Item 8.01. Other Events.

Orthofix International N.V. (the "Company"), announced today that it has reached an agreement to settle litigation between its subsidiary, Novamedix, and Kinetic

Edgar Filing: ORTHOFIX INTERNATIONAL N V - Form 8-K

Concepts, Inc. The case was filed by Novamedix in 1992 and relates to its A-V Impulse foot impulse line of products. Under the terms of the settlement, KCI has agreed to pay Novamedix $75 million by September 30, 2005, and to give Novamedix an option to receive either an assignment of or a license to certain KCI foot pump patent rights. KCI will retain rights in the domestic and international patents and will maintain its PlexiPulse product line going forward. The settlement resolves and settles all claims between the parties relating to this litigation.

The Company has contractual obligations to distribute a portion of the settlement proceeds to certain former owners of Novamedix and the original patents. Based upon preliminary estimates of these obligations and applicable taxes, the Company expects to retain approximately 50% of the gross settlement amount. The final settlement amount retained by the Company is subject to adjustment based on the difference between its estimated and final contractual obligations.
