Form 424B7

September 23, 2008

Prospectus Supplement, Dated September 23, 2008

(To Prospectus Dated August 13, 2007)

Filed Pursuant to Rule 424(b)(7)

File No. 333-145408

Selling Securityholders

The selling securityholders identified in this prospectus supplement may, from time to time, offer and sell our 0.625% convertible senior notes due 2014 and the shares of our common stock issuable upon the conversion of the notes.

The information in the table below replaces the information appearing under the heading Selling Securityholders in the related prospectus and in each supplement to that prospectus that we filed with the SEC prior to the September 23, 2008. We are updating the selling securityholder information solely to reflect a stock dividend that we effected on September 22, 2008. Pursuant to the stock dividend, we issued and paid, on September 22, 2008, one share of our common stock on each share of our common stock that was outstanding and held of record at the close of business on September 10, 2008. The stock dividend resulted in an adjustment to the conversion rate of the notes.

The table below sets forth information about the beneficial ownership of the notes and shares of our common stock by each holder who has timely provided us with a completed and executed notice and questionnaire stating its intent to use this prospectus supplement and the related prospectus to sell or otherwise dispose of notes or shares of our common stock that may be issuable upon conversion of the notes.

We have prepared this table using information furnished to us by or on behalf of the selling securityholders. The information about the selling securityholders listed below may have changed since the time they provided us with the information, and the information may also change from time to time after the date of this prospectus supplement. Except as otherwise indicated below, to our knowledge, no selling securityholder or any of its affiliates, officers, directors or principal equity holders (5% or more) has held any position or office or has had any other material relationship with us or our predecessors or affiliates during the three years prior to the date of this prospectus supplement.

Our registration of the notes and the shares of our common stock that may be issued upon conversion of the notes does not mean that the selling securityholders identified below will sell all or any of these securities. In addition, the selling securityholders may have sold, transferred or disposed of all or a portion of their notes or shares of our common stock since the date on which they provided us with the information regarding their holdings, including in transactions exempt from the registration and prospectus-delivery requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The identity and holdings of the selling securityholders may change from time to time.

A selling securityholder that is a broker-dealer, or an affiliate of a broker-dealer, may be deemed to be an underwriter with respect to the securities it sells pursuant to this prospectus supplement.

(1) Includes shares issuable upon conversion of the notes indicated next to such selling securityholder. See note (2) below.

- (2) Assumes conversion of the full amount of notes held by the selling securityholder at the rate of 45.8058 shares of our common stock per $1,000 in principal amount of the notes. This represents the theoretical maximum number of shares issuable upon conversion of the notes, disregarding the effects of any future events that result in an adjustment to the conversion rate.

The conversion rate and the number of shares of common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes may be adjusted under circumstances described under

Description of the Notes Conversion Rights Conversion Rate Adjustments and Adjustment to Shares Delivered upon Conversion upon Fundamental Change.

Accordingly, the number of shares of our common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes may increase or decrease from time to time.

Holder will receive a cash adjustment for any fractional share amount resulting from conversion of the notes, as described under Description of the Notes Conversion Rights Payment upon Conversion.

- (3) Assumes that the selling securityholder has sold all the shares of our common stock shown as being issuable upon the assumed conversion of notes listed next to such securityholder's name.
- (4) Calculated based on 123,675,666 shares of common stock outstanding at the close of business on September 22, 2008. In calculating this amount, we treated as outstanding the number of shares of our common stock issuable upon conversion of all of a particular holder's notes. However, we did not assume the conversion of any other holder's notes.

- (48) This selling securityholder has indicated that, in addition to the $5,500,000 principal amount of notes that it may sell pursuant to this prospectus supplement, it also owns $7,200,000 principal amount of notes that it may sell other than pursuant to this prospectus supplement. This additional $7,200,000 principal amount of notes, and the underlying shares of common stock, might be freely transferable by this selling securityholder, without the requirement to deliver any prospectus. The theoretical maximum number of shares underlying this additional $7,200,000 principal amount of notes is approximately 329,800 shares, based on a conversion rate of 45.8058 shares per $1,000 principal amount of the notes. The number of shares indicated next to this selling securityholder as beneficially owned before this offering includes, and the number of shares indicated next to this selling securityholder as beneficially owned after this offering represents, the 329,800 shares of common stock theoretically underlying the additional $7,200,000 principal amount of notes.

Conversion of Notes

Generally, upon conversion of a note, we must pay the conversion value of the note in cash, up to the principal amount of the note. If the conversion value exceeds the principal amount, then we must pay the excess in shares of our common stock, except that we will pay cash in lieu of any fractional share that would otherwise be due. See

Description of Notes Conversion Rights Payment upon Conversion in the accompanying prospectus. For illustrative purposes only, if our common stock hypothetically continues to trade at a price equal to the closing price per share of $41.51 on September 22, 2008 (adjusted to give effect to the stock dividend we effected on that date), then a note of $1,000 principal amount would be convertible into:

$1,000 in cash, representing the principal amount of the note;

21 shares of our common stock, representing the excess of the conversion value of the note over the principal amount; and $29.69 in cash, representing cash in lieu of fractional shares.

The actual amount of cash and, if applicable, shares of our common stock due upon conversion will depend on the actual trading prices of our common stock during the relevant observation period described in the accompanying prospectus. The illustration above is not intended to indicate that we expect our common stock to continue to trade at any price, and actual trading prices may be significantly different from the price assumed in this illustration.
