Approximately 60% of Bancorp's loan portfolio has fixed rates with 40% priced at variable rates. With the Prime rate currently at 5.50%, Bancorp's variable rate loans are beyond their floors and will reprice as rates change.

Undesignated derivative instruments described in Note 17 to Bancorp's consolidated financial statements are recognized on the consolidated balance sheet at fair value, with changes in fair value recorded in other non-interest income as interest rates fluctuate. Because of matching terms of offsetting contracts, in addition to collateral provisions which mitigate the impact of non-performance risk, changes in fair value subsequent to initial recognition have a minimal effect on earnings, and are therefore not included in the simulation analysis results above.

Derivatives designated as cash flow hedges described in Note 18 to Bancorp's consolidated financial statements are recognized on the consolidated balance sheet at fair value, with changes in fair value due to changes in prevailing interest rates, recorded net of tax in other comprehensive income.

Provision for Loan and Lease Losses

The provision reflects results of an allowance methodology that is driven by risk ratings, historical losses, specific loan loss allocations, and qualitative factors. For the three-month period ended March 31, 2019, Bancorp recorded a $600 thousand provision for loan and lease losses (“provision”), compared with $735 thousand for the same period in 2018. The provision represents a charge to earnings necessary to maintain an allowance that, in management’s evaluation, is adequate to provide coverage for the inherent losses on outstanding loans. The provision reflects many factors including trends in the portfolio, as well as changes in quantitative and qualitative factors. Reflecting a moderate increase in classified loans and net recoveries of $330 thousand in the first quarter of 2019, the allowance to total loans was 1.05% as of March 31, 2019, compared with 0.96% as of March 31, 2018. In management’s opinion, the allowance remained adequate to cover potential losses within the portfolio.

Key indicators of loan quality remained consistent with prior years with the exception of increased classified balances which increased $9.9 million during the first quarter of 2019, as compared with December 31, 2018. Also, consistent with Bancorp’s methodology, the historical look-back period was extended from 32 to 36 quarters in the first quarter of 2019 to all classes and segments of the portfolio. Management believes the expansion of the look-back period more accurately represents the current level of risk in the loan portfolio, and captures the effects of a full economic cycle. Based on the look-back period extension, the allowance level increased approximately $2.0 million for the first three months of 2019. Additional information regarding Bancorp’s methodology for evaluating the adequacy of the allowance can be read in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10K.

Non-performing loans, consisting of TDRs, non-accrual loans, and loans over 90 days past due still accruing, increased to $3.8 million at March 31, 2019 from $3.4 million at December 31, 2018, while decreasing $8.5 million from $12.3 million at March 31, 2018. Bancorp considers the present asset quality metrics to be strong; however, recognizing the cyclical nature of the lending business, this trend is expected to normalize over the long term.

Bancorp’s loan portfolio is diversified with no significant concentrations of credit. Geographically, most loans are extended to borrowers in the metropolitan areas of Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati. The adequacy of the allowance is monitored on an ongoing basis and it is the opinion of management that the balance of the allowance at March 31, 2019 is adequate to absorb probable losses inherent in the loan portfolio as of the financial statement date.

Loans are charged off when deemed uncollectible and a loss is identified or after underlying collateral has been liquidated; however, collection efforts may continue and future recoveries may occur. Periodically, loans are partially charged off to net realizable value based upon collateral analysis and collection status. One commercial loan was charged off to its net realizable value in the first quarter of 2018, which resulted in increased net charge offs for the three month period ending March 31, 2018. The increase in the allowance in the first quarter of 2019 was mainly due to qualitative considerations, increased classified loan balances in the first quarter of 2019, offset by net recoveries of $330 thousand. At March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, the allowance remained adequate to cover potential losses in the loan portfolio, in management's opinion.

The largest component of non-interest income is WM&T revenue. The magnitude of WM&T revenue distinguishes Bancorp from other community banks of similar asset size. Trust assets under management totaled $2.97 billion at March 31, 2019, a 3.03% increase compared with $2.88 billion at March 31, 2018, and a 7.41% increase from $2.76 billion at December 31, 2018. AUM are stated at market value. WM&T revenue, which represents 49% of non-interest income, decreased $61 thousand, or 1.1%, for the three months ended March 31, 2019 compared with the same period in 2018, as stock market declines experienced in the fourth quarter of 2018 negatively impacted first quarter 2019 revenue. Recurring fees earned for managing accounts are based on a percentage of market value of AUM and are typically assessed on a monthly basis. Recurring fees, which generally comprise over 98% of the WM&T revenue, decreased $83 thousand, or 1.5%, in the first quarter of 2019, compared with the same time period in 2018. Some revenues of the WM&T department, most notably executor, insurance, and some employee benefit plan-related fees, are non-recurring in nature and the timing of these revenues corresponds with the related administrative activities, and is also based on the market value of AUM. Total non-recurring fees increased $22 thousand or 21.8% in the first quarter of 2019 compared with the first quarter of 2018. Contracts between WM&T and their clients do not permit performance based fees and accordingly, none of the fees earned by WM&T are performance based. Management believes the WM&T department will continue to factor significantly in Bancorp's financial results and provide strategic diversity to revenue streams. Based upon the stock market recovery in the first quarter of 2019, WM&T is expected to deliver low single digit growth in 2019, provided positive market trends continue, however market volatility could affect near-term results.

(1) Non-managed assets represent those for which WM&T does not have investment discretion.

The table above provides information regarding assets under management (“AUM”) by WM&T. This table demonstrates that:

- Approximately 81% of AUM are actively managed.
- Corporate retirement plan accounts consist primarily of participant directed assets.
- The amount of custody and safekeeping accounts is insignificant, and
- The majority of managed assets are in personal trust, agency, and investment advisory accounts.

The table above presents data regarding WM&T managed assets by class of investment. Managed assets are invested in instruments for which market values can be readily determined, the majority of which are sensitive to market fluctuations. This table demonstrates that:

- The composition of managed assets is divided approximately 60% in equities and 40% in fixed income securities, and this composition is relatively consistent from year to year, and
- WM&T has no proprietary mutual funds.

The table above provides information regarding fee income earned by Bancorp's WM&T department. It demonstrates that WM&T fee revenue is earned most significantly from personal trust and investment advisory accounts. Fees are based on AUM and tailored for individual accounts and/or relationships. WM&T uses a fee structure that is tailored based on account type and other factors. For example, fee structures are in place for investment management, irrevocable trusts, revocable trusts, IRA accounts, and accounts holding only fixed income securities. There are also fee structures for estate settlements, which are non-recurring, and retirement plan services which typically consist of a one-time conversion fee with recurring AUM fees to follow. All fees are based on the market value of each account and are tiered based on account size, with larger relationships paying a lower percentage of AUM in fees. Fees are agreed upon at the time the account is opened and these and any subsequent revisions are communicated in writing to the customer. Fees earned are not performance based nor are they based on investment strategy or transactions.

Additional sources of non-interest income

Deposit service charges decreased $164 thousand, or 11.6%, for the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. Service charge income is driven by transaction volume, which can fluctuate throughout the year. The first quarter decrease is consistent with the decline in fees earned on overdrawn checking accounts. While management expects this source of revenue to slowly decline due to anticipated changes in customer behavior, including reduced check volume, and ongoing regulatory restrictions, the decline is anticipated to be less significant than what was experienced in the first quarter of 2019.

Debit and credit card revenue increased $236 thousand, or 15.6%, in the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. The increase in the first quarter of 2019 reflected increased volume resulting from continued growth in the commercial credit cards customer base. Volume, which is dependent on customer behavior and new accounts, is expected to continue to increase. Credit card interchange income and ancillary credit card fees increased $148 thousand, or 45%, and debit card interchange increased $88 thousand or 7.46%, in the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. Bancorp expects to experience a slight decrease in interchange rates as service providers gravitate to lower cost options within the market, however, growth in accounts is anticipated to offset the decline in rates.

Treasury management fees primarily consists of fees earned for cash management services provided to commercial customers. This category has been a growing source of revenue for Bancorp including an increase in the first three months of 2019 of $110 thousand or 10.5% over the same period in 2018. Bancorp continues to expect growth in this income category in 2019 based upon an expanding customer base and as more existing customers take advantage of offered services.

Mortgage banking income primarily includes gains on sales of mortgage loans. Bancorp's mortgage banking department originates residential mortgage loans to be sold in the secondary market. Interest rates on the loans sold are locked with the borrower and investor prior to closing the loans, thus Bancorp bears no interest rate risk related to these loans. The department offers conventional, Veterans Administration ("VA") and Federal Housing Authority ("FHA") financing, for purchases and refinances, as well as programs for first-time home buyers. Interest rates on mortgage loans directly impact the volume of business transacted by the mortgage banking department. Mortgage banking revenue decreased $94 thousand, or 16.3%, for the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same periods in 2018, due to lower transaction volume. In Bancorp's primary market of Louisville, Kentucky, the housing inventory continued to be relatively low, contributing to this decline. Refinancing activity, which slowed in 2018 as a result of rising interest rates, could increase if mortgage rates decline in 2019.

Net investment product sales commissions and fees decreased $48 thousand, or 11.9%, for the three-month period ended March 31, 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. The decrease corresponds primarily to overall brokerage volume. Managed account balances were down in the first quarter of 2019 as a result of the stock market decline in the fourth quarter of 2018. Brokerage commissions and fees earned consist primarily of stock, bond and mutual fund sales, as well as wrap fees on accounts. Wrap fees are charges for investment programs that bundle together a suite of services, such as brokerage, advisory, research and management, and are based on a percentage of assets. Bancorp deploys its brokers primarily through its branch network via an arrangement with a third party broker-dealer, while larger managed accounts are serviced in the Bank's WM&T department.

Bank owned life insurance ("BOLI") assets represent the cash surrender value of life insurance policies on certain key employees who have provided consent for Bancorp to be the beneficiary of a portion of such policies. The related change in cash surrender value and any death benefits received under the policies are recorded as non-interest income. This income helps offset the cost of various employee benefits. Income related to BOLI decreased to $178 thousand in the first quarter of 2019 compared with $187 thousand for the same time period in 2018, as a result of decreasing crediting rates on investments.

Other non-interest income increased $183 thousand, or 66.3%, for the first quarter of 2019 compared with the same period in 2018. In the first quarter of 2019 Bancorp recognized income of $126 thousand related to incentive received to relocate a banking center location.

Non-interest expenses

Compensation, which includes salaries, incentives, bonuses, and stock based compensation, increased $831 thousand, or 7.6%, for the first quarter of 2019, compared with the same period in 2018. Personnel additions related to Bancorp's growth along with annual salary increases drove the increase. At March 31, 2019, Bancorp had 596 full-time equivalent employees compared with 589 at March 31, 2018.

Employee benefits consists of all personnel related expense not included in compensation, with the most significant items being health insurance, payroll taxes, and retirement plan contributions. Employee benefits were flat year over year. The directional inconsistency when comparing to compensation is attributable to lower health insurance claims during the first quarter of 2019 compared to the same period in 2018.

Net occupancy and equipment expense increased $40 thousand, or 2.2%, in the first quarter of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018. This category primarily includes rent, depreciation, and maintenance, variances for which were not individually significant. Costs of capital asset additions flow through the statement of income over the lives of the assets in the form of depreciation expense.

Technology and communications expense increased $143 thousand, or 8.8% in the first quarter of 2019 compared with the same period in 2018 due largely to increases in computer infrastructure upgrades and maintenance costs. These expenses include ongoing computer software amortization, equipment depreciation, and expenditures related to investments in technology needed to maintain and improve the quality of customer delivery channels, information security, and internal resources.

Bancorp outsources processing for debit and credit card operations, which generate significant revenue. These expenses increase as transaction volume increases, offsetting a portion of corresponding revenue growth. Debit and credit card processing increased $21 thousand, or 3.7% in the first three months of 2019, as compared with the same period in 2018, as a result of rising transaction volume.

Marketing and business development expenses include all costs associated with promoting Bancorp, community investment, retaining customers, and acquiring new business. Expenses decreased $21 thousand, or 3.3% in the first quarter of 2019 compared with the first quarter of 2018. A general increase in travel, meals, and entertainment expense, was more than offset by a decline in contribution expense.

Table of Contents

Postage, printing and supplies expenses increased $15 thousand, or 3.8% in the first quarter of 2019 compared with the same time period in 2018.

Legal and professional fees increased $41 thousand, or 8.3% to $534 thousand in the first quarter of 2019 from $493 thousand in the first quarter of 2018. Costs associated with CECL engagements drove the increase.

FDIC insurance expense was flat year over year. The assessment is calculated by the FDIC, and any fluctuation in expense is directly related to changes in Bancorp's balance sheet.

Amortization/impairment of investments in tax credit partnerships increased $52 thousand for the first quarter of 2019 compared with the same period of 2018, as Bancorp did not record any expense in the first quarter of 2018. These partnerships generate federal income tax credits. For each of Bancorp's investments in tax credit partnerships, the tax benefit compared with related expenses results in a positive effect on net income. Amounts of credits and corresponding expenses can vary widely depending upon timing and magnitude of the investments. See the Income Taxes section below for details on amortization and income tax impact for these credits.

Other non-interest expenses increased $433 thousand, or 55.1% in the first quarter of 2019 compared with the same period in 2018. The increase for 2019 was largely due to director compensation increasing $260 thousand, primarily due to market-tied deferred compensation, gains on the sale of other real estate declining $87 thousand, and fraud related losses increasing $74 thousand.

Income Taxes

Bancorp recorded income tax expense of $1.8 million for the first three months of 2019, compared to $3.1 million for the same period in 2018. The effective rate for the corresponding three month periods was 10.5% and 18.5%, respectively. The decrease in the effective tax rate from 2018 to 2019 related primarily to a Kentucky state tax law change. In March 2019, the Kentucky Legislature passed HB354 requiring financial institutions to transition from a capital based franchise tax to the Kentucky corporate income tax beginning in 2021. Historically, the franchise tax, a component of non-interest expenses, was assessed at 1.1% of net capital and averaged $2.5 million annually over the prior two year-end periods. The Kentucky corporate income tax will be assessed at 5% of Kentucky taxable income and will be included as a component of current and deferred state income tax expense. Associated with this change, during the first quarter of 2019, Bancorp established a Kentucky state deferred tax asset related to existing temporary differences estimated to reverse after the effective date of the law change. Bancorp recorded a corresponding state tax benefit, net of federal impact of $1.3 million, or approximately $0.06 per diluted share for the first quarter 2019. While this is positive in the short-term, Bancorp anticipates an unfavorable impact of approximately $200 thousand per year beginning in 2021.

Commitments

As detailed in the Commitments footnote, Bancorp uses a variety of financial instruments in the normal course of business to meet the financial needs of its customers. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit and standby letters of credit.

Other commitments discussed in Bancorp's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018, have not materially changed since that report was filed, relative to qualitative and quantitative disclosures of fixed and determinable contractual obligations.

Table of ContentsFinancial Condition*Balance Sheet

Total assets remained level at $3.3 billion at both March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018. In the first three months of 2019 decreases in loans, federal funds sold and interest bearing due from banks, were offset by increased available for sale securities. Gross loans decreased $22.5 million, or less than 1%, primarily as a result of elevated commercial and industrial loan and commercial real estate (CRE) loan payoffs mainly attributable to underlying collateral sales. Securities available for sale increased $70.1 million, or 16.0%, over the first three months of 2019, as excess liquidity was deployed into short-term securities. The increase also included market value improvement in the portfolio with net unrealized losses at March 31, 2019 of $3.3 million as compared with $6.7 million at December 31, 2018. Other assets increased $16.8 million or 35.7%, primarily the result establishing a right of use lease asset upon adopting ASU 2016-02, Leases in the first quarter of 2019.

Total liabilities also remained level at $2.9 billion at both March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018. Total deposits decreased $41.8 million or 1.5%, consistent with expected seasonal decreases experienced in both non-interest bearing deposits, $12.2 million, or 1.7%, and interest bearing demand deposit accounts, $45.6 million, or 5.1%. Savings accounts increased $6.0 million, or 3.9%, and time deposits increased $9.7 million or 2.8%. Securities sold under agreements to repurchase decreased $1.5 million, or 4.0%, due to normal cyclical activity, and the continuation of customers migrating to higher-yielding, non-collateralized deposits. Federal funds purchased and other short-term borrowing increased $2.0 million, or 19.2%, period to period. Bancorp uses short-term lines of credit to manage its overall liquidity position. Other liabilities increased $8.2 million, or 17.7%, largely due to the addition of ASU 2016-02, Leases, in the first quarter of 2019.

(1) Consists of land acquired for development by the borrower, but for which no development has yet taken place.

Bancorp occasionally enters into loan participation agreements with other banks to diversify credit risk. For certain participation loans sold, Bancorp has retained effective control of the loans, typically by restricting the participating institutions from pledging or selling their share ownership of the loan without permission from Bancorp. US GAAP requires the participated portion of these loans to be recorded as secured borrowings. These participated loans are included in the commercial and industrial and real estate mortgage loan portfolio segments, and a corresponding liability is recorded in other liabilities. At March 31, 2019 and December 31, 2018, the total participated portions of loans of this nature were $10.2 million and $10.5 million, respectively.

Table of ContentsAllowance for Loan and Lease Losses

An allowance has been established to provide for probable losses on loans that may not be fully repaid. The allowance is increased by provisions charged to expense and decreased by charge-offs, net of recoveries. Loans are typically charged off when management deems them uncollectible and after underlying collateral has been liquidated; however, collection efforts continue and future recoveries may occur. Periodically, loans are partially charged off to the net realizable value based upon evaluation of related underlying collateral, including Bancorp's proclivity for resolution.

The allowance methodology is driven by risk ratings, historical losses, and qualitative factors. The level of the March 31, 2019 allowance reflected a number of factors, including credit quality metrics which were generally consistent with prior periods, and expansion of the historical look-back period from 32 quarters to 36 quarters. This expansion of the historical period was applied to all classes and segments of the portfolio. Expansion of the look-back period for historical loss rates used in the quantitative allocation caused review of the overall methodology for qualitative factors to ensure we were appropriately capturing risk not addressed in the quantitative historical loss rate. Management believes extension of the look-back period is appropriate to ensure capture of the impact of a full economic cycle and more accurately represents the current level of risk inherent in the loan portfolio. Key indicators of loan quality continued to trend at levels consistent with prior periods, however management recognizes that due to the cyclical nature of the lending business, these trends will likely normalize over the long term. Additional information regarding Bancorp's methodology for evaluating the adequacy of the allowance can be read in Bancorp's Annual Report on Form 10K.

As of March 31, 2019 the allowance was $26.5 million, a $930 thousand increase from the December 31, 2018 balance of $25.5 million. For the comparative periods, the allowance as a percent of average loans was 1.05% and 1.01%, respectively. The allowance as a percent of period end loans, as of each period end, 1.05% and 1.00%, respectively. The increase in the first quarter of 2019 reflects a moderate increase in classified balances and net recoveries of $330 thousand. As of March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, the allowance remained adequate to cover potential losses in the loan portfolio, in management's opinion.

Non-performing Loans and Assets

In total, non-performing assets as of March 31, 2019 were comprised of 29 loans, ranging in amount from $1 thousand to $667 thousand, two accruing TDRs, and foreclosed real estate held for sale. Foreclosed real estate held at March 31, 2019 included a 1-4 family residential property and two commercial real estate properties.

Liquidity

The role of liquidity management is to ensure funds are available to meet depositors' withdrawal and borrowers' credit demands while at the same time maximizing profitability. This is accomplished by balancing changes in demand for funds with changes in supply of those funds. Liquidity is provided by short-term liquid assets that can be converted to cash, investment securities available for sale, various lines of credit available to Bancorp, and the ability to attract funds from external sources, principally deposits. Management believes it has the ability to increase deposits at any time by offering rates slightly higher than market rate.

Bancorp's most liquid assets are comprised of cash and due from banks, available for sale marketable investment securities, federal funds sold and interest bearing due from accounts with banks. Federal funds sold and interest bearing due from bank accounts totaled $67.3 million at March 31, 2019. These investments normally have overnight maturities and are used for general daily liquidity purposes.

Available for sale securities totaled $507.1 million, at March 31, 2019, with $205.4 million in securities expected to mature over the next 12 months. Combined with federal funds sold and interest bearing due from bank accounts, these offer substantial resources to meet either new loan demand or reductions in Bancorp's deposit funding base. Bancorp pledges portions of the securities portfolio to secure public fund deposits, cash balances of certain WM&T accounts, and securities sold under agreements to repurchase. At March 31, 2019, total investment securities pledged for these purposes comprised 70% of the available for sale investment portfolio, leaving approximately $151.5 million of unpledged securities.

Bancorp has a significant base of non-maturity customer deposits, defined as demand, savings, money market deposit accounts and time deposits less than or equal to $250,000 (excluding brokered deposits). At March 31, 2019, such deposits totaled $2.7 billion and represented 97% of Bancorp's total deposits, as compared with $2.7 billion, or 97% of total deposits at December 31, 2018. Because these deposits are less volatile and are often tied to other products of Bancorp through long lasting relationships they do not put heavy pressure on liquidity. As market conditions continue to improve, these balances may decrease, putting strain on Bancorp's liquidity position. Bancorp began adding liquidity to the balance sheet in 2018 through targeted certificate of deposit marketing campaigns. The campaigns generated $111 million in certificate of deposit growth in 2018.

As of March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018, Bancorp had brokered deposits of $29.8 million.

Included in total deposit balances at March 31, 2019 is $191.3 million of public funds deposits generally comprised of accounts from local government agencies and public school districts in the markets Bancorp operates within. As a result of property tax collections in the latter part of each year these accounts provide seasonal excess balances that originate with tax payments and decline leading into the next tax season. While this excess liquidity is maintained in low-yielding short-term investments and consequently negatively impacts net interest margin, it has a positive impact on net interest income.

Table of Contents

Other sources of funds available to meet daily needs include the sales of securities under agreement to repurchase. As a member of the FHLB of Cincinnati, Bancorp has access to credit products offered by the FHLB. Bancorp views these borrowings as a low cost alternative to brokered deposits. At March 31, 2019, available credit from the FHLB totaled $523.7 million, as compared with $537.0 million as of December 31, 2018. Additionally, Bancorp had available federal funds purchased lines with correspondent banks totaling $105.0 million at both March 31, 2019, and December 31, 2018.

Bancorp's principal source of cash is dividends paid to it as sole shareholder of the Bank. At March 31, 2019, the Bank could pay up to $68.4 million in dividends to Bancorp without regulatory approval subject to the ongoing capital requirements of the Bank. The Bank will pay the Holding Company a $28 million dividend in April, 2019, to consummate the acquisition of King Bancorp, Inc. This will not significantly hamper the Bank's ability to pay dividends in the future.

Capital Resources

At March 31, 2019, stockholders' equity totaled $378.0 million, an increase of $11.5 million since December 31, 2018. See the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Stockholders' Equity for further detail of changes in equity since the end of 2018. One component of equity is accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) which, for Bancorp, consists of net unrealized gains or losses on securities available for sale and hedging instruments, as well as a minimum pension liability, each net of income taxes. Accumulated other comprehensive loss was $2.5 million at March 31, 2019 compared with a loss of $5.1 million on December 31, 2018. The $2.6 million increase is primarily a reflection of the effect of the changing interest rate environment during the first three months of 2019 on the valuation of Bancorp's portfolio of available for sale securities.

The following table sets forth Bancorp's and the Bank's risk based capital ratios:

	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Total risk-based capital (1)
Consolidated	14.04 %	13.91	%
Bank	13.74	13.56
Common equity tier 1 risk-based capital (1)
Consolidated	13.11	13.00
Bank	12.82	12.65

Tier 1 risk-based capital (1)
Consolidated	13.11	13.00
Bank	12.82	12.65
Leverage (2)
Consolidated	11.57	11.33
Bank	11.31	11.02

(1) Under banking agencies' risk-based capital guidelines, assets and credit-equivalent amounts of derivatives and off-balance sheet exposures are assigned to broad risk categories. The aggregate dollar amount in each risk category is multiplied by the associated risk weight of the category. Weighted values are added together, resulting in Bancorp's total risk-weighted assets. These ratios are computed in relation to average assets.

(2) Ratio is computed in relation to average assets.

Bancorp and the Bank are subject to capital regulations in accordance with Basel III, as administered by banking regulators. Regulatory agencies measure capital adequacy within a framework that makes capital requirements, in part, dependent on the individual risk profiles of financial institutions. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory and possibly additional discretionary actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on Bancorp's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Holding Company and the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of Bancorp's assets, liabilities and certain off-balance sheet items, as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators regarding components, risk weightings and other factors.

Table of Contents

Banking regulators have categorized the Bank as well-capitalized. For prompt corrective action, the regulations in accordance with Basel III define “well capitalized” as a 6.5% Common Equity Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital ratio, an 8.0% Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital ratio, a 10.0% Total Risk-Based Capital ratio and a 5.0% Tier 1 Leverage ratio.

Additionally, in order to avoid limitations on capital distributions, including dividend payments and certain discretionary bonus payments to executive officers, Bancorp and Bank must hold a capital conservation buffer composed of Common Equity Tier 1 Risk-Based Capital above their minimum risk-based capital requirements. The capital conservation buffer phased in from 2016 to 2019 on the following schedule: a capital conservation buffer of 0.625% effective January 1, 2016; 1.25% effective January 1, 2017; 1.875% effective January 1, 2018; and a fully phased in capital conservation buffer of 2.5% on January 1, 2019.

Bancorp continues to exceed the regulatory requirements for Total Risk Based Capital, Common Equity Tier I Risk Based, Tier I Risk Based Capital and Tier I Leverage Capital. Bancorp and the Bank intend to maintain a capital position that meets or exceeds the “well-capitalized” requirements as defined by the FRB and the FDIC, in addition to the Capital Conservation Buffer.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The following table provides a reconciliation of total stockholders’ equity in accordance with GAAP to tangible stockholders’ equity in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements, a non-GAAP disclosure. Bancorp provides the tangible book value per share, a non-GAAP measure, in addition to those defined by banking regulators, because of its widespread use by investors as a means to evaluate capital adequacy.

The following table reconciles Bancorp’s calculation of tangible common equity to amounts reported under GAAP.

(In thousands, except per share data)	March 31, 2019	December 31, 2018

In addition to the efficiency ratio normally presented, Bancorp considers an adjusted efficiency ratio. Bancorp believes excluding amortization of investments in tax credit partnerships from non-interest expense in this ratio is important because it provides a meaningful comparison to both prior periods, since amortization expense can fluctuate widely between periods depending upon timing of tax credits, and to other companies who do not invest in these partnerships.
