Cautionary Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain of the statements made herein under the caption Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, and elsewhere, including information incorporated herein by reference to other documents, are forward-looking statements within the meaning of, and subject to the protections of, Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act). Forward-looking statements include statements with respect to our beliefs, plans, objectives, goals, expectations, anticipations, assumptions, estimates, intentions and future performance and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, many of which may be beyond our control and which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Crown Crafts, Inc. to be materially different from future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements.

All statements other than statements of historical fact are statements that could be forward-looking statements. You can identify these forward-looking statements through our use of words such as may, will, anticipate, assume, should, indicate, would, believe, contemplate, expect, estimate, continue, plan, point to, project, predict, potential and other similar words and expressions of the future. These forward-looking statements may not be realized due to a variety of factors, including, without limitation, those described in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors, and elsewhere in this report and those described from time to time in our future reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Exchange Act.

All written or oral forward-looking statements that are made by or are attributable to us are expressly qualified in their entirety by this cautionary notice. Our forward-looking statements apply only as of the date of this report or the respective date of the document from which they are incorporated herein by reference. We have no obligation and do not undertake to update, revise or correct any of the forward-looking statements after the date of this report, or after the respective dates on which such statements otherwise are made, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

ITEM 1. Business

Crown Crafts, Inc. (the Company) operates indirectly through its wholly-owned subsidiaries, Hamco, Inc., Churchill Weavers, Inc. and Crown Crafts Infant Products, Inc., in the infant products segment within the consumer products industry. The infant products segment consists of infant bedding, bibs, soft goods and accessories. Sales of the Company's products are generally made directly to retailers, which are primarily mass merchants, large chain stores and gift stores. The Company's products are manufactured primarily in China and marketed under a variety of Company-owned trademarks, under trademarks licensed from others, without trademarks as unbranded merchandise and as private label goods. In response to changing business conditions in the consumer products industry, the Company has made significant changes in its business operations over the last five years. In addition to a program of cost reductions, the Company has outsourced virtually all of its manufacturing to foreign contract manufacturers, with the exception of the specialty hand woven products produced by Churchill Weavers, Inc.

Products

The Company's primary focus is on infant and juvenile products. Infant products include crib bedding, blankets, diaper stackers, mobiles, bibs, burp cloths, bathing accessories and other infant soft goods and accessories. The Company also produces hand-woven throws for infants and adults, which are manufactured in a variety of colors, designs and fabrics, including cotton, acrylic, cotton/acrylic blends, rayon, wool, fleece and chenille.

Product Design and Styling

Research and development expenditures focus primarily on product design and styling. The Company believes styling and design are key components to its success. The Company's designers and stylists work closely with the marketing staff and licensors to develop new designs. These designs, which are developed internally and obtained from numerous additional sources, including graphic artists, decorative fabric manufacturers, apparel designers and employees, include traditional, contemporary, textured and whimsical patterns across a broad spectrum of retail price points. The Company is continually developing new designs for all of its product groups using computer-aided-design systems to increase design flexibility, reduce costs and shorten the time for responding to customer demands and changing market trends. The Company also creates designs for exclusive sale by certain of its customers.

Raw Materials

The principal raw materials used in the manufacture of infant comforters, sheets and accessories are printed and solid color cotton and polycotton fabrics, with polyester fibers used as filling material. The principal raw materials used in the manufacture of throws and other products are natural-color and pre-dyed 100% cotton yarns, rayon yarns and acrylic yarns. The principal raw materials used in the production of infant bibs are knit-terry polycotton, woven polycotton and vinyl fabrics. Although the Company normally maintains supply relationships with only a limited number of suppliers, the Company believes these raw materials presently are available from several sources in quantities sufficient to meet the Company's requirements.

The Company uses significant quantities of cotton, either in the form of cotton fabric or polycotton fabric. Cotton is subject to ongoing price fluctuations because it is an agricultural product impacted by changing weather patterns, disease and other factors, such as supply and demand considerations, both domestically and internationally. Significant increases in the price of cotton could adversely affect the Company's operations.

Product Sourcing

The Company's infant products are produced by foreign contract manufacturers, with the largest concentration being in China. The Company makes sourcing decisions on the basis of quality, timeliness of delivery and price, including the impact of quotas and duties. The Company's management and quality assurance personnel visit the third-party facilities regularly to monitor product quality and financial viability and to ensure compliance with labor requirements. Subsequent to the elimination of quota in certain product categories as of January 1, 2005, safeguards have been implemented which have had a limited impact on the Company. However, additional implementation of safeguards, if any, in China may result in strategic shifts in the Company's sourcing plan in the future. In addition, the Company closely monitors the currency exchange rate, which has recently been adjusted to market conditions. The impact of future fluctuations or safeguards cannot be predicted with certainty at this time.

Products are warehoused and shipped from a facility in Compton, California.

Sales and Marketing

Products are marketed through a national sales force consisting of salaried sales executives and employees and independent commissioned sales representatives. Independent representatives are used most significantly in sales to the gift trade, juvenile specialty stores and department stores. Sales outside the United States are made primarily through distributors.

The Company's sales offices are located in Huntington Beach, California; Gonzales, Louisiana; Berea, Kentucky; and Rogers, Arkansas. Substantially all products are sold to retailers for resale to consumers. The Company's infant product subsidiaries generally introduce new products once each year during the annual Juvenile Products Manufacturers' Association trade show. Private label products are introduced throughout the year. New product introductions for the gift trade are concentrated in January through March and June through August when Churchill Weavers, Inc. participates in numerous local and regional gift shows.

In fiscal 2006, approximately 1% of the Company's gross sales were made through its retail store in Berea, Kentucky.

Table of ContentsCustomers

The Company's customers consist principally of mass merchants, chain stores, department stores, specialty home furnishings stores, wholesale clubs, gift stores and catalogue and direct mail houses. The Company does not generally enter into long-term or other purchase agreements with its customers. The table below indicates customers representing more than 10% of gross sales in each of the Company's last three fiscal years. (The Company's fiscal year ends on the Sunday nearest March 31. References to the Company's fiscal years herein represent the 52 weeks ended April 2, 2006 for fiscal 2006; the 53 weeks ended April 3, 2005 for fiscal 2005; and the 52 weeks ended March 28, 2004 for fiscal 2004.)

	Fiscal Year
	2006	2005	2004
Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.	35%	29%	27%
Toys R Us	30%	36%	36%
Target Corporation	14%	12%	12%

Seasonality and Inventory Management

Historically, the Company has experienced a sales pattern, in which sales are lowest in the first fiscal quarter. In fiscal 2005 and 2004, sales peaked in the fourth fiscal quarter. In fiscal 2006, due to changes in customer buying patterns, sales peaked in the second fiscal quarter.

Consistent with the seasonality of specific product offerings, the Company carries necessary levels of inventory to meet the anticipated delivery requirements of its customers. Customer returns of merchandise shipped are historically less than 1% of gross sales.

Order Backlog

Management estimates the backlog of unfilled customer orders was $9.1 million and $3.5 million at May 27, 2006 and May 29, 2005, respectively. Historically the majority of these unfilled orders are shipped within four weeks. The increase in the backlog in the current year is the result of customer orders being placed earlier than in past years. As such, this amount includes orders that will ship through September, 2006. There is no assurance that the backlog at any point in time will translate into sales in any particular subsequent period. Due to the prevalence of quick-ship programs adopted by its customers, the Company does not believe that its backlog is a meaningful or material indicator of future business.

Trademarks, Copyrights and Patents

The Company considers its trademarks to be of material importance to its business. Products are marketed in part under well-known trademarks such as Red Calliope®, Cuddle Me®, NoJo®, Hamco®, Pinky Baby® and Churchill Weavers®. Protection for these trademarks is obtained through domestic and foreign registrations.

Certain products are manufactured and sold pursuant to licensing agreements for trademarks that include, among others, Disney®. The licensing agreements for the Company's designer brands generally are for an initial term of one to three years and may or may not be subject to renewal or extension. Sales of products under the Company's licenses with Disney Enterprises, Inc. accounted for 41% of the Company's total gross sales volume during fiscal 2006. The Company's current licenses with Disney Enterprises, Inc. expire December 31, 2006.

Many of the designs used by the Company are copyrighted by other parties, including trademark licensors, and are available to the Company through copyright licenses. Other designs are the subject of copyrights and design patents owned by the Company.

The Company's aggregate commitment for minimum guaranteed royalty payments under all of its license agreements is $2.1 million, $0.5 million and $0.1 million for fiscal 2007, 2008 and 2009, respectively. The Company does not currently have any commitment for minimum guaranteed royalty payments after fiscal 2009. The Company believes that future sales of royalty products will exceed amounts required to cover the minimum royalty guarantees. The Company's total royalty expense, net of royalty income, was $4.7 million, $5.0 million and $5.7 million for fiscal 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Competition

The infant consumer products industry is highly competitive. The Company competes with a variety of distributors and manufacturers (both branded and private label), including Kids Line, LLC, a division of Russ Berrie and Co., Inc.; Springs Industries; Dolly Inc.; Co Ca Lo, Inc.; Carters, Inc.; Riegel Textile Corporation; Danara International, Ltd.; Luv n' Care, Ltd.; The First Years Inc.; Sassy Inc.; Triboro Quilt Manufacturing Inc.; Gerber Childrenswear, Inc.; and Family Clubhouse, Incorporated, on the basis of quality, design, price, brand name recognition, service and packaging. The Company's ability to compete depends principally on styling, price, service to the retailer and continued high regard for the Company's products and trade names.

Government Regulation and Environmental Control

The Company is subject to various federal, state and local environmental laws and regulations, which regulate, among other things, the discharge, storage, handling and disposal of a variety of substances and wastes, and to laws and regulations relating to employee safety and health, principally the Occupational Safety and Health Administration Act and regulations thereunder. The Company believes that it currently complies in all material respects with applicable environmental, health and safety laws and regulations and that future compliance with such existing laws or regulations will not have a material adverse effect on its capital expenditures, earnings or competitive position. However, there is no assurance that such requirements will not become more stringent in the future or that the Company will not have to incur significant costs to comply with such requirements.

Employees

At June 1, 2006, the Company had approximately 202 employees, none of whom is represented by a labor union or otherwise a party to a collective bargaining agreement. The Company attracts and maintains qualified personnel by paying competitive salaries and benefits and offering opportunities for advancement. The Company considers its relationship with its employees to be good.

International Sales

Sales to customers in foreign countries outside the United States are not currently material to the Company's business.

ITEM 1A. Risk Factors

The following risk factors as well as the other information contained in this report and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission should be considered in evaluating the Company's business. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently consider immaterial may also impair our business operations. If any of the following risks actually occur, operating results may be affected in future periods.

The loss of one or more of the Company's key customers could result in a material loss of revenues.

The Company's top three customers represented 79% of gross sales in fiscal 2006. Although we do not enter into contracts with our key customers, we expect them to continue to be a significant portion of our gross sales in the future. The loss of one or more of these customers could result in a material decrease in our revenue and operating income.

The loss of one or more of the Company's licenses could result in a material loss of revenues.

Sales of licensed products represented 53% of the Company's gross sales in fiscal 2006, including 41% of sales which were associated with the Company's license with Disney®. If the Company is unable to renew its major licenses or obtain new licenses, the Company could experience a material loss of revenues.

Table of Contents

Changes in international trade regulations and other risks associated with foreign trade could adversely affect the Company's sourcing.

With the exception of hand-woven products produced by Churchill Weavers, Inc., the Company sources all of its products from foreign contract manufacturers, with the largest concentration being in China. The adoption of regulations related to the importation of product, including quotas, duties, taxes and other charges or restrictions on imported goods, and changes in U.S. customs procedures could result in an increase in the cost of the Company's products. Delays in customs clearance of goods or the disruption of international transportation lines used by the Company could result in the Company being unable to deliver goods to customers in a timely manner and potentially the loss of sales altogether.

The strength of our competitors may impact our ability to maintain and grow our sales, which could decrease the Company's revenues.

The infant consumer products industry is highly competitive. The Company competes with a variety of distributors and manufacturers both branded and private label. The Company's ability to compete successfully depends principally on styling, price, service to the retailer and continued high regard for the Company's products and trade names. Many of these competitors are larger than the Company and have greater financial resources than the Company. Increased competition could result in a material loss of revenues.

The Company's ability to anticipate and respond to consumers' tastes and preferences could adversely affect the Company's revenues.

Sales are driven by consumer demands for the Company's products. There can be no assurance that the demand for our products will not decline or that we will be able to anticipate and respond to changes in demand. The Company's failure to adapt to these changes could lead to lower sales and excess inventory, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and operating results.

Customer pricing pressures could result in lower selling prices which could negatively affect the Company's operating results.

The Company's customers constantly place pressures on the Company to reduce its prices, partially due to the removal of quotas on certain of the Company's products. The Company continuously strives to stay ahead in sourcing which allows us to obtain lower cost end products, while maintaining our high standards for quality. There can be no assurance that the Company can continue to reduce its costs to the same extent that sales prices decrease, which could adversely affect the Company's operating results.

The Company's success is dependent upon retaining key management personnel.

The Company's ability to retain qualified executive management and other key personnel is vital to the Company's success. If the Company were unable to retain or attract qualified individuals, the Company's growth and operating results could be materially impacted.

ITEM 1B. Unresolved Staff Comments

None.

ITEM 2. Properties

The Company's headquarters are located in Gonzales, Louisiana. The Company rents approximately 17,761 square feet at this location under a lease that expires April 25, 2007.

Table of Contents

The following table summarizes certain information regarding the Company's principal real property as of June 1, 2006:

Location	Use	Approximate Square Feet	Owned/Leased
Gonzales, Louisiana	Administrative and sales office	17,761	Leased
Berea, Kentucky	Offices, manufacturing, warehouse and distribution facilities and retail store	53,000	Owned
Compton, California	Offices, warehouse and distribution center	157,400	Leased
Huntington Beach, California	Offices	7,574	Leased
Rogers, Arkansas	Sales office	1,625	Leased

Management believes that its properties are suitable for the purposes for which they are used, are in generally good condition and provide adequate capacity for current and anticipated future operations. The Company's business is somewhat seasonal so that during certain times of the year these facilities are fully utilized, while at other times of the year the Company has excess capacity.

ITEM 3. Legal Proceedings

From time to time, the Company is involved in various legal proceedings relating to claims arising in the ordinary course of its business. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries is a party to any such legal proceedings the outcome of which, individually or in the aggregate, is expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

ITEM 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter of the year ended April 2, 2006.

PART IIITEM 5. Market For Registrant's Common Stock, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities

Net Sales: Sales of bedding, blankets and accessories decreased by $3.3 million in fiscal year 2006 as a result of lower demand for certain licensed products. In addition, private label bedding and blankets volume declined $1.5 million as a customer increased the number of items sourced internally, Pillow Buddies® sales declined $0.5 million as business for this product has been comparatively weaker in the current year because retail dollars have not been allocated to the product, and shipments of Company-branded products have declined $1.8 million. The decline in sales is not solely attributable to a decline in volume of units sold. Price erosion of $2.2 million is included in the sales decline amounts described above. The price erosion is a result of a decline in prices due to a change in shipping points on a program from FOB United States to FOB Asia that was agreed upon by the Company and one of its major customers in order to streamline the distribution process. The customer pays all costs of importation, shipping and warehousing of the merchandise which results in a decreased selling price per unit. Due to the aforementioned competitive pressures, the Company is focusing its efforts on aggressively negotiating new licenses, developing house brands and new product innovations.

Bib and bath sales decreased primarily due to a decline in private label bib volume of $1.6 million in fiscal 2006 as a customer increased the number of items internally sourced. Additionally, a customer changed its marketing strategy and dropped all licensed products resulting in a $1.3 million decline in bib and bath sales. The remaining decline in sales of $0.8 million is attributable to sales price per unit deflation in response to market conditions and competition.

Sales of bedding, blankets and accessories decreased in fiscal year 2005 primarily as a result of the transition of the Company's Classic Pooh license to direct-to-retail. Bib and bath sales during this period decreased $1.5 million primarily due to the loss of a bath program at a major customer in the second quarter.

Churchill Weavers, Inc. (Churchill) has experienced a continuous decline in sales since fiscal year 2000. As a domestic manufacturer of home furnishings and infant blankets, Churchill has been negatively impacted by multiple factors. The number of small specialty stores, Churchill's primary customers, has decreased. Also, competition has increased, as imported luxury hand woven items can be sold at lower prices. Management responded to these challenges by initiating measures to reduce costs and improve sales. Although cost reductions were achieved, sales have not increased. Churchill's sales for 2006 declined by $427,000 from the prior year.

Gross Profit: Gross profit as a percentage of sales increased in fiscal 2006 because the Company has begun shipping merchandise that is benefiting from purchasing from more cost-competitive suppliers, improved inventory management, the removal of quotas and the completion of the Company's transition out of domestic manufacturing. Included in the 2006 cost of sales are retention bonuses and freight of $88,000 associated with the relocation of the Gonzales, Louisiana distribution center to Compton, California.

As a percentage of net sales, gross profit decreased in fiscal 2005 primarily as a result of a shift from sales of higher margin blankets and NoJo® and Classic Pooh® brands to sales of a greater volume of lower margin merchandise. The lower margins are a direct result of pricing pressures from customers coupled with demand for enhanced products and market reaction to the removal of quotas from certain products effective in January, 2005.

Marketing and Administrative Expenses: Marketing and administrative expenses were higher in fiscal year 2004 primarily because of legal fees associated with the reincorporation of the Company in Delaware and costs associated with the closing of the Company's Mexican production facility, both of which were completed in fiscal year 2004. In addition, in each of fiscal years 2006, 2005 and 2004, the Company achieved reductions in labor and commissions expenses. As a percentage of net sales, the increase in marketing and administrative expenses in 2006 is a direct result of the decrease in net sales. In addition, the payment of $70,000 of retention bonuses related to the relocation of the California finance department to Louisiana is included in fiscal year 2006.

Interest Expense: Decreases in interest expense for both of fiscal years 2006 and 2005 are due to a successively lower average debt balance. As discussed in Financial Position, Liquidity and Capital Resources below, the Company had $24.0 million in long-term debt at April 2, 2006, compared to $27.4 million at April 3, 2005 and $31.5 million at March 28, 2004. The decrease in debt reflects quarterly payments on the Company's senior notes and a decrease in the Company's revolving credit facility each year, and such decrease has been offset by an increase in debt related to the amortization of the discount discussed below in Financial Position, Liquidity and Capital Resources and the annual issuance of promissory notes related to the payment of interest on the Company's senior subordinated notes.

Income Tax Benefit: The Company's positive taxable earnings trend indicates that there is no further need to recognize an impairment of the deferred tax asset and that it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of its $11.2 million NOL carryforward prior to its expiration. As such, a tax valuation allowance of $4.2 million was removed at April 2, 2006. This resulted in a tax benefit and deferred tax assets are now reflected in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. The primary component of the deferred tax assets is attributable to estimated future savings in income taxes attributable to the benefits of net operating loss carryforwards.

Financial Position, Liquidity and Capital Resources

Net cash provided by operating activities was $7.8 million for the year ended April 2, 2006, compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $6.2 million for the year ended April 3, 2005. The change in cash provided by operating activities was primarily due to increased pre-tax net income in the current fiscal year and changes in inventory, accounts receivable and accounts payable balances. Net cash used in investing activities was $0.4 million in 2006 compared to net cash used in investing activities of $0.2 million in the prior year. Net cash used in financing activities was $4.5 million in 2006 compared to net cash used in financing activities of $5.0 million in the prior year. The Company's term loan was paid off in full during the year ended April 2, 2006. Total debt outstanding decreased to $24.0 million at April 2, 2006, from $27.4 million at April 3, 2005. As of April 2, 2006, letters of credit of $0.8 million were outstanding against the $1.5 million sub-limit for letters of credit associated with the Company's $7.5 million revolving credit facility. As of April 2, 2006, the Company had revolving credit availability of $6.7 million.

The Company's ability to make scheduled payments of principal, to pay the interest on or to refinance its maturing indebtedness, to fund capital expenditures or to comply with its debt covenants will depend upon future performance. The Company's future performance is, to a certain extent, subject to general economic, financial, competitive, legislative, regulatory and other factors beyond its control. Based upon the current level of operations, the Company believes that cash flow from operations, together with revolving credit availability, will be adequate to meet its liquidity needs.

At April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005, long-term debt consisted of the following (in thousands):

	April 2, 2006	April 3, 2005
Senior notes and senior subordinated notes	$ 16,000	$ 20,500
Non-interest bearing notes	8,000	8,000
Capital leases	58	38
PIK notes	1,077	809
Original issue discount	(1,177)	(1,945)
	23,958	27,402
Less current maturities	36	2,317
	$ 23,922	$ 25,085

The Company's existing credit facilities include the following:

Revolving Credit of up to $7.5 million, including a $1.5 million sub-limit for letters of credit. The interest rate is prime plus 1.00% (8.75% at April 2, 2006) for base rate borrowings and LIBOR plus 2.75% (7.58% at April 2, 2006) for Euro-dollar borrowings. The maturity date is July 23, 2007. The facility is secured by a first lien on all assets. There was no balance at April 2, 2006. The Company had $6.7 million available at April 2, 2006. As of April 2, 2006, letters of credit of $0.8 million were outstanding against the $1.5 million sub-limit for letters of credit associated with the $7.5 million revolving credit facility.

Senior Notes of $4.5 million with a fixed interest rate of 10% and provisions for contingent additional interest existed at April 3, 2005. The entire balance was paid in full in the first quarter of fiscal year 2006.

Senior Subordinated Notes of $16 million with a fixed interest rate of 10% plus an additional 1.65% payable by delivery of a promissory note due July 23, 2007 for which $1.1 million has been accrued as of April 2, 2006. The maturity date is July 23, 2007, and the notes are secured by a second lien on all assets. In addition to principal and interest, a payment of $8 million is due on the earliest to occur of (i) maturity of the notes, (ii) prepayment of the notes, or (iii) sale of the Company. The original issue discount of $4.1 million on this non-interest bearing obligation at a market interest rate of 12% is being amortized over the life of the notes. The remaining unamortized balance of $1.2 million is included in the Consolidated Balance Sheet as of April 2, 2006.

These credit facilities contain covenants regarding minimum levels of Earnings before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA), maximum total debt to EBITDA, maximum senior debt to EBITDA, minimum EBITDA to cash interest and minimum shareholders' equity, as well as limitations on annual capital expenditures and operating lease commitments. The bank facilities also place restrictions on the amounts the Company may expend on acquisitions and purchases of treasury stock and currently prohibit the payment of dividends. The Company was in compliance with these covenants as of April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005.

Edgar Filing: CROWN CRAFTS INC - Form 10-K

The Company also had other obligations at April 2, 2006 of $21,000 and $37,000, which expire in May 2007 and July 2008, respectively.

Minimum annual maturities are as follows (in thousands):

Fiscal	Sub Notes	PIK Notes	Other	Total
2007			36	36
2008	24,000*	1,077	19	25,096
2009			3	3
Total	$ 24,000	$ 1,077	$ 58	$ 25,135

* Includes $8 million non-interest bearing note issued at an original issue discount of $4.1 million.

As part of the Company's refinancing of its credit facilities in July 2001, the Company issued to its lenders warrants for non-voting common stock that are convertible into common stock equivalent to 65% of the shares of the Company on a fully diluted basis at a price of 11.3 cents per share. The warrants are non-callable and expire six years from their date of issuance. The value of the warrants ($2.4 million using the Black-Scholes option pricing model) was credited to additional paid-in capital in the second quarter of fiscal 2002. The dilutive effect of these warrants on earnings per share for the fiscal periods ended April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005 was $0.43 per share and $0.13 per share, respectively.

Management is in active negotiations to restructure and refinance its long-term debt prior to the July 23, 2007 maturity date.

To reduce its exposure to credit losses and to enhance its cash flow, the Company assigns the majority of its trade accounts receivable to a commercial factor. The Company's factor establishes customer credit lines and accounts for and collects receivable balances. Under the terms of the factoring agreement, which expires in July, 2007, the factor remits payments to the Company on the average due date of each group of invoices assigned. If a customer fails to pay the factor on the due date, the Company is charged interest at prime less 0.5%, which was 7.0% at April 2, 2006, until payment is received. The factor bears credit losses with respect to assigned accounts receivable that are within approved credit limits. The Company bears losses resulting from returns, allowances, claims and discounts. The Company's factor at any time may terminate or limit its approval of shipments to a particular customer. If such a termination occurs, the Company may either assume the credit risks for shipments after the date of such termination or cease shipments to such customer.

The following table summarizes the maturity or expiration dates of mandatory financial obligations and commitments for the periods indicated:

	Payments Due by Period
	Total	Less Than 1 Year	1 - 3 Years	3 - 5 Years	More Than 5 Years

Management does not believe that inflation has had a material effect on the Company's operations. If inflation increases, the Company will attempt to increase its prices to offset its increased expenses. There is no assurance, however, that the Company will be able to adequately increase its prices in response to inflation.

Churchill is continuing to implement additional cost reductions while pursuing new sales avenues in the hospitality and craft markets. Currently, management is not able to determine if Churchill's decline in sales can be reversed and/or if costs can be reduced so that Churchill can operate profitably. If the existing trend cannot be reversed, then a sale or liquidation of Churchill may occur. Management is currently determining the value of Churchill and the financial impact of a potential sale or liquidation.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company does not have any off-balance sheet arrangements.

Table of Contents

Critical Accounting Policies

While the listing below is not inclusive of all of the Company's accounting policies, the Company's management believes that the following policies are those which are most critical and embody the most significant management judgments due to the uncertainties affecting their application and the likelihood that materially different amounts would be reported under different conditions or using different assumptions. These critical policies are:

Revenue Recognition: Sales are recorded when goods are shipped to customers and are reported net of allowances for estimated returns and allowances in the consolidated statement of income. Allowances for returns are estimated based on historical rates. Allowances for returns, advertising allowances, warehouse allowances and volume rebates are netted against sales. These allowances are recorded commensurate with sales activity and the cost of such allowances is netted against sales in reporting the results of operations. Shipping and handling costs, net of amounts reimbursed by customers, are relatively insignificant and are included in net sales.

Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates are made with respect to the allowances related to accounts receivable for customer deductions for returns, allowances and disputes. The Company has a certain amount of discontinued and irregular raw materials and finished goods which necessitate the establishment of inventory reserves which are highly subjective. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Allowances Against Accounts Receivable: The Company's allowances against accounts receivable are primarily contractually agreed upon deductions for items such as advertising and warehouse allowances and volume rebates. These deductions are recorded throughout the year commensurate with sales activity. Historically, funding occurred in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year causing the balance to be highest in the third quarter. However, beginning in fiscal year 2006, funding of the majority of the Company's allowances occurs on a per-invoice basis.

The allowances for customer deductions, which are netted against accounts receivable in the consolidated balance sheets, consist of agreed upon advertising support, markdowns and warehouse and other allowances. Consistent with the guidance provided in EITF 01-9, all such allowances are recorded as direct offsets to sales and such costs are accrued commensurate with sales activities. When a customer requests deductions, the allowances are reduced to reflect such payments.

The Company analyzes the components of the allowances for customer deductions monthly and adjusts the allowances to the appropriate levels. The timing of the customer initiated funding requests for advertising support can cause the net balance in the allowance account to fluctuate from period to period. The timing of such funding requests should have no impact on the consolidated statements of income since such costs are accrued commensurate with sales activity.

The Company factors the majority of its receivables. In the event a factored receivable becomes uncollectible due to credit worthiness, the factor bears the risk of loss. The Company's management must make estimates of the uncollectibility of its non-factored accounts receivable. Management specifically analyzes accounts receivable, historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer credit worthiness, current economic trends and changes in its customers' payment terms when evaluating the adequacy of its allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company's account receivable at April 2, 2006 totaled $14.5 million, net of allowances of $1.2 million.

Royalty Payments: The Company has entered into agreements that provide for royalty payments based on a percentage of sales with certain minimum guaranteed amounts. These royalty amounts are accrued based upon historical sales rates adjusted for current sales trends by customers. Total royalty expenses, net of royalty income, included in cost of sales amounted to $4.7 million and $5.0 million for the fiscal years ended April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005, respectively.

Inventory Valuation: The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires careful determination of the appropriate dollar amount of the Company's inventory balances. Such amount is presented as a current asset in the Company's balance sheet and is a direct determinant of cost of goods sold in the statement of operations and, therefore, has a significant impact on the amount of net income reported in an accounting period. The basis of accounting for inventories is cost, which is the sum of expenditures and charges, both direct and indirect, incurred to bring the inventory quantities to their existing condition and location. The Company's inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, with cost determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method, which assumes that inventory quantities are sold in the order in which they are manufactured or purchased. The Company utilizes standard costs as a management tool. The Company's standard cost valuation of its inventories is adjusted at regular intervals to reflect the approximate cost of the inventory under FIFO. The determination of the indirect charges and their allocation to the Company's work-in-process and finished goods inventories is complex and requires significant management judgment and estimates. Material differences may result in the valuation of the Company's inventories and in the amount and timing of the Company's cost of goods sold and resulting net income for any period if management made different judgments or utilized different estimates.

On a periodic basis, management reviews its inventory quantities on hand for obsolescence, physical deterioration, changes in price levels and the existence of quantities on hand which may not reasonably be expected to be used or sold within the normal operating cycles of the Company's operations. To the extent that any of these conditions is believed to exist or the utility of the inventory quantities in the ordinary course of business is no longer as great as their carrying value, an allowance against the inventory valuation is established. To the extent that this allowance is established or increased during an accounting period, an expense is recorded in the Company's statement of operations in cost of goods sold. Significant management judgment is required in determining the amount and adequacy of this allowance. In the event that actual results differ from management's estimates or these estimates and judgments are revised in future periods, the Company may need to establish additional allowances which could materially impact the Company's financial position and results of operations.

As of April 2, 2006, the Company's inventories totaled $9.7 million, net of allowances for discontinued, irregular, slow moving and obsolete inventories of $0.5 million. Management believes that the Company's inventory valuation results in carrying the inventory at lower of cost or market.

Provisions for Income Taxes: The provisions for income taxes include all currently payable federal, state and local taxes that are based upon the Company's taxable income and the change during the fiscal year in net deferred income tax assets and liabilities. The Company provides for deferred income taxes based on the difference between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. In fiscal years 2004 and 2005, deferred tax assets were offset by a valuation allowance as available evidence did not indicate that the assets would be realized. In fiscal 2006, the Company determined that, due to taxable earnings generated in recent years, it is more likely than not that the benefit would be realized prior to the expiration of its $11.2 million NOL carryforward.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets, Identifiable Intangibles and Goodwill: The Company reviews for impairment of long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of any asset may not be recoverable. In the event of impairment, the asset is written down to its fair market value. Assets to be disposed of, if any, are recorded at the lower of net book value or fair market value less cost to sell at the date management commits to a plan of disposal and are classified as assets held for sale on the consolidated balance sheet.

Goodwill, which represents the unamortized excess of purchase price over fair value of net identifiable assets acquired in business combinations, was amortized through March 31, 2002 using the straight-line method over periods of up to 30 years. The Company discontinued amortization of goodwill effective April 1, 2002. The Company reviews the carrying value of goodwill annually and sooner if facts and circumstances suggest that the asset may be impaired. Impairment of goodwill and write-downs, if any, are measured based on estimates of future cash flows. Goodwill is stated net of accumulated amortization of $6.3 million at April 2,

Table of Contents

2006, April 3, 2005 and March 28, 2004. Net intangible assets, long-lived assets and goodwill, including property and equipment, amounted to $24.8 million as of April 2, 2006.

On April 1, 2002, the Company implemented SFAS 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. As a result, the Company discontinued amortizing approximately $23.0 million of goodwill but continued to amortize other long-lived intangible assets. In lieu of amortization, the Company is required to perform an annual impairment review of its goodwill. The Company has performed a transitional fair value based impairment test on its goodwill in accordance with SFAS 142 and has determined that the fair value exceeded the recorded value at March 31, 2003, March 29, 2004 and April 4, 2005.

Recently-Issued Accounting Standards

In December 2004, the FASB issued Statement 123R, Share-Based Payment, an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 123, which requires all companies to measure compensation cost for all share-based payments (including employee stock options) at fair value and is effective for public companies for annual periods beginning after June 15, 2005. This statement eliminates the ability to account for stock-based compensation transactions using APB 25 and, generally, requires instead that such transactions be accounted for using a fair-value based method. Had the Company adopted SFAS 123R in prior periods, the impact of the standard would have approximated the impact of SFAS No. 123 as described in the disclosure of pro-forma net income and earnings per share as set forth below. The Company adopted SFAS 123R on April 3, 2006 using the modified prospective transition method and will begin expensing stock options in the first quarter of fiscal year 2007.

In May 2005, the FASB issued SFAS No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections. This statement is a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20, Accounting Changes, and SFAS No. 3, Reporting Accounting Changes in Interim Financial Statements, and changes the requirements for the accounting for and reporting of a change in accounting principle. This statement applies to all voluntary changes in accounting principle and to changes required by an accounting pronouncement in the unusual instance that the pronouncement does not include specific transition provisions. This statement requires retrospective application to prior periods financial statements of changes in accounting principle, unless it is impracticable to determine period-specific effects of an accounting change on one or more individual prior periods presented. In such circumstances the new accounting principle would be applied to the balances of assets and liabilities as of the beginning of the earliest period for which retrospective application is practicable with a corresponding adjustment made to the opening balance of retained earnings for that period rather than being reported in an income statement. Further, the accounting principle is to be applied prospectively from the earliest date when it is impracticable to determine the effect to all prior periods. This statement is effective for the Company as of April 3, 2006. Adoption of this statement could have an impact if there are future voluntary accounting changes and correction of errors.

SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires the recording of liabilities for all legal obligations associated with the retirement of long-lived assets that result from the normal operations of those assets. These liabilities are required to be recorded at fair value in the period in which they are incurred with the associated asset retirement costs capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived asset. The statement was effective for the Company on March 31, 2003. In 2005, FASB issued Interpretation No. 47, Accounting for Conditional Asset Retirement Obligations, (FIN 47) to further clarify that such asset retirement obligations should be recognized for conditional obligations in which the timing and/or method of settlement are conditional on a future event that may or may not be within the control of the entity. FIN 47 was effective at December 31, 2005. The Company evaluated its leased and owned properties for potential asset retirement obligations under SFAS No. 143, as amended and interpreted by FIN 47. Based on this review, the Company determined that such liabilities were deemed to be immaterial to the financial position, results of operations or cash flows of the Company.

ITEM 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company is exposed to market risk from changes in interest rates on debt, changes in commodity prices, changes in international trade regulations, the concentration of the Company's customers and the Company's reliance upon licenses. The Company's exposure to interest rate risk relates to the Company's floating rate debt, of which there was no balance outstanding at April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005. The Company's exposure to commodity price risk primarily relates to changes in the price of cotton and oil, which are the principal raw materials used in a substantial number of the Company's products. Also, changes in import quantity allotments can materially impact the availability of the Company's products and the prices at which those products can be purchased by the Company for resale. Additionally, the Company's top three customers represent 79% of gross sales, and 53% of the Company's gross sales is of licensed products. The Company could be materially impacted by the loss of one or more of these customers or licenses.

ITEM 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data

See pages 23 and F-1 through F-17 hereof.

ITEM 9. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

The Company has neither changed its independent accountants nor had any disagreements on accounting or financial disclosure with such accountants.

ITEM 9A. Controls and Procedures

The Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act)), as of the end of the period covered by this report, as required by paragraph (b) of Rule 13a-15 or 15d-15 of the Exchange Act. Based on such evaluation, such officers have concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective.

During the quarter ended April 2, 2006, there was not any change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting identified in connection with the evaluation required by paragraph (d) of Rules 13a-15 or 15d-15 of the Exchange Act that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to affect, the Company's control over financial reporting.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Board of Directors and Shareholders
Crown Crafts, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Crown Crafts, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) as of April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005, and the related consolidated statements of income and comprehensive income, changes in shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the fiscal years ended April 2, 2006, April 3, 2005 and March 28, 2004. Our audit also included the financial statement schedule listed at Item 15. These financial statements and financial statement schedule are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial statement schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the fiscal years ended April 2, 2006, April 3, 2005 and March 28, 2004, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion, such financial statement schedule, when considered in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole, presents fairly in all material respects the information set forth therein.

CROWN CRAFTS, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
Fiscal Years Ended April 2, 2006, April 3, 2005 and March 28, 2004

Note 1 Description of Business

Crown Crafts, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, the Company) operate in the Infant Products segment within the Consumer Products industry. The Infant Products segment consists of infant bedding, bibs, infant soft goods and accessories. Sales are generally made directly to retailers, primarily mass merchants, large chain stores, gift stores and department and specialty stores.

Note 2 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation: The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company. All significant intercompany balances and transactions are eliminated in consolidation.

The Company's lenders own warrants that, if converted, would result in the lenders owning 65% of the shares of the Company on a fully diluted basis (see Note 4).

The Company's fiscal year ends on the Sunday nearest March 31. Fiscal years are designated in the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto by reference to the calendar year within which the fiscal year ends. The consolidated financial statements encompass 52 weeks for fiscal years 2006 and 2004 and 53 weeks for fiscal year 2005.

Cash and Cash Equivalents: The Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates are made with respect to the allowances related to accounts receivable for customer deductions for returns, allowances, and disputes. The Company has a certain amount of discontinued and irregular raw materials and finished goods which necessitate the establishment of inventory reserves which are highly subjective. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition: Sales are recorded when goods are shipped to customers and are reported net of allowances for estimated returns and allowances in the consolidated statement of income. Allowances for returns are estimated based on historical rates. Allowances for returns, advertising allowances, warehouse allowances and volume rebates are netted against sales. These allowances are recorded commensurate with sales activity and the cost of such allowances is netted against sales in reporting the results of operations. Shipping and handling costs, net of amounts reimbursed by customers, are relatively insignificant and are included in net sales.

Allowances Against Accounts Receivable: The Company's allowances against accounts receivable are primarily contractually agreed upon deductions for items such as advertising and warehouse allowances and volume rebates. These deductions are recorded throughout the year commensurate with sales activity. Historically, funding occurred in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year causing the balance to be highest in the third quarter. However, beginning in fiscal year 2006, funding of the majority of the Company's allowances occurs on a per-invoice basis.

The allowances for customer deductions, which are netted against accounts receivable in the consolidated balance sheets, consist of agreed upon advertising support, markdowns and warehouse and other allowances. Consistent with the guidance provided in EITF 01-9, all such allowances are recorded as direct offsets to sales and such costs are accrued commensurate with sales activities. When a customer requests deductions, the allowances are reduced to reflect such payments.

Table of Contents

The Company analyzes the components of the allowances for customer deductions monthly and adjusts the allowances to the appropriate levels. The timing of the customer initiated funding requests for advertising support can cause the net balance in the allowance account to fluctuate from period to period. The timing of such funding requests should have no impact on the consolidated statements of income since such costs are accrued commensurate with sales activity.

Inventory Valuation: Inventories are valued at the lower of first-in, first-out, cost or market.

Royalty Payments: The Company has entered into agreements that provide for royalty payments based on a percentage of sales with certain minimum guaranteed amounts. These royalty amounts are accrued based upon historical sales rates adjusted for current sales trends by customers. Total royalty expenses incurred in cost of sales amounted to $4.7 million, $5.0 million, and $5.7 million in 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Depreciation and Amortization: Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets. Estimated useful lives are 15 to 40 years for buildings, three to seven and one-half years for machinery and equipment, five years for data processing equipment, and eight years for furniture and fixtures. The cost of improvements to leased premises is amortized over the shorter of the estimated life of the improvement or the term of the lease.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets, Identifiable Intangibles and Goodwill: The Company reviews for impairment of long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of any asset may not be recoverable. In the event of impairment, the asset is written down to its fair market value. Assets to be disposed of, if any, are recorded at the lower of net book value or fair market value less cost to sell at the date management commits to a plan of disposal and are classified as assets held for sale on the consolidated balance sheet.

Goodwill, which represents the unamortized excess of purchase price over fair value of net identifiable assets acquired in business combinations, was amortized through March 31, 2002 using the straight-line method over periods of up to 30 years. The Company discontinued amortization of goodwill effective April 1, 2002. The Company reviews the carrying value of goodwill annually and sooner if facts and circumstances suggest that the asset may be impaired. Impairment of goodwill and write-downs, if any, are measured based on estimates of future cash flows. Goodwill is stated net of accumulated amortization of $6.3 million at April 2, 2006, April 3, 2005 and March 28, 2004. Net intangible assets, long-lived assets and goodwill, including property and equipment, amounted to $24.8 million as of April 2, 2006.

Foreign Currency Translation: The assets and liabilities of the Company's Mexican subsidiary were translated into U.S. dollars at current exchange rates, and revenues and expenses were translated at average exchange rates. The effect of foreign currency transactions was not material to the Company's results of operations for fiscal years 2006, 2005 and 2004. As a result of the closure of the Mexican subsidiary in fiscal 2003 and 2004, the Company is no longer exposed to foreign currency transactions.

Provisions for Income Taxes: The provisions for income taxes include all currently payable federal, state and local taxes that are based upon the Company's taxable income and the change during the fiscal year in net deferred income tax assets and liabilities. The Company provides for deferred income taxes based on the difference between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. In fiscal years 2004 and 2005, deferred tax assets were offset by a valuation allowance as available evidence did not indicate that the assets would be realized. In fiscal 2006, the Company determined that, due to taxable earnings generated in recent years, it is more likely than not that the benefit would be realized prior to the expiration of its $11.2 million NOL carryforward and consequently the valuation account was removed.

Stock-Based Compensation: Prior to April 3, 2006, the Company accounted for its stock option plans using the intrinsic value method established by APB Opinion 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and its related interpretations. Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized in the Company's financial statements for its stock-based compensation plans. The Company complies with the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock Based-Compensation, as amended by SFAS 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure, which requires pro forma disclosure regarding net earnings and earnings per share determined as if the Company had accounted for employee stock options using the fair value method of that statement. The Company adopted the fair value method required by SFAS 123(R) on April 3, 2006.

The weighted-average grant-date fair value of options granted in 2006, 2005, and 2004, respectively, was $0.14, $0.14, and $0.23 per share. For purposes of the pro forma disclosure, the fair value of each option was estimated as of the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model and is amortized to expense ratably as the option vests. The following table summarizes the assumptions used to value options. Had compensation costs for the Company's stock option plans been determined based on the fair value at the grant date, consistent with the method under SFAS 123, the Company's net earnings and earnings per share would have been as indicated below:

Segments and Related Information: The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information. This statement requires certain information to be reported about operating segments on a basis consistent with the Company's internal organizational structure. The Company operates primarily in one principal segment, infant and juvenile products. These products consist of infant bedding, bibs, soft goods and juvenile products (primarily Pillow Buddies®).

Net Income Per Share: Net income per share is calculated in accordance with SFAS 128, Earnings per Share, which requires dual presentation of basic and diluted earnings per share on the face of the income statement for all entities with complex capital structures. Earnings per common share are based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. Basic and diluted weighted average shares are calculated in accordance with the treasury stock method, which assumes that the proceeds from the exercise of all options are used to repurchase common shares at market value. The number of shares remaining after the exercise proceeds are exhausted represents the potentially dilutive effect of the options. The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net income per common share for fiscal years 2006, 2005 and 2004.

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities: The Company accounts for derivative instruments and hedging activities in accordance with SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, which was adopted by the Company on April 2, 2001. Under SFAS 133, derivative instruments are recognized in the balance sheet at fair value and changes in the fair value of such instruments are recognized currently in earnings unless specific hedge accounting criteria are met. At April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005 the Company had no derivative instruments.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards: In December 2004, the FASB issued Statement 123R, Share-Based Payment, an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 123, which requires all companies to measure compensation cost for all share-based payments (including employee stock options) at fair value and is effective for public companies for annual periods beginning after June 15, 2005. This statement eliminates the ability to account for stock-based compensation transactions using APB 25 and, generally, requires instead that such transactions be accounted for using a fair-value based method. Had the Company adopted SFAS 123R in prior periods, the impact of the standard would have approximated the impact of SFAS No. 123 as described in the disclosure of pro-forma net income and earnings per share as set forth below. The Company adopted SFAS 123R on April 3, 2006 using the modified prospective transition method and will begin expensing stock options in the first quarter of fiscal year 2007.

In May 2005, the FASB issued SFAS No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections. This statement is a replacement of APB Opinion No. 20, Accounting Changes, and SFAS No. 3, Reporting Accounting Changes in Interim Financial Statements, and changes the requirements for the accounting for and reporting of a change in accounting principle. This statement applies to all voluntary changes in accounting principle and to changes required by an accounting pronouncement in the unusual instance that the pronouncement does not include specific transition provisions. This statement requires retrospective application to prior periods financial statements of changes in accounting principle, unless it is impracticable to determine period-specific effects of an accounting change on one or more individual prior periods presented. In such circumstances the new accounting principle would be applied to the balances of assets and liabilities as of the beginning of the earliest period for which retrospective application is practicable with a corresponding adjustment made to the opening balance of retained earnings for that period rather than being reported in an income statement. Further, the accounting principle is to be applied prospectively from the earliest date when it is impracticable to determine the effect to all prior periods. This statement is effective for the Company as of April 3, 2006. Adoption of this statement could have an impact if there are future voluntary accounting changes and correction of errors.

SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires the recording of liabilities for all legal obligations associated with the retirement of long-lived assets that result from the normal operations of those assets. These liabilities are required to be recorded at fair value in the period in which they are incurred with the associated asset retirement costs capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived asset. The statement was effective for the Company on March 31, 2003. In 2005, FASB issued Interpretation No. 47, Accounting for Conditional Asset Retirement Obligations, (FIN 47) to further clarify that such asset retirement obligations should be recognized for conditional obligations in which the timing and/or method of settlement are conditional on a future event that may or may not be within the control of the entity. FIN 47 was effective at December 31, 2005. The Company evaluated its leased and owned properties for potential asset retirement obligations under SFAS No. 143, as amended and interpreted by FIN 47. Based on this review, the Company determined that such liabilities were deemed to be immaterial to the financial position, results of operations or cash flows of the Company.

Note 3 Inventories

Major classes of inventory were as follows (in thousands):

	April 2, 2006	April 3, 2005
Raw Materials	$ 442	$ 633
Work in Process	73	210
Finished Goods	9,227	11,701
	$ 9,742	$ 12,544

Inventory is net of reserves for inventories classified as irregular or discontinued of $0.5 million at April 2, 2006 and $0.7 million at April 3, 2005.

Note 4 Financing Arrangements

Factoring Agreement: The Company assigns the majority of its trade accounts receivable to a commercial factor. Under the terms of the factoring agreement, the factor remits payments to the Company on the average due date of each group of invoices assigned. The factor bears credit losses with respect to assigned accounts receivable that are within approved credit limits. The Company bears losses resulting from returns, allowances, claims and discounts. Factoring fees, which are included in marketing and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of operations, were $250,000, $348,000, and $384,000, respectively, in 2006, 2005, and 2004. Factor advances were at $0 at both April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005.

Notes Payable and Other Credit Facilities: At April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005, long term debt consisted of (in thousands):

	April 2, 2006	April 3, 2005
Senior notes and senior subordinated notes	$ 16,000	$ 20,500
Non-interest bearing notes	8,000	8,000

	23,958	27,402
Less current maturities	36	2,317
	$ 23,922	$ 25,085

The Company's existing credit facilities include the following:

Revolving Credit of up to $7.5 million, including a $1.5 million sub-limit for letters of credit. The interest rate is prime plus 1.00% (8.75% at April 2, 2006) for base rate borrowings and LIBOR plus 2.75% (7.58% at April 2, 2006) for Euro-dollar borrowings. The maturity date is July 23, 2007. The facility is secured by a first lien on all assets. There was no balance at April 2, 2006. The Company had $6.7 million available at April 2, 2006. As of April 2, 2006, letters of credit of $0.8 million were outstanding against the $1.5 million sub-limit for letters of credit associated with the $7.5 million revolving credit facility.

Senior Notes of $4.5 million with a fixed interest rate of 10% and provisions for contingent additional interest existed at April 3, 2005. The entire balance was paid in full in the first quarter of fiscal year 2006.

Senior Subordinated Notes of $16 million with a fixed interest rate of 10% plus an additional 1.65% payable by delivery of a promissory note due July 23, 2007 for which $1.1 million has been accrued as of April 2, 2006. The maturity date is July 23, 2007, and the notes are secured by a second lien on all assets. In addition to principal and interest, a payment of $8 million is due on the earliest to occur of (i) maturity of the notes, (ii) prepayment of the notes, or (iii) sale of the Company. The original issue discount of $4.1 million on this non-interest bearing obligation at a market interest rate of 12% is being amortized over the life of the notes. The remaining unamortized balance of $1.2 million is included in the Consolidated Balance Sheet as of April 2, 2006.

These credit facilities contain covenants regarding minimum levels of Earnings before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA), maximum total debt to EBITDA, maximum senior debt to EBITDA, minimum EBITDA to cash interest and minimum shareholders' equity, as well as limitations on annual capital expenditures and operating lease commitments. The bank facilities also place restrictions on the amounts the Company may expend on acquisitions and purchases of treasury stock and currently prohibit the payment of dividends. The Company was in compliance with these covenants as of April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005.

The Company also had other obligations at April 2, 2006 of $21,000 and $37,000, which expire in May 2007 and July 2008, respectively.

Minimum annual maturities are as follows (in thousands):

Fiscal	Sub Notes	PIK Notes	Other	Total
2007			36	36
2008	24,000*	1,077	19	25,096
2009			3	3

As part of the Company's refinancing of its credit facilities in July 2001, the Company issued to its lenders warrants for non-voting common stock that are convertible into common stock equivalent to 65% of the shares of the Company on a fully diluted basis at a price of 11.3 cents per share. The warrants are non-callable and expire six years from their date of issuance. The value of the warrants ($2.4 million using the Black-Scholes option pricing model) was credited to additional paid-in capital in the second quarter of fiscal 2002. The dilutive effect of these warrants on earnings per share for the fiscal periods ended April 2, 2006 and April 3, 2005 was $0.43 per share and $0.13 per share, respectively.

Management is in active negotiations to restructure and refinance its long-term debt prior to the July 23, 2007 maturity date.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate that value:

Cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and accounts payable For those short term instruments, the carrying value is a reasonable estimate of fair value.

Long term debt Rates estimated for debt with similar terms and remaining maturities to companies in a similar financial situation as the Company are used to estimate the fair value of existing debt. The carrying value is a reasonable estimate of fair value.

To reduce its exposure to credit losses and to enhance its cash flow, the Company assigns the majority of its trade accounts receivable to a commercial factor. The Company's factor establishes customer credit lines and accounts for and collects receivable balances. Under the terms of the factoring agreement, which expires in July, 2007, the factor remits payments to the Company on the average due date of each group of invoices assigned. If a customer fails to pay the factor on the due date, the Company is charged interest at prime less 0.5%, which was 7.0% at April 2, 2006, until payment is received. The factor bears credit losses with respect to assigned accounts receivable that are within approved credit limits. The Company bears losses resulting from returns, allowances, claims and discounts. The Company's factor at any time may terminate or limit its approval of shipments to a particular customer. If such a termination occurs, the Company may either assume the credit risks for shipments after the date of such termination or cease shipments to such customer.

As of April 2, 2006, the Company has federal income tax net operating loss carryforwards totaling $11.2 million which begin expiring in the year ending March 2021. In fiscal years 2004 and 2005, deferred tax assets were offset by a valuation allowance as available evidence did not indicate that the assets would be realized. In fiscal 2006, the Company determined that, due to taxable earnings generated in recent years, it is more likely than not that the benefit would be realized over time prior to the expiration of the $11.2 million net operating loss carryforward. The effect of this change in estimate to remove the valuation allowance was to decrease income tax expense and increase net income by approximately $4.2 million.

The following reconciles the income tax expense (benefit) at the U.S. federal income tax statutory rate to that in the financial statements:

Note 6 Retirement Plans

Effective January 1, 1996, the Company established an Employee Savings Plan under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The plan covers substantially all employees. In fiscal 2006, 2005 and 2004, employees could elect to exclude up to a maximum of $14,000, $13,000 and $12,000 of their compensation, respectively, in accordance with federal regulations. The Board of Directors determines each calendar year the portion, if any, of employee contributions that will be matched by the Company. The Company's matching contribution to the plan including the utilization of forfeitures was approximately $153,000, $176,000 and $165,000, respectively, for fiscal 2006, 2005, and 2004. This matching represents an amount equal to 100% of the first 2% of employee deferrals and 50% of the next 1% of deferrals.

Note 7 Stock Options

Through April 2, 2006, the Company accounted for its stock option plans using the intrinsic value method established by APB Opinion 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and its related interpretations. Accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized in the Company's financial statements for its stock based compensation plans. The Company complies with the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock Based Compensation, which requires pro forma disclosure regarding net earnings and earnings per share determined as if the Company had accounted for employee stock options using the fair value method of that statement. Beginning April 3, 2006, the Company adopted SFAS 123R using the modified prospective transition method permitted by the statements and will begin expensing stock options in the first quarter of fiscal year 2007.

The Company's 1995 Stock Option Plan provides for the grant of non-qualified and incentive stock options to officers and key employees at prices no less than the market price of the stock on the date of each grant. It also provides for a fixed annual grant of 2,000 non-qualified stock options to each non-employee director the day after each year's annual meeting of shareholders. During each of fiscal years 2006, 2005 and 2004, 14,000 non-qualified options were issued to non-employee directors. One-third of the non-qualified options become exercisable on each of the first three anniversaries of their issuances and the options expire on the fifth anniversary of their issuance.

A total of 1,930,000 shares of common stock had been authorized for issuance under the plan until July 21, 2003 when the number authorized for issuance was amended to be 1,292,513. At April 2, 2006, 460,400 options were reserved for future issuance. The options outstanding at April 2, 2006 expire through November 7, 2013, have a weighted average remaining contractual life of 5.68 years, and include 508,107 options exercisable at April 2, 2006 with a weighted average exercise price of $0.80.

The Company is a party to various routine legal proceedings primarily involving commercial claims and workers compensation claims. While the outcome of these routine claims and legal proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty, management believes that the outcome of such proceedings in the aggregate, even if determined adversely, would not have a material adverse affect on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or cash flows.
