Motorola's Sale Plan was completed on August 18, 1999.

Item 5. Interest in Securities of the Issuer

Item 5 is amended and restated to read as follows:

Edgar Filing: NEXTEL COMMUNICATIONS INC - Form SC 13D/A

(a) - (c) Motorola is the beneficial owner (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")) of 108,190,768 shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock (See Footnote 1) (constituting 14.2% of the total outstanding shares of Nextel's Class A Common Stock). As to such shares, Motorola may be deemed to exercise sole voting and sole dispositive power with respect to 101,167,768 shares and shared voting and dispositive power as to 7,023,000 shares (including 35,053,780 and 606,220 shares of Class B Non-Voting Common Stock, respectively, which are convertible in certain circumstances into Class A Common Stock). (David Robinson, Executive Vice President and President, Broadband Communications Sector of Motorola has sole voting and investment control of 183 shares of Nextel's Class A shares, a negligible percent of the total outstanding shares of Nextel's Class A shares.)

Motorola SMR is the beneficial owner (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act) of 2,023,000 shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock (constituting .28 % of the total outstanding shares of Nextel's Class A Common Stock). As to such shares (which includes 606,220 shares of Class B Non-Voting Common Stock which are convertible in certain circumstances into Class A Common Stock), Motorola SMR may be deemed to exercise shared voting and dispositive power.

Motorola Canada is the beneficial owner (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act) of 5,000,000 shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock (constituting .69 % of the total outstanding shares of Nextel's Class A Common Stock). As to such shares, Motorola Canada may be deemed to exercise shared voting and dispositive power.

None of Motorola, Motorola SMR, Motorola Canada, or any of the individuals in Appendices 1 through 3 has had any transactions in Nextel Class A Common Stock during the past 60 days except the transactions contemplated by the Sale Plan and as described in Item 6 hereof.

(d) Not applicable.

(e) Not applicable.

Item 6. Contracts, Arrangements, Understandings or Relationships with Respect to Securities of the Issuer

Item 6 is amended as follows:

The eleventh and twelfth paragraphs of Item 6 are amended and restated to read as follows:

As part of its agreements, the Investor or certain affiliates of the Investor had to offer to acquire the remainder of Motorola's shares of Nextel Common Stock at a per share price of at least 110% of the average of the closing prices of the Nextel Common Stock over the 30 trading days preceding the public announcement by Nextel of the decision to implement a switch in technology. This provision expired on August 1, 2000.

The former thirteenth paragraph of Item 6 is amended and restated to read as follows:

Also in connection with the Securities Purchase Agreement, Motorola granted Investor an option to purchase up to an additional 18,000,000 shares of Nextel Common Stock (adjusted to reflect Nextel's 2:1 stock split effective May 26, 2000) in three tranches over a six-year period. The Investor exercised its option to purchase the first tranche in full on August 25, 1997 and its option to purchase the second tranche in full on August 25, 1999. The remaining tranche will be exercisable for up to 10,000,000 shares at $10.75 per share (adjusted to reflect Nextel's 2:1 stock split effective May 26, 2000) during the 30-day period following July 28, 2001. In addition, subject to certain limitations, Motorola has granted Investor a right of first refusal to purchase shares of Nextel Common Stock owned by Motorola. However, Investor has agreed to waive its right of first refusal under the Securities Purchase Agreement to purchase shares of Nextel Common Stock owned by Motorola in connection with any pledge and security interest in favor of the lenders described below and sales by Motorola through the end of 2001

Edgar Filing: NEXTEL COMMUNICATIONS INC - Form SC 13D/A

The following paragraph is added as the fifteenth paragraph of Item 6, as amended:

As previously reported, Motorola entered into a $2 billion multi-draw term loan facility on March 28, 2001 with several lenders. The facility expires on November 16, 2001. The terms of the facility, including conditions, covenants and representations are similar to those in Motorola's one-year and five-year revolving domestic credit agreements. In addition, net proceeds of the sale of identified assets, including the Nextel Common Stock owned by Motorola, must be used to repay the facility or reduce any unused commitment under the facility. If Motorola's senior unsecured non-credit enhanced long term debt securities is rated BBB- by S&P or Baa3 by Moody's (which would be a decline of four ratings) or lower, then Motorola's and its domestic subsidiaries will be obligated to provide the lenders with a pledge of, and security interest in, identified assets including the Nextel Common Stock owned by Motorola, certain other marketable securities, domestic inventories and receivables, and certain businesses if not sold at the time this contingency has occurred. The terms of any such pledge and security interest have not been and will not be, negotiated with the lenders unless and until the contingency occurs.

After reasonable inquiry and to the best of our knowledge and belief, we certify that the information set forth in this statement is true, complete and correct.

(Footnote 1) Motorola's beneficial ownership of Nextel Class A Common Stock consists of (i) 72,530,768 shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock and (ii) 35,660,000 shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock deemed to be outstanding under Rule 13D-3(d) under the Exchange Act as a result of Motorola's ownership of 35,660,000 shares of Nextel Class B Common Stock (which are non-voting and may, under certain circumstances, be converted by Motorola into shares of Nextel Class A Common Stock on a one-for-one basis).
