BARRISTER GLOBAL SERVICES NETWORK, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. In the opinion of Management, the accompanying financial statements present fairly the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods shown. The third quarter results for each year represent operations for the quarters ended December 31, 2001 and December 31, 2000. The financial data included herein was compiled in accordance with the same accounting policies applied to the Company's audited annual financial statements. Any adjustments made were of a normal recurring nature.

The results of operations for the nine month period ended December 31, 2001 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

2. Cash and equivalents consist of cash and liquid debt instruments with maturity of three months or less from the date of purchase. Cash and equivalents are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates market value. Short-term investments and marketable securities are classified as held-to-maturity securities based on the Company's ability and intent to hold the securities until maturity. The securities are recorded at amortized cost adjusted for the accretion of discounts or cost plus accrued interest. Short-term investments consist of certificates of deposits and corporate debt instruments. Marketable securities consist of mortgage-backed securities and corporate debt instruments and are expected to mature in less than two years.

3. On May 5, 2000, the Company sold substantially all of the assets of the Company's software business to Keystone Solutions US, Inc. (Keystone), a wholly owned subsidiary of Keystone Software PLC. The Company agreed to indemnify Keystone with respect to any breach of its representations and warranties (subject to a $50,000 basket and a cap of the purchase price paid) or any breach of any covenant of the Company contained in the Asset Purchase Agreement. The Company agreed to indemnify Keystone with respect to claims or actions pending at or arising after the closing date (May 5, 2000) that related to the operation of the software business prior to that date.

The pre-tax net gain on the sale of the software business recorded in the first nine months of the prior year was $3,912,000. The net gain less applicable income taxes (see note 4) is shown in the statements of operations under the caption discontinued operations.

4. The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters on the net loss from continuing operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statements of operations for the comparable periods, since the Company has fully reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards. These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

The income tax provision associated with the gain from the sale of the software business (see note 3) was higher than the statutory tax rate since goodwill valued at $986,000 for financial reporting purposes had a zero basis for tax purposes. The provision includes current taxes of $780,000 and deferred taxes of $1,083,000. The deferred taxes resulted from the use of tax loss carryforwards from prior years and the reversal of temporary differences between book and tax on the assets sold.

Table of Contents

5. The Company adopted SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities beginning April 1, 2001. SFAS No. 133 requires all derivatives to be recorded on the balance sheet at fair value and establishes new accounting rules for hedging instruments. The Company does not enter into hedging transactions or acquire derivative instruments, accordingly, SFAS No. 133 had no impact on the financial statements.

The Company will adopt SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations and SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets on April 1, 2002. SFAS No. 141 requires that the purchase method be used for all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001. SFAS No. 142 changes the accounting for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives from an amortization method to an impairment approach. The pronouncements are not expected to have an impact on the financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

Cash and equivalents, short-term investments and marketable securities totaled $3,978,000 at December 31, 2001 and $4,357,000 at March 31, 2001. The net decrease of $379,000 was primarily a result of debt repayments of $321,000 and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements of $70,000.

The principal cash requirements expected for fiscal 2002 are debt repayments approximating $424,000, and additions to equipment and leasehold improvements which are expected to decrease from amounts spent in the prior year. The Company continues to explore the potential of a move of its headquarters into more suitable space. If any move takes place, the earliest that it would occur would be next fiscal year. The Company's cash and short term investments will be sufficient to cover working capital, capital expenditure requirements and debt repayments in fiscal 2002.

Results of Operations

For the quarter ended December 31, 2001, revenues increased 18.1% from the same quarter in 2000. For the nine month period ended December 31, 2001, revenues increased 19.5% compared with the first nine months of the prior year. These increases resulted from growth in revenues from hardware maintenance contracts and from services provided on a time and materials basis. For the comparative third quarters, revenues from hardware maintenance contracts grew to $2,441,000, an increase of 11.0% and for the comparative first nine months these revenues grew to $7,011,000, an increase of 15.1%. These increases principally resulted from the capture of new contracts in the prior year and one large contract which started in September of this year. Time and material revenues increased by 41.5% to a total of $832,000 for the comparable third quarters and by 32.7% to a total of $2,333,000 for the comparative nine month periods. The principal reasons for these increases were business generated from a new customer obtained from a reseller that started in April, 2001, the continuation of services outsourced by a direct customer, which commenced in the second half of the previous fiscal year, and services provided on a new large contract, which started in September of this year.

The cost of services decreased as a percentage of revenues from 74.9% in the third quarter of the prior year to 74.0% in the third quarter of the current year. For the comparable first nine months these expenses decreased as a percentage of revenues from 74.9% to 74.4%. Selling, general and administrative expenses also decreased as a percentage of revenues for these same periods. For the comparable third quarters these expenses dropped from 29.9% to 29.0% of revenues and for the comparable nine month periods selling, general, and administrative expenses decreased from 30.7% to 29.5% of revenues. The primary reason for the improvement in these percentages has been the ability to leverage certain fixed expenses whereby the growth in revenues has not resulted in commensurate growth in fixed expenses.

The decrease in net interest income for the comparable third quarters was primarily based on a drop in interest rates, which impacted earnings from the Company's investments. Net interest income for the comparable nine month periods was approximately the same. In the prior year the Company did not have any investments until it received the net proceeds from the sale of its software business in May, 2000. As a result, the Company realized higher amounts of net interest income in its comparable first quarters. This favorable result has now been offset by lower amounts of net interest income in the second and third quarters due primarily to lower interest rates.

Table of Contents

The income tax benefit recorded in each of the comparable quarters and nine month periods on the net loss from continuing operations approximated the statutory tax rate. No additional tax benefits were established in the statements of operations for the comparable periods, since the Company has fully reserved for the tax effect of net deductible temporary differences and loss carryforwards. These benefits will be recorded in future periods as they are realized or as their realization becomes predictable.

The pre-tax net gain on discontinued operations recognized in the first nine months of the prior year is based on the sale of the Company's software business to Keystone on May 5, 2000. The income tax provision associated with the gain from the sale of the software business is higher than the statutory tax rate since goodwill valued at $986,000 for financial reporting purposes had a zero basis for tax purposes. The provision included current taxes of $780,000 and deferred taxes of $1,083,000. The deferred taxes resulted from the use of tax loss carryforwards from prior years and the reversal of temporary differences between book and tax on the assets sold.

Fourth Quarter Disclosure

The Company will incur certain non-recurring selling, general and administrative expenses in its fourth quarter of fiscal 2002. In January, 2002, the Company hired Mr. William O. Bray as its president and chief executive officer to succeed Mr. Henry P. Semmelhack who held those positions since the Company's incorporation in 1982. Mr. Semmelhack will be retiring at the end of the fiscal year. Consistent with Mr. Semmelhack's employment contract and his retirement, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors has approved a deferred compensation arrangement for past services rendered. In addition, Mr. David L. Blankenship, Senior Vice President of Operations, will be leaving the Company at the end of February. The Company has agreed to buy out the remaining term of Mr. Blankenship's employment contract, cancel a loan and accrued interest outstanding to Mr. Blankenship in return for the stock held as collateral for the loan, plus pay for certain additional expenses. The impact of these non-recurring expenses in the fourth quarter, including additional salary costs during the transition period to the new CEO, relocation expenses for Mr. Bray, the value of the deferred compensation arrangement with Mr. Semmelhack, and the settlement with Mr. Blankenship are estimated to be $735,000.

Forward-Looking Statement

When used in this report, the words expects, believes and intends and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Such statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements which speak only as of the date hereof. The Company undertakes no obligation to republish revised forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrences of unanticipated events. Readers are also urged to carefully review and consider the various disclosures made by the Company which attempt to advise interested parties of the factors which affect the Company's business in the Company's periodic reports on Form 10K and 10Q filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
