The St. Paul's results in the second quarter of 2002 included a $585 million pretax loss provision ($380 million after-tax) related to the previously announced settlement of the Western MacArthur asbestos litigation. Excluding the impact of that settlement, net income for the second quarter would have been $157 million, or $0.71 per diluted share. The company's estimate of the impact of the Western MacArthur settlement includes the application of approximately $150 million of asbestos reserves and $250 million in net reinsurance recoverables. Related to the Western MacArthur settlement, and as part of an in-depth analysis of the company's asbestos and environmental reserves, the company recorded a $150 million reduction in net environmental reserves, and a corresponding $150 million increase in net asbestos reserves. The Western MacArthur litigation settlement agreement is filed as an exhibit to this Current Report on Form 8-K.

The company established $941 million in net reserves for the September 11, 2001 terrorist attack. Net paid losses were $63 million in the second quarter, and totaled $210 million through June 30, 2002.

The table on the following page summarizes key financial results for each of The St. Paul's property-liability underwriting business segments (underwriting results are presented on a GAAP basis; combined ratios are presented on a statutory accounting basis).

	=====	=====	=====	=====

In the fourth quarter of 2001, The St. Paul announced that it would exit its worldwide Health Care business, significantly reposition its Reinsurance and Lloyd's operations, and that such operations would exit certain types of business and exit a number of non-U.S. primary insurance markets. The businesses being exited are termed "runoff" businesses. In the second quarter of 2002, the company announced its intention to sell the ongoing reinsurance operations of St. Paul Re to Platinum Underwriters Holdings, Ltd. upon Platinum's completion of its initial public offering. The St. Paul would retain the liabilities and associated reserves for contracts incepting prior to January 1, 2002. The company intends to execute this strategy as capital market conditions allow. As a result, all reinsurance underwriting operations are now considered runoff business. The following table summarizes the written premiums and underwriting results, by segment, of those businesses being exited.

A significant portion of the company's loss reserves relate to runoff businesses. The payments for claims from these reserves will negatively impact investment income as invested assets related to the reserves decline.
