Trust Report

FOR THE SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED APRIL 30, 2006

MARKET CONDITIONS

The economy continued to grow during the six-month period ended April 30, 2006, demonstrating some resiliency in the face of rising oil and other commodity prices, the Gulf Coast hurricanes, and emerging weakness in the housing market. This expansion was more modest in the final months of 2005, but gained considerable momentum in the first quarter.

Against the backdrop of growth and good employment data, the Federal Open Market Committee (the "Fed") continued raising the federal funds target rate during the period, implementing four additional increases of 25 basis points each. These moves brought the target rate to 4.75 percent. The final hike of the period represented the fifteenth consecutive increase--the longest stretch of increases in 25 years. As the period came to a close, market observers speculated about the Fed's near-term intentions, given the central bank's view that although longer-term inflation currently appeared contained, commodity prices could amplify inflationary pressures.

Returns across the municipal bond market varied significantly. As investors sought income opportunities, lower rated bonds outpaced investment-grade bonds by a wide margin. Long-term bonds earned the best returns, broadly speaking, while bonds in the three-to-seven year range posted the most muted gains.

Municipal bond issuance was robust during the final months of 2005. (In fact, 2005 marked a record high for municipal bond volume.) The tide changed in 2006, however. As rising rates discouraged issuers from refinancing debt, national municipal issuance dropped by approximately 25 percent in the first four months of the year versus the same period in 2005. While supply ebbed, the market's appetite for municipal bonds remained strong, with particularly heavy demand from high yield municipal bond funds.

PERFORMANCE ANALYSIS

The trust's return can be calculated based upon either the market price or the net asset value (NAV) of its shares. NAV per share is determined by dividing the value of the trust's portfolio securities, cash and other assets, less all liabilities and preferred shares, by the total number of common shares outstanding, while market price reflects the supply and demand for the shares. As a result, the two returns can differ, as they did during the reporting period. On both an NAV basis and a market price basis, the trust outperformed its benchmark index, the Lehman Brothers Municipal Bond Index.

TOTAL RETURNS FOR THE SIX-MONTH PERIOD ENDED APRIL 30, 2006

BASED ON NAV	BASED ON MARKET PRICE	LEHMAN BROTHERS MUNICIPAL BOND INDEX
2.51%	7.11%	1.56%

Performance data quoted represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results, and current performance may be lower or higher than the figures shown. Investment return, net asset value and common share market price will fluctuate and trust shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. See Performance Summary for additional performance information and index definition.

The trust uses leverage to enhance its dividend to common shareholders. The trust borrows money at short-term rates through the issuance of preferred shares. The proceeds are reinvested in longer-term securities, taking advantage of the difference between short- and longer-term rates. The Fed's policy of raising interest rates throughout the period made the trust's borrowing activity more expensive, which reduced the benefits of the trust's leverage activities.

We managed the trust according to our well-established "relative value" discipline. We used rigorous fundamental research to seek high quality securities with good liquidity and total return potential. (Liquid securities are those for which there is a robust market of purchasers and sellers.) We purchased bonds we believed to be attractively valued, and held them until they reached our return targets or until we found bonds that offered more compelling prospects.

Throughout the period, we sought opportunities to enhance the trust's yield, while adhering to our quality-driven criteria. We increased the trust's allocation to relatively higher yielding tiers of the investment-grade market. The trust purchased BBB rated credits, including tobacco revenue bonds. Our confidence in these tobacco bonds was underpinned by the strong fundamentals of the tobacco industry as well as by an improving litigation climate for tobacco companies. The trust received a boost from an increased stake in hospital issues rated A and BBB. We also purchased non-rated bonds with attractive yields, after our in-depth research indicated characteristics comparable to bonds rated B or higher.

We structured the portfolio to reflect our opinion that interest rates would continue to rise, with short-term rates rising more rapidly than long-term rates. To mitigate the trust's sensitivity to changing interest rates, we positioned the trust's duration to be shorter than its benchmark's. (Duration is a measure of interest rate sensitivity.)

Reflecting our belief that the long-term segment of the bond market would offer the strongest performance, our purchases emphasized issues with maturities of 20 years and longer. Where possible, we favored bonds with defensive characteristics, such as pricing to shorter calls. Meanwhile, sales included short-term bonds with maturities of five years or less, and zero-coupon bonds with a variety of maturities. (Zero-coupon bonds tend to underperform during periods of rising interest rates.) We pared positions in pre-refunded issues with maturities of 10 years or less, particularly emphasizing those with maturities of five years or less. Within the longer-term portion of the portfolio, we found opportunities for relative value trading.

The trust remained well diversified across the major sectors of the municipal bond market, with a bias toward essential services. As of the close of the reporting period, the trust's largest allocations were to the general purpose and hospital sectors, followed by public education issues. Investment-grade securities represented more than 90 percent of the trust's bond holdings; credits rated AA or above accounted for 70 percent of bond assets.

VKQ's procedure for reinvesting all dividends and distributions in common shares is through purchases in the open market. This method helps support the market value of the trust's shares. In addition, we would like to remind you that the Trustees have approved a procedure whereby the trust may, when appropriate, purchase shares in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions at a price not above market value or net asset value, whichever is lower at the time of purchase.

There is no guarantee that any sectors mentioned will continue to perform as discussed herein or that securities in such sectors will be held by the trust in the future.

VAN KAMPEN MUNICIPAL TRUST

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS -- APRIL 30, 2006 (UNAUDITED)

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Van Kampen Municipal Trust (the "Trust") is registered as a diversified, closed-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), as amended. The Trust's investment objective is to seek to provide a high level of current income exempt from federal income tax, consistent with preservation of capital. The Trust will invest in a portfolio consisting substantially of municipal obligations rated investment grade at the time of investment, but may invest up to 20% of its assets in unrated securities which are believed to be of comparable quality to those rated investment grade. The Trust commenced investment operations on September 27, 1991.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Trust in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A. SECURITY VALUATION Municipal bonds are valued by independent pricing services or dealers using the mean of the bid and asked prices or, in the absence of market quotations, at fair value based upon yield data relating to municipal bonds with similar characteristics and general market conditions. Securities which are not valued by independent pricing services or dealers are valued at fair value using procedures established in good faith by the Board of Trustees. Futures contracts are valued at the settlement price established each day on the exchange on which they are traded. Short-term securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

B. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS Security transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains and losses are determined on an identified cost basis. The Trust may purchase and sell securities on a "when-issued" or "delayed delivery" basis, with settlement to occur at a later date. The value of the security so purchased is subject to market fluctuations during this period. The Trust will segregate assets with the custodian having an aggregate value at least equal to the amount of the when-issued or delayed delivery purchase commitments until payment is made. At April 30, 2006, the Trust had $2,130,000 of when-issued or delayed delivery purchase commitments.

C. INVESTMENT INCOME Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Bond premium is amortized and discount is accreted over the expected life of each applicable security.

D. FEDERAL INCOME TAXES It is the Trust's policy to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes is required. The Trust intends to utilize provisions of the federal income tax laws which allow it to carry a realized capital loss forward for eight years following the year of the loss and offset such losses against any future realized capital gains. During the fiscal year ended October 31, 2005, the Trust utilized capital losses carried forward of $1,499,019.

Investment Grade's book to tax accretion differences, which resulted in a $20,691 increase to accumulated undistributed net investment income and a corresponding decrease to net unrealized appreciation. Combined net assets on the day of reorganization were $651,946,419. Included in these net assets was a capital loss carryforward of $4,870,260, of which all can be utilized by the acquiring Trust, deferred compensation and pension of $229,350, non-accrual interest income of $10,844 and gains or losses recognized for tax purposes on open future transactions at merger date of $60,183, all carried forward from the Investment Grade Municipal Income Trust.

4. INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS

During the period, the cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investments, excluding short-term investments, were $160,365,991 and $181,006,270, respectively.

5. DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

A derivative financial instrument in very general terms refers to a security whose value is "derived" from the value of an underlying asset, reference rate or index.

In order to seek to manage the interest rate exposure of the Trust's portfolio in a changing interest rate environment, the Trust may purchase or sell financial futures contracts or engage in transactions involving interest rate swaps, caps, floors or collars. The Trust expects to enter into these transactions primarily as a hedge against anticipated interest rate or fixed-income market changes, for duration management or for risk management purposes, but may also enter into these transactions to generate additional income. All of the Trust's portfolio holdings, including derivative instruments, are marked to market each day with the change in value reflected in the unrealized appreciation/depreciation. Upon disposition, a realized gain or loss is recognized accordingly, except when taking delivery of a security underlying a futures contract. In this instance, the recognition of gain or loss is postponed until the disposal of the security underlying the futures contract.

Summarized below are the specific types of derivative financial instruments used by the Trust.

A. FUTURES CONTRACTS A futures contract is an agreement involving the delivery of a particular asset on a specified future date at an agreed upon price. The Trust generally invests in exchange traded futures contracts on U.S. Treasury Bonds and Notes and typically closes the contract prior to the delivery date. The contracts are generally used to manage the portfolio's effective maturity and duration. Upon entering into futures contracts, the Trust maintains, an amount of cash or liquid securities with a value equal to a percentage of the contract amount with either a futures commission merchant pursuant to rules and regulations promulgated in the 1940 Act, as amended, or with its custodian in an account in the broker's name. This amount is known as initial margin. During the period the futures contract is open, payments are received from or made to the broker based upon changes in the value of the contract (the variation margin). The risk of loss associated with a futures contract is in excess of the variation margin reflected on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

B. INDEXED SECURITY An inverse floating rate security is one where the coupon is inversely indexed to a short-term floating interest rate multiplied by a specified factor. As the floating rate rises, the coupon is reduced. Conversely as the floating rate declines, the coupon is increased. The price of these securities may be more volatile than the price of a comparable fixed rate security. The instruments are typically used by the Trust to enhance the yield of the portfolio. These instruments are identified in the Portfolio of Investments.

C. INTEREST RATE SWAPS The Trust may enter into interest rate swaps primarily to preserve a return or spread on a particular investment or portion of its portfolio, as a duration management technique or to protect against any increase in the price of securities the Trust anticipates purchasing at a later date. Interest rate swaps are contractual agreements to exchange periodic interest payment streams calculated on a predetermined notional principal amount. Interest rate swaps generally involve one party paying a fixed interest rate and the other party paying a variable rate. The Trust will usually enter into swaps on a net basis, i.e., the two payment streams are netted out in a cash settlement on the payment date or dates specified in the instrument, with the Trust receiving or paying, as the case may be, only the net amount of the two payments. The Trust accrues the net amount with respect to each swap on a daily basis. This net amount is recorded within unrealized appreciation/ depreciation on swap contracts. Upon cash settlement of the periodic payments, the net amount is recorded as realized gain/loss on swap contracts on the Statement of Operations. Risks may arise as a result of the potential inability of the counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts. If there is a default by the counterparty, the Trust will have contractual remedies pursuant to the agreements related to the transaction.

6. PREFERRED SHARES

The Trust has outstanding 13,000 APS in four series of 3,000 shares each and one series of 1,000 shares. Dividends are cumulative and the dividend rate is periodically reset through an auction process. The dividend periods for Series A and C are generally 7 days. The dividend periods for Series B, D and E are 28 days. The average rate in effect on April 30, 2006 was 3.56%. During the six months ended April 30, 2006, the rates ranged from 2.310% to 6.15%.

The Trust pays annual fees equivalent to .25% of the preferred share liquidation value for the remarketing efforts associated with the preferred auctions. These fees are included as a component of "Preferred Share Maintenance" expense in the Statement of Operations.

The APS are redeemable at the option of the Trust in whole or in part at the liquidation value of $25,000 per share plus accumulated and unpaid dividends. The Trust is subject to certain asset coverage tests, and the APS are subject to mandatory redemption if the tests are not met.
