EXHIBIT 99.1

Zoom Technologies Reports Results for the Third Quarter of 2004

Boston, MA, October 27, 2004 -Zoom Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ: ZOOM), a leading manufacturer of modems and other data communication products, today reported net sales of $7.1 million for the third quarter of 2004, down 21.5% from $9.1 million for the third quarter of 2003. Zoom's ADSL modem sales for the third quarter of 2004 more than doubled from the third quarter of 2003, but this strong growth was not sufficient to offset the decline in dial-up modem sales in the same time period.

Zoom reported a net loss of $1.0 million or $.12 per diluted share for its third quarter ended September 30, 2004, compared to Zoom's net income of $.4 million or $.05 per diluted share in the third quarter of 2003, due primarily to reduced gross profit.

Gross profit was $1.5 million or 21.0% of net sales in the third quarter of 2004, down from $3.0 million or 32.5% of net sales in the third quarter of 2003. The reduced gross profit resulted primarily from the reduction in sales and from lower gross margin on those sales. Gross margin was lower primarily due to the shift of Zoom's product mix away from dial-up modems, Zoom's highest margin product category, the negative effect of manufacturing absorption spread over lower sales, and a significant price protection credit in the UK.

Operating expenses were $2.6 million or 36.6% of net sales in the third quarter of 2004 compared to $2.6 million or 29.1% of net sales in the third quarter of 2003. Selling expenses dropped $261 thousand, primarily due to lower dial-up modem sales to US retailers. R&D expenses rose $62 thousand, reflecting Zoom's ongoing commitment to new product development. General and administrative expenses rose $169 thousand, primarily due to two one-time settlements which favorably affected Zoom's bad debt allowance in Q3 2003.

Zoom's cash balance on September 30, 2004 was $10.3 million, up from $9.9 million on December 31, 2003. The exercise of stock options by Zoom employees in 2004 added $2.0 million to Zoom's cash balance. On September 30, 2004 Zoom's current ratio was 5.9.

"These results show how important it is for Zoom to continue to grow our ADSL modem sales and to establish success with our VoIP products," said Frank Manning, Zoom's President and CEO. "In November and December 2004 we expect to begin shipping a new generation of ADSL modems, and we expect this will help us to grow our ADSL revenues and improve our ADSL gross margins. Zoom recently began shipping its first VoIP product, the Zoom ADSL X5v, and we plan to build on that product's momentum soon by shipping our second VoIP product, the V3, which is designed for customers who have a cable modem or ADSL modem."

Zoom has scheduled a conference call to further discuss Zoom and Zoom's Q3 2004 results on Wednesday, October 27th at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Time. You may access the conference call by dialing (800) 915-4836 for calls made within the United States and dialing (973) 317-5319 for calls outside the United States. Shortly after the conference call, a recorded broadcast will be available on Zoom's website. This release contains forward-looking information relating to Zoom's plans, expectations and intentions, including statements relating to Zoom's plans to introduce new VoIP and ADSL products, and any expected improvement in Zoom's results of operations due to new product introductions. Actual results may be materially different from those expectations as a result of known and unknown risks, including Zoom's potential future results; Zoom's ability to obtain additional financing for working capital and other purposes, if needed; Zoom's prospects in the dial-up modem market, which has the potential for reduced sales, lower margins, and less favorable selling terms; the uncertainty of market growth of VoIP and of cable and ADSL modem markets, and the uncertainty of Zoom's ability to more successfully penetrate those markets, which have been challenging markets with significant barriers to entry; Zoom's reliance on a relatively limited number of customers for sale of its DSL modems; Zoom's ability to effectively manage its inventory; uncertainty of new product development and introduction, including budget overruns, project delays and the risk that newly introduced products may contain undetected errors or defects or otherwise not perform as anticipated, and other delays in shipments of products; Zoom's dependence on one or a limited number of suppliers for certain key components; rapid technological change; Zoom's increasing reliance on international sales; competition; and other risks set forth in Zoom's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
